BIG REPUBLICAN MEETING HELD AT LISBON TODAY

CANDIDATES OUT IN FORCE

Hon. R. W. Tayler Showed His Interest by Coming on From Washington.

PRIMARIES SET FOR MARCH 1

From a Staff Correspondent.

Lisbon, January 17.—(Special)—All the candidates who aspire to be nominated for county officers in the next three years, together with almost all the prominent politicians of the county, landed in Lisbon last night.

At the court house there was a big demonstration in the evening. The candidates who have been announced for the coming primaries there met their friends from all parts of the county.

The only real work, as far as the county committee is concerned, was performed by the special committee appointed at the meeting of the county committee last spring to make alterations in the rules or provide special rules for the government of county primaries. This committee is composed of R. N. Chamberlain, East Palestine; W. G. Bentley, Salem; George E. Davidson, East Liverpool; J. Frank Adams and Ed A. King, Lisbon. Mr. King was unavoidably absent in Washington. The work was taken up by the other four members.

They assembled at the probate court room about 8 o'clock and their deliberations lasted more than three hours.

A number of the suggestions which were embodied in Judge P. M. Smith's recommendations were objected to by several of the committeemen, and alterations were made accordingly, taking up much time.

Early this morning the rules as passed upon by this special committee were compiled and arranged by Mr. Chamberlain, to go to the stenographer. The changes are as follows:

"Rules and regulations for the conduct of Republican primary elections in Columbiana county, O., adopted January 17, 1902:

"First—The primary election for the nomination of county and district officers shall be held on Saturday, March —, between the hours of 11:30 a. m. and 5:30 p. m., central standard time.

"Second—All prospective candidates at such election are required to file their names and pay an assessment of $10 to the secretary of the Republican executive committee of said county on or before noon on Saturday, ———.

"Third—At least ten days' notice of the primary election shall be published in some Republican newspaper, printed and of general circulation in said county, stating the authority by which it is published, the purpose, time, manner, condition and places of holding such election, and shall prescribe the equalifications of the persons entitled to vote at such election.

"Fourth—The ballot used at such electians shall conform, as nearly as possible, with the form of the ballot required for a general election, except that there shall be but one column. It shall contain the names of all the candidates.

"It shall contain the names of all candidates, the names of the candidate for each office shall constitute a group with the name of the office printed over it. There shall be a ruled line between the names of the candidates for each office. The voter shall designate his choice by placing an X-mark at the left of the name of the candidate for whom he wishes to vote. The ballot shall be prepared by the county central committee and transmitted with the poll book and tally sheets to the committeemen of each precinct. The ballots for each precinct shall be put up in pads securely fastened together.

"Fifth—At the hour appointed for the polls to open the officers being present shall open the room in which the election is to be held, prepare the ballot box by placing it in a position in plain view of each voter, see that the box is securely locked and booths in proper condition.

"They shall have charge of all matters connected with receiving and counting the votes. They shall deliver to each qualified elector who requests the same one ballot. The voter shall forthwith and without leaving the room retire alone to one of the voting booths and without undue delay unfold and mark his ballot. No elector shall be allowed to occupy a voting shelf already occupied by another or to occupy voting shelf for more than five minutes. All marks on the ballots must be made by a black lead pencil. If any elector soil or deface a ballot so that it cannot be read, he may obtain another, providing he returns the ballot soiled or defaced, which shall be immediately destroyed.

"Sixth—Marking, folding, placing in hands of judge, same exactly as Australian system; also counting, etc., the same. Same rule must be carried out regarding disposition of irregularly marked ballots, which must be returned to county committee.

"Seventh—The election officials shall certify the result of their precinct and properly seal and send said certificate to the secretary of the committee calling the primary.

"Eighth—The committeemen of each precinct shall take charge of and deliver the poll books and tally sheets to the county central committee, which shall convene at the court house in Lisbon at 1 o'clock p .m. on the Tuesday following the date for the purpose of canvassing and making an official abstract of the result of said election.

"Ninth—No person shall act as judge or clerk whose name appears on the ticket as a candidate for any office except central committeemen.

"Tenth—No judge or clerk shall directly or indirectly do anything to influence any voter while in or about the polling place, and such officer shall before entering upon the discharge of his duties subscribe to an oath to honestly and faithfully discharge his duties and shall further make oath that he has not received or does not expect to receive any pay from any candidate.

"Eleventh—All tickets shall be furnished by the committee calling the primary, and there shall be but one official ballot at any primary.

"Twelfth—No person shall be permitted to remain in the polling place during the receiving and the counting of the votes except the election officials and a duly accredited inspector for each candidate.

"Thirteenth—At the time for opening the ballot if any vacancy exists it shall be properly filled by the qualified Republican voters present.

"Fourteenth—In each precinct the central committee shall call a caucus of Republican voters, to be held between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock p. m., central standard time, on the Saturday three weeks prior to the time of the county primary, to select three precinct central committeemen. The committeemen shall advertise said caucus by publication and posting at least five notices in conspicuous places within the precinct, stating the place of holding caucus, and that only qualified Republican voters of such precinct can participate. The precinct central committeemen shall promptly certify the names of three persons so selected to the secretary of the county central committee, and such names shall appear in the official ballot for said precinct, and blank places shall be added to the ballot to allow voters the privilege of voting for others.

BENT ON PAYING MEN A BONUS

MUCH INTEREST AROUSED

In All Pottery Circles By the New Departure—Activity on the Increase at Various Plants—Buying Is Reported Brick for This Season.

President A. M. Moreland, of the Union Potteries company, this morning caused the following notice to be placed in the kiln department of the Union pottery and also at the Chelsea pottery at New Cumberland:

To Our Employes:

If the rate of 1 cent per dozen for bisque kiln work and one and three-fourth cents a dozen for glost kiln work, placing and drawing combined, do not give to kilnmen a bonus over the present rates of wages adopted by the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters equal to 30 per cent, this company agrees to fix and pay rates per dozen which will do so.

UNION POTTERIES CO.

The notice was brought here yesterday by Frank W. Fowler and when seen this morning he said:

"I have talked to many of our employes and they all seem to favor our plan. It must be understood that while the ware will be counted from the kiln, the kilnmen and employes in the clay department will receive the union rates of wages, no matter if there is but one piece of good ware taken from the kiln. Many persons are in error about the 'bonus' plan and all we ask is that it be given a fair trial. The story published in a local paper that if a workman is off duty on account of sickness a physician's certificate would be demanded, is absolutely false. Such an idea was never thought of by the company, and is absurd. As far as we know, nothing but harmony exists between our company and employes."

Members of kilnmen's local No. 9, who will attend the weekly meeting in Brotherhood hall this evening, will be fully informed as to the purpose of the new scale recently posted in the Union pottery. The telegram received by the News Review company yesterday afternoon was placed in the hands of Aaron Coleman, president of No. 9, this morning, and after that official read it, he made the following statement:

"For the kilnmen to accept the new proposition, in my estimation, would be to violate the agreement made with the manufacturers last summer, and as a result unrest would be created between the employer and the employe. The kilnmen at present are perfectly satisfied with the scale as adopted, and I for one do not think it manly to ask or accept from the manufacturer any change from the present uniform list. For years we have been working for a uniform scale, and now that we have one in existence we do not like the idea of having matters changed even in one pottery, as it would create a possible ill-feeling in other plants."

H. A. Keffer, secretary of the Manufacturing Potters' association, when asked for an opinion on the new scale, said: "The new scale may prove to be a good thing for the workmen, but nothing can be said until it is tried. I think the scale should be tried, probably for two weeks, and if the men could earn bonus money, so much the better for them. A trial of the matter is all that is needed for the men."

Thomas Price, manager of the Chelsea pottery, operated by the Union Potteries company, was in the city yesterday afternoon and when asked how the new proposition was liked by the workmen of the plant at New Cumberland said: "Everybody seems to be satisfied with the new idea of Mr. Moreland, and that is all that I can say on the subject." Mr. Price returned to New Cumberland yesterday afternoon.

Some new copper plates are being made for the East Liverpool Potteries company, which will soon be placed in the hands of the printers. The designs were originated by Walter De Ville, chief decorator of this company.

W. C. Burgess, a salesman for the Dresden, will start on the road in a few days, going west. Mr. Burgess has been connected with this com-

COMMITTEES SOON TO BE MADE UP

No Danger That Columbiana County Legislators Will Not Be Well Placed.

FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Representative Buell Outspoken in Support of the Plan to Allow Ladies to Vote on All Public Questions—Capital Notes.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, January 17.—The personnel of the house and senate standing committees will be made known early next week. In the house, the selection of committees rests entirely with Senator McKinnon. The personnel of the senate committees is in the hands of a special committee, of which Senator Connell, of Lisbon, is a member. Senator Connell aspired to the chairmanship of the judiciary committee, and a canvass of the members of the special committee showed he could have corralled this position, but he magnanimously gave way to Senator Hosea, of Cincinnati, on account of his seniority of years and legislative experience.

However, while the Cincinnati senator will be chairman of this important committee, Senator Connell will be vice chairman and will be contented with this honor. He has a pretty definite idea of the different committees he will serve on, but is not inclined to make them known before the committee makes its report. Representative Crist has indicated to Speaker McKinnon his preference of the committees, and he has considerable assurance that as far as possible his wish will be acquiesced in. It is understood he would like very much to get on the finance committee. Representative Buell has few favors to ask and is not bothering his head about committees. He has confidence that he will be looked after properly in the apportionment.

Representative Buell declares he is in favor of woman suffrage. He has some strong convictions on the question and believes that the gentler sex should have a voice in governmental affairs. His remarks conveyed the impression that he would stand by a measure giving women the right to vote. Mr. Buell received a communication from Warren this week, in which he was asked to support a bill extending to women the right to vote on all public questions. A measure of this kind was introduced in the house two years ago and defeated. It is probable another will be offered at this session.

Representative Crist will introduce a bill on request from parties in West township, Columbiana county, amending the ditch law so as to specify whether townships or individuals are to be liable for costs in cases of damage suits. A resident of West township made a ditch and was sued by his neighbor, who claimed his rights had been infringed on. The latter secured a verdict and the costs have been placed against the township. A question has been raised involving the legality of this, and as the law is not clear on the point an amendment is desired with more explicit provisions. Neither Senator Connell nor Representative Buell have any bills to dump into the legislative hopper at present.

The Columbiana county legislators have secured permanent quarters within a few minutes' walk of the state capital. Senator Connell and wife are at the Vendome, which is located on Third street, opposite the addition of the capital building. Representative Buell and wife are at the Llewellyn, on State street, just south of the capital square, and Representative Crist and wife are are stopping at a private dwelling at 318 State street, east of the capital building.

Albert Brewer, of Tiffin, a former pottery manufacturer of that city, has resigned as a member of the state fish and game commission. He was appointed in 1898 and his present term would not have expired until next year. Mr. Brewer is a brother of the late John Hart Brewer, of Trenton, N. J., and both were engaged in the pottery business in that city for many years.

Samuel Herron, postmaster of Homeworth, is here visiting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Margaret J. Potts, who formerly resided in Homeworth. Postmaster Ed Moore, of Lisbon, was in attendance at the state farmers' institute in this city this week. Ed Bowmanfi of Canton, a former Lisbon resident, was here yesterday.

The Crooksville Art Pottery company, of Crooksville, Perry county, has taken out a certificate of incorporation. The capital stock is $60,000 and the incorporators are S. H. Brown, W. H. Brown, C. E. Crooks, W. J. Tague and A. P. Tague.

SALOON MEN ARE INDICTED FOR VIOLATING THE LAW

BUT ONE WELLSVILLE MAN

A SINGULAR DIVORCE SUIT

Couple Married Only Last June And the Husband Now Seeking Separation, Alleging Gross Unfaithfulness on the Wife's Part.

Lisbon, January 17.—(Special)—The following indictments by the grand jury were made public today:

Albert Zimmerman, Salem, petit larceny.

Gustavus McDermitt, Wellsville, keeping saloon open on Sunday.

Lizzie Dietrich, East Liverpool, Sunday selling.

Harry Eppley, East Liverpool, Sunday selling.

Joseph Vondran, East Liverpool, six violations of the liquor law, including Sunday selling.

"Toughey" Walters, East Liverpool, a barkeeper, on five counts, including Sunday selling.

CHARGES ARE DENIED

MRS. WILLIAM STERLING GREATLY WRONGED.

Says Connellsville (Pa.) Man Who Came Here And Said His Wife Robbed Him, Lied.

Mrs. William Sterling, whose husband told the police here that she had ran away from him at Connellsville, Pa., and stolen $1,500, denies the charge and has an abundance of proof to show that he deliberately lied to the officers.

She came here from Gypsie, W. Va., having left her husband last November because of his extreme cruelty and threats to murder her. She is staying here with friends, who say that Sterling is insane from drink.

The story that the woman ran away with a boarder named Smithour is also another of Sterling's alleged inventions.

MARRIED LAST JUNE

The Husband Now Repents of His Bargain And Seeks Divorce.

Lisbon, January 17.—(Special)—Thomas H. Brawdy has entered suit for divorce from Edna M. Brawdy. The petition relates that they were married at Rochester, Pa., June 23, 1901. Since that time Mrs. Brawdy is alleged to have been guilty of immoral conduct with several men of East Liverpool and Wellsville. About October 14, the plaintiff avers, Mrs. Brawdy sold his household goods and stole away with $300 of his money.

Brawdy is an operative pottery in East Liverpool.

PROBATE MATTERS

Removal of an East Liverpool Administrator Requested—Other Notes.

Lisbon, January 17.—(Special)—G. A. Rusby asks the court for the removal of E. K. Bennett as administrator of Lena Rusby, late of East Liverpool. The case has been set for a hearing.

On his request R. J. Marshall, of East Liverpool, has been released from the bond of Archie Searight as guardian of Nora Searight. The guardian has been ordered to furnish a new bond.

Appealed to Higher Court.

Lisbon, January 17.—(Special)—G. Y. Travis, as trustee, brought suit in 'Squire Rose's court in East Liverpool against H. H. C. and G. M. Hammerton for $60 on a promissory note. He got judgment for $63.50. The defendants have appealed.

Board Did Not Meet.

Owing to the absence of H. P. Knoblock from the city, the meeting of the joint arbitration board, which was to have been held last evening to consider the dispute of the printers was deferred. The date for a future meeting has not been set.

600 WERE KILLED IN AN EARTHQUAKE

Laredo, Tex., January 17.—(Special)—A dispatch from the City of Mexico says that a telegram reached that citl this morning, stating that the city of Chilanpancingo, in the state of Guerrero, suffered severely yesterday from an earthquake shock.

Details are meagre, but it is estimated that 600 persons were killed and enormous damage done to property.

LIBRARY DEDICATION IS SET FOR APRIL 1

A meeting of the Carnegie library board was held at the office of Secretary J. H. Brookes last night, at which Miss Gertrude A. Baker, of Mt. Vernon, the newly-appointed librarian, was present.

The session was principally devoted to a discussion of plans for the primary work which will be taken up on February 1, preparatory to the dedication of the library, which it is thought can be arranged to take place on April 1.

It is expected that 5,000 books will be at the disposal of the public at the time of the dedication, after which others will be added as fast as possible.

Miss Baker gave the members of the board some valuable "pointers" and gave unquestionable proof of her ability to properly fill the important position to which she has been appointed. She was instructed to be here by February 1 to assist in the preparatory work.

PRIMARIES SET FOR MARCH 1

From a Staff Correspondent.

Lisbon, January 17.—(Special)—All the candidates who aspire to be nominated for county officers in the next three years, together with almost all the prominent politicians of the county, landed in Lisbon last night.

At the court house there was a big demonstration in the evening. The candidates who have been announced for the coming primaries there met their friends from all parts of the county.

The only real work, as far as the county committee is concerned, was performed by the special committee appointed at the meeting of the county committee last spring to make alterations in the rules or provide special rules for the government of county primaries. This committee is composed of R. N. Chamberlain, East Palestine; W. G. Bentley, Salem; George E. Davidson, East Liverpool; J. Frank Adams and Ed A. King, Lisbon. Mr. King was unavoidably absent in Washington. The work was taken up by the other four members.

Early this morning the rules as passed upon by this special committee were compiled and arranged by Mr. Chamberlain, to go to the stenographer. The changes are as follows:

"Rules and regulations for the conduct of Republican primary elections in Columbiana county, O., adopted January 17, 1902:

"First—The primary election for the nomination of county and district officers shall be held on Saturday, March —, between the hours of 11:30 a. m. and 5:30 p. m., central standard time.

"Second—All prospective candidates at such election are required to file their names and pay an assessment of $10 to the secretary of the Republican executive committee of said county on or before noon on Saturday, ———.

"Third—At least ten days' notice of the primary election shall be published in some Republican newspaper, printed and of general circulation in said county, stating the authority by which it is published, the purpose, time, manner, condition and places of holding such election, and shall prescribe the equalifications of the persons entitled to vote at such election.

"It shall contain the names of all candidates, the names of the candidate for each office shall constitute a group with the name of the office printed over it. There shall be a ruled line between the names of the candidates for each office. The voter shall designate his choice by placing an X-mark at the left of the name of the candidate for whom he wishes to vote. The ballot shall be prepared by the county central committee and transmitted with the poll book and tally sheets to the committeemen of each precinct. The ballots for each precinct shall be put up in pads securely fastened together.

"Fifth—At the hour appointed for the polls to open the officers being present shall open the room in which the election is to be held, prepare the ballot box by placing it in a position in plain view of each voter, see that the box is securely locked and booths in proper condition.

"They shall have charge of all matters connected with receiving and counting the votes. They shall deliver to each qualified elector who requests the same one ballot. The voter shall forthwith and without leaving the room retire alone to one of the voting booths and without undue delay unfold and mark his ballot. No elector shall be allowed to occupy a voting shelf already occupied by another or to occupy voting shelf for more than five minutes. All marks on the ballots must be made by a black lead pencil. If any elector soil or deface a ballot so that it cannot be read, he may obtain another, providing he returns the ballot soiled or defaced, which shall be immediately destroyed.

"Sixth—Marking, folding, placing in hands of judge, same exactly as Australian system; also counting, etc., the same. Same rule must be carried out regarding disposition of irregularly marked ballots, which must be returned to county committee.

"Seventh—The election officials shall certify the result of their precinct and properly seal and send said certificate to the secretary of the committee calling the primary.

"Eighth—The committeemen of each precinct shall take charge of and deliver the poll books and tally sheets to the county central committee, which shall convene at the court house in Lisbon at 1 o'clock p .m. on the Tuesday following the date for the purpose of canvassing and making an official abstract of the result of said election.

"Ninth—No person shall act as judge or clerk whose name appears on the ticket as a candidate for any office except central committeemen.

"Tenth—No judge or clerk shall directly or indirectly do anything to influence any voter while in or about the polling place, and such officer shall before entering upon the discharge of his duties subscribe to an oath to honestly and faithfully discharge his duties and shall further make oath that he has not received or does not expect to receive any pay from any candidate.

"Eleventh—All tickets shall be furnished by the committee calling the primary, and there shall be but one official ballot at any primary.

"Twelfth—No person shall be permitted to remain in the polling place during the receiving and the counting of the votes except the election officials and a duly accredited inspector for each candidate.

"Thirteenth—At the time for opening the ballot if any vacancy exists it shall be properly filled by the qualified Republican voters present.

"Fourteenth—In each precinct the central committee shall call a caucus of Republican voters, to be held between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock p. m., central standard time, on the Saturday three weeks prior to the time of the county primary, to select three precinct central committeemen. The committeemen shall advertise said caucus by publication and posting at least five notices in conspicuous places within the precinct, stating the place of holding caucus, and that only qualified Republican voters of such precinct can participate. The precinct central committeemen shall promptly certify the names of three persons so selected to the secretary of the county central committee, and such names shall appear in the official ballot for said precinct, and blank places shall be added to the ballot to allow voters the privilege of voting for others.

In All Pottery Circles By the New Departure—Activity on the Increase at Various Plants—Buying Is Reported Brick for This Season.

President A. M. Moreland, of the Union Potteries company, this morning caused the following notice to be placed in the kiln department of the Union pottery and also at the Chelsea pottery at New Cumberland:

To Our Employes:

If the rate of 1 cent per dozen for bisque kiln work and one and three-fourth cents a dozen for glost kiln work, placing and drawing combined, do not give to kilnmen a bonus over the present rates of wages adopted by the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters equal to 30 per cent, this company agrees to fix and pay rates per dozen which will do so.

UNION POTTERIES CO.

The notice was brought here yesterday by Frank W. Fowler and when seen this morning he said:

"I have talked to many of our employes and they all seem to favor our plan. It must be understood that while the ware will be counted from the kiln, the kilnmen and employes in the clay department will receive the union rates of wages, no matter if there is but one piece of good ware taken from the kiln. Many persons are in error about the 'bonus' plan and all we ask is that it be given a fair trial. The story published in a local paper that if a workman is off duty on account of sickness a physician's certificate would be demanded, is absolutely false. Such an idea was never thought of by the company, and is absurd. As far as we know, nothing but harmony exists between our company and employes."

Members of kilnmen's local No. 9, who will attend the weekly meeting in Brotherhood hall this evening, will be fully informed as to the purpose of the new scale recently posted in the Union pottery. The telegram received by the News Review company yesterday afternoon was placed in the hands of Aaron Coleman, president of No. 9, this morning, and after that official read it, he made the following statement:

"For the kilnmen to accept the new proposition, in my estimation, would be to violate the agreement made with the manufacturers last summer, and as a result unrest would be created between the employer and the employe. The kilnmen at present are perfectly satisfied with the scale as adopted, and I for one do not think it manly to ask or accept from the manufacturer any change from the present uniform list. I think the scale should be tried, probably for two weeks, and if the men could earn bonus money, so much the better for them. A trial of the matter is all that is needed for the men."

Thomas Price, manager of the Chelsea pottery, operated by the Union Potteries company, was in the city yesterday afternoon and when asked how the new proposition was liked by the workmen of the plant at New Cumberland said: "Everybody seems to be satisfied with the new idea of Mr. Moreland, and that is all that I can say on the subject." Mr. Price returned to New Cumberland yesterday afternoon.

Some new copper plates are being made for the East Liverpool Potteries company, which will soon be placed in the hands of the printers. The designs were originated by Walter De Ville, chief decorator of this company.

W. C. Burgess, a salesman for the Dresden, will start on the road in a few days, going west. Mr. Burgess has been connected with this com-

Samuel Herron, postmaster of Homeworth, is here visiting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Margaret J. Potts, who formerly resided in Homeworth. Postmaster Ed Moore, of Lisbon, was in attendance at the state farmers' institute in this city this week. Ed Bowmanfi of Canton, a former Lisbon resident, was here yesterday.

The Crooksville Art Pottery company, of Crooksville, Perry county, has taken out a certificate of incorporation. The capital stock is $60,000 and the incorporators are S. H. Brown, W. H. Brown, C. E. Crooks, W. J. Tague and A. P. Tague.

BUT ONE WELLSVILLE MAN

A SINGULAR DIVORCE SUIT

Lisbon, January 17.—(Special)—The following indictments by the grand jury were made public today:

Albert Zimmerman, Salem, petit larceny.

Lizzie Dietrich, East Liverpool, Sunday selling.

Harry Eppley, East Liverpool, Sunday selling.

Joseph Vondran, East Liverpool, six violations of the liquor law, including Sunday selling.

"Toughey" Walters, East Liverpool, a barkeeper, on five counts, including Sunday selling.

Says Connellsville (Pa.) Man Who Came Here And Said His Wife Robbed Him, Lied.

Mrs. William Sterling, whose husband told the police here that she had ran away from him at Connellsville, Pa., and stolen $1,500, denies the charge and has an abundance of proof to show that he deliberately lied to the officers.

She came here from Gypsie, W. Va., having left her husband last November because of his extreme cruelty and threats to murder her. She is staying here with friends, who say that Sterling is insane from drink.

The story that the woman ran away with a boarder named Smithour is also another of Sterling's alleged inventions.

Owing to the absence of H. P. Knoblock from the city, the meeting of the joint arbitration board, which was to have been held last evening to consider the dispute of the printers was deferred. The date for a future meeting has not been set.

Laredo, Tex., January 17.—(Special)—A dispatch from the City of Mexico says that a telegram reached that citl this morning, stating that the city of Chilanpancingo, in the state of Guerrero, suffered severely yesterday from an earthquake shock.

Details are meagre, but it is estimated that 600 persons were killed and enormous damage done to property.

LIBRARY DEDICATION IS SET FOR APRIL 1

A meeting of the Carnegie library board was held at the office of Secretary J. H. Brookes last night, at which Miss Gertrude A. Baker, of Mt. Vernon, the newly-appointed librarian, was present.

The session was principally devoted to a discussion of plans for the primary work which will be taken up on February 1, preparatory to the dedication of the library, which it is thought can be arranged to take place on April 1.

It is expected that 5,000 books will be at the disposal of the public at the time of the dedication, after which others will be added as fast as possible.

Miss Baker gave the members of the board some valuable "pointers" and gave unquestionable proof of her ability to properly fill the important position to which she has been appointed. She was instructed to be here by February 1 to assist in the preparatory work.

A Clevelander who made a trip to Washington says that, much as he was impressed by the beauty and grandeur of the national capital and its surroundings, the thing he will remember longest was a remark he heard made by a colored deckhand on one of the handsome boats that take daily trips up and down the Potomac.

These boats stop at many of the picturesque little Virginia and Maryland river towns that dot the banks of the historic river and take freight shipments to and from Washington. One of the things shipped from one of the down river towns on the boat the Clevelander rode on was a goat of the sort that delights the average small boy. The Clevelander was wandering about the boat, interested in the differences between the Potomac river boat and the Lake Erie craft with which he was familiar, when he noticed the colored deckhand standing almost motionless before the goat, which was tied to one of the supports of the upper deck. He was scratching his head and apparently very much puzzled.

"What's the matter?" the Clevelander asked the deckhand.

"Why," answered the colored man, "de goat done eat up whar he gwine to."

The goat had simply chewed up and swallowed the tag on which was the address to which he was being shipped.—Cleveland Leader.

An Attack of Pneumonia Warded Off.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annato Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

Charles Hoyt, the farce writer, once invited a friend to go to the theater with him.

"What play?" queried his friend.

"Nat Goodwin in 'Nathan Hale,'" said the playwright.

"I'm very sorry," said the friend, "but you'll have to count me out."

"What's the matter?" asked Hoyt in surprise.

"Well, to be frank with you, I don't like Nat Goodwin in anything. I hate him personally and can't enjoy him as an actor, and, as far as I am concerned, I wouldn't mind seeing him dead."

"Then this is your play," slyly added Mr. Hoyt in his peculiar Yankee dialect. "You don't want to miss it. They hang him in the last act."—News Letter.

These boats stop at many of the picturesque little Virginia and Maryland river towns that dot the banks of the historic river and take freight shipments to and from Washington. One of the things shipped from one of the down river towns on the boat the Clevelander rode on was a goat of the sort that delights the average small boy. The Clevelander was wandering about the boat, interested in the differences between the Potomac river boat and the Lake Erie craft with which he was familiar, when he noticed the colored deckhand standing almost motionless before the goat, which was tied to one of the supports of the upper deck. He was scratching his head and apparently very much puzzled.

"What's the matter?" the Clevelander asked the deckhand.

"Why," answered the colored man, "de goat done eat up whar he gwine to."

The goat had simply chewed up and swallowed the tag on which was the address to which he was being shipped.—Cleveland Leader.

An Attack of Pneumonia Warded Off.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annato Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

"What play?" queried his friend.

"Nat Goodwin in 'Nathan Hale,'" said the playwright.

"I'm very sorry," said the friend, "but you'll have to count me out."

"What's the matter?" asked Hoyt in surprise.

"Well, to be frank with you, I don't like Nat Goodwin in anything. I hate him personally and can't enjoy him as an actor, and, as far as I am concerned, I wouldn't mind seeing him dead."

"Then this is your play," slyly added Mr. Hoyt in his peculiar Yankee dialect. "You don't want to miss it. They hang him in the last act."—News Letter.

VIEW OF FRANK HARRIS

Who Inspected the Pottery Centers of the Whole Country—Interestingly Told in a Staffordshire Newspaper—The Englishman Astonished

Rev. Edwin Weary, of this city, has just received a copy of the Staffordshire Sentinel which contains the following account of the visit of Frank Harris, the English labor expert, to East Liverpool:

Mr. Frank Harris, who has recently returned from a visit to the principal pottery centers of the United States, where he has had an instructive experience, considers that East Liverpool is bound to be the ceramic city of the future. No fewer than three large manufactories have been started in East Liverpool this year, one of 15 ovens, one of 11 and the other nine; to the latter a further addition of four ovens were contemplated, at the time Mr. Harris was there. These manufactories are built on the latest principles, and having plenty of space are so arranged that the clays go in at one end and come out at the other a finished production, loaded on to the railway alongside, and sent to the consumers.

Mr. Harris was deeply impressed with the works of Messrs. Taylor, Smith & Taylor (sons of Mr. Taylor, president of Knowles, Taylor & Knowles), whose model works are entirely run by natural gas at a pressure of three and one-half pounds per square inch, with a reserve force of 47 pounds (night and day). This gas is brought 27 miles in seven-inch mains from the oil wells. Messrs. Knowles, Taylor & Knowles' manufactory consists of 32 ovens, making granite, semi-porcelain and bone china, all fired by natural gas. Thirty other factories are located at East Liverpool, and enjoy the same advantages.

At Wheeling Mr. Harris found two firms producing goods of a superior quality. At the Warwick pottery none but decorated wares are sold. The body is excellent and the demand exceeds the supply. At the Wheeling Potteries (3), La Belle, Wheeling pottery, and a sanitary and ornamental works, semi-porcelain, white and bone china of excellent quality are made and decorated, specimens of which are already on their way to this country, and will be included in the donations to the pottery museums.

At Syracuse, Mr. Harris was astonished to find one of the most perfect manufactories of "French porcelain." During the last two years the firm has extended it by eight ovens, making in all 16. Here porcelain equal to Limoges is made and decorated. This firm have lithographic artists of their own, and their productions are finished off in best gold, of conspicuous merit. In five years' time we shall cease to export ordinary earthenware, and signs are not wanting that our trade in sanitary and other goods will meet with a strong competition from the American potter. At Wheeling, too, natural gas is used and has been for 14 years. At Syracuse and Trenton anthracite coal is the fuel. Mr. Harris is now engaged at Messrs. Copeland's, Stoke.

STRENGTH FAILED TO PREVAIL

In Stock Market Thursday—With Dividend of Shorts Satisfied, Buying Became Apathetic.

New York, Jan. 17.—The strength which developed in Wednesday's stock market failed to persist yesterday. With the urgent demand from the shorts satisfied, the buying became apathetic. The selling was very light, but was not well absorbed, and the market moved in a sluggish and irregular way all day. The rather acute weakness which was manifest earlier in the week was not renewed, and there was some appearance of support on the declines. This and the positive strength of a few stocks in the list steadied the tone after declines had reached considerable figures, and resulted in recoveries. The general level of the prices did not get far from Wednesday night's level on the recovery, and the market became irregular again at the closing.

There is an element among stock operators which holds the theory that large reserves of capital are in the hands of the investors ready to flow into securities the moment the downward course of prices is seen to have gone far enough. This class hoped that the support afforded the market Wednesday would resolve the doubts of the owners of this waiting capital, and that it would flow into the stock market; but the commission houses yesterday morning failed to reflect notable increase in their orders for execution. The opening advance quickly came to the standstill.

Sharp weakness in Manhattan helped the reactionary tone, that stock dropping during the morning to 134¾. Speculators in the stock have been fed with the hope that an arrangement for an inter change of traffic with the New York Central was impending, as a consequence of the disaster in the Park avenue tunnel.

As Wednesday's statement by the New York Central directors of their plans for terminal improvements gave no corroboration to the reported plan for inter change with Manhattan, that stock was sold freely by the speculators. There was much discussion in a general way of the recent new bonds and stock issues by various railroad companies, and the effect of this discussion was unfavorable to speculation.

Recent heavy outlays by railroad companies from the large current profits were supposed to be a forestallment of necessary charges for betterments and to promise future curtailment of expenses, and the consequent maintenance of net profit in future periods of less prosperity. The current tendency to increase capital issues has disturbed this feeling of security over the future. The process of piling up reserves in New York banks, which seem to have gained much headway during the week, failed entirely to stimulate speculation.

The money market continued easy and sterling exchange showed no advance. The maintenance by the Bank of England of its 4 per cent discount rate may be regarded as a fair notice of its intention to attempt to lift the open market rate. The bank's reserve is very strong, and the market is practically free of indebtedness to the institution, which would prompt its governors, in their capacity as private bankers, to lower the rate and secure business, but in their semi-public capacity and looking to the coming issue of a government loan, it may be incumbent upon them to take measures to attract foreign gold to the English money market. There was some special strength in yesterday's market by Southwestern railroad stocks, notably in the St. Louis Southwestern, the St. Louis & San Francisco, and the Texas and Pacific stocks. Sugar also showed strength.

Bonds were moderately active and firm. Total sales, par value, $3,400,000.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL DAY.

Extensive Preparations Being Made in Several States.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 17.—Telegrams and letters received by Ryerson Ritchie, secretary of the McKinley National Memorial association, indicate a general observance of McKinley day throughout the country. Alexander H. Revell, national trustee, at Chicago, writes that by proclamation Governor Yates has suggested the holding of special services in the churches on Sunday, January 26th, and exercises in the schools on January 29th.

The city council of Chicago will pass a resolution, and Mayor Harrison will issue a proclamation calling for the day's observance. In four thousand churches in Illinois special services will be held.

The ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church of Cook county, have agreed to hold a McKinley memorial service and take up a collection.

Other letters and telegrams show great progress. Governor Herried, of South Dakota, says that his State has raised the sum apportioned. Mr. Henry T. Scott, national trustee of San Francisco, wires that an enthusiastic meeting of the State committee was held Wednesday night and California will raise its full quota.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the National association in Cleveland, on Monday next.

"EQUAL PARTNERS."

A Thrilling Story of Mystery by Howard Fielding.

WILL BEGIN NEXT MONDAY

We have secured the serial rights for this story in our paper and will begin its publication in a few days.

The following comments by one who has been permitted to see the opening chapters will give our readers a suggestion of the treat in store for them:

"Equal partners" in what? There is a mystery locked up in this title. And in seeking its solution the first person we meet is Brenda. She is somewhat of an enigma herself. The author calls her "the smooth product of all the social refinements." But that may mean a great many things. After reading of the stabbing of the actress why should Brenda wish to go to the scene of the crime? The broker's name mentioned in the newspaper account may have something to do with it.

Why should the policemen whom Brenda meets in the doorway "seem to fill all the space and their heads to tower to the housetop?" And then it is very strange that the policemen should exchange glances when Brenda inquires with anxiety if the actress is dead. But New York policemen are very suspicious.

That's a queer police captain whose picture we get in a few bold strokes of the pen—"medium stature and very heavy, having the build of an ape, with preposterously long arms, which swung aimlessly when he moved, * * * brutally cynical and smiling without purpose." True, "a man may smile and smile and smile and yet may be a—gentleman." What bothers me is that I do not see why his gaze should fascinate Brenda and why he should not permit her to leave the house after the actress has been carried away in an ambulance.

Now Brenda appears better. In an elegant room "in the presence of Dr. Blair, whose manner was that of the world wherein she had moved, Brenda gains part of her self possession." The author evidently did not intend that "smooth" should have a sinister meaning. Still there is something mysterious about Brenda. She tells the doctor that she obeyed "an unaccountable impulse" in coming to the house. And why should she turn white and wring her hands?

But now we are coming to something. Brenda is confessing that Alden, the broker mentioned in the newspaper account of the crime, was an acquaintance of hers. And so there is a man in the case this time—at the bottom of it, perhaps.

That was a fervid love letter of the broker to the actress. It would do to go with "The Love Letters of an English Woman." It was very inconsiderate in that police captain to want Brenda to go into the room where the actress was stabbed. Of course Brenda would turn faint. I don't like that police captain. The next chapter will doubtless explain Brenda to my entire satisfaction.

This Brenda enigma is deepening. In Elsie's room, after giving his opinion of how the murder was done, this police captain (I find my aversion to him growing) "turned to Brenda with a questioning leer." He even admits that he thinks the murderer may have been a woman.

But what is this? Dr. Blair saw a well dressed young woman leave the house about the time the crime was committed and go in the direction of Broadway. It was on Broadway we first met Brenda. But the doctor is sure he would not know the woman if he were to see her again.

Notwithstanding Captain Neale's innuendoes, Brenda bears herself admirably. It is true that she contradicts herself, but all of us do that sometimes. And that police captain with the ape arms is so horrid! But I would like to know why Brenda is so much interested in Elsie, whom she has never seen. Perhaps the next chapter will tell.

The plot thickens and the mystery deepens. Alden impresses me very favorably, but Brenda gives me a shock when she almost faints at sight of the knife with which the stabbing was done. But the dramatic way in which Captain Neale exposed it was enough to make any woman of refinement faint. Police captains are nothing if not spectacular.

So Brenda was not Miss Williams, as she had announced herself to the policemen at the door, but the daughter of Duncan Maclane, a prominent millionaire. And here is a poser: "Dr. Blair," she whispered, "you will not say it was I whom you saw leaving this house?"

Now Captain Neale begins his inquisition again. At any rate, we shall learn something about the New York police and their methods. Brenda engaged to Alden? And the engagement broken that day? This grows exciting.

Alden arrested for the crime—for stabbing the girl whom he loved! Absurd. What blunderers these police are! Ah, here is the explanation—

"And by the way, Neale, you don't think Alden did this thing, do you?"

"Not on your life," said the captain. I thought Alden was very rash to quarrel with Captain Neale, telling him of his bad reputation. We have not found out much yet, but this is going to be a story worth reading, if only for the picture it gives of New York police. The idea of a police captain arresting a man for murder because he calls the police captain a thief!

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL DAY.

Extensive Preparations Being Made in Several States.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 17.—Telegrams and letters received by Ryerson Ritchie, secretary of the McKinley National Memorial association, indicate a general observance of McKinley day throughout the country. Alexander H. Revell, national trustee, at Chicago, writes that by proclamation Governor Yates has suggested the holding of special services in the churches on Sunday, January 26th, and exercises in the schools on January 29th.

The city council of Chicago will pass a resolution, and Mayor Harrison will issue a proclamation calling for the day's observance. In four thousand churches in Illinois special services will be held.

The ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church of Cook county, have agreed to hold a McKinley memorial service and take up a collection.

Other letters and telegrams show great progress. Governor Herried, of South Dakota, says that his State has raised the sum apportioned. Mr. Henry T. Scott, national trustee of San Francisco, wires that an enthusiastic meeting of the State committee was held Wednesday night and California will raise its full quota.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the National association in Cleveland, on Monday next.

Moral of the Garden.

Nothing teaches patience like a garden. You may go round and watch the opening bud from day to day, but it takes its own time, and you cannot urge it on faster than it will. If forced, it is only torn to pieces. All the best results of a garden, like those of life, are slowly but regularly progressive.—Weekly Bouquet.

"EQUAL PARTNERS."

WILL BEGIN NEXT MONDAY

We have secured the serial rights for this story in our paper and will begin its publication in a few days.

The following comments by one who has been permitted to see the opening chapters will give our readers a suggestion of the treat in store for them:

"Equal partners" in what? There is a mystery locked up in this title. And in seeking its solution the first person we meet is Brenda. She is somewhat of an enigma herself. The author calls her "the smooth product of all the social refinements." But that may mean a great many things. After reading of the stabbing of the actress why should Brenda wish to go to the scene of the crime? The broker's name mentioned in the newspaper account may have something to do with it.

Why should the policemen whom Brenda meets in the doorway "seem to fill all the space and their heads to tower to the housetop?" And then it is very strange that the policemen should exchange glances when Brenda inquires with anxiety if the actress is dead. But New York policemen are very suspicious.

That's a queer police captain whose picture we get in a few bold strokes of the pen—"medium stature and very heavy, having the build of an ape, with preposterously long arms, which swung aimlessly when he moved, * * * brutally cynical and smiling without purpose." True, "a man may smile and smile and smile and yet may be a—gentleman." What bothers me is that I do not see why his gaze should fascinate Brenda and why he should not permit her to leave the house after the actress has been carried away in an ambulance.

Now Brenda appears better. In an elegant room "in the presence of Dr. Blair, whose manner was that of the world wherein she had moved, Brenda gains part of her self possession." The author evidently did not intend that "smooth" should have a sinister meaning. Still there is something mysterious about Brenda. She tells the doctor that she obeyed "an unaccountable impulse" in coming to the house. And why should she turn white and wring her hands?

But now we are coming to something. Brenda is confessing that Alden, the broker mentioned in the newspaper account of the crime, was an acquaintance of hers. And so there is a man in the case this time—at the bottom of it, perhaps.

That was a fervid love letter of the broker to the actress. It would do to go with "The Love Letters of an English Woman." It was very inconsiderate in that police captain to want Brenda to go into the room where the actress was stabbed. Of course Brenda would turn faint. I don't like that police captain. The next chapter will doubtless explain Brenda to my entire satisfaction.

This Brenda enigma is deepening. In Elsie's room, after giving his opinion of how the murder was done, this police captain (I find my aversion to him growing) "turned to Brenda with a questioning leer." He even admits that he thinks the murderer may have been a woman.

But what is this? Dr. Blair saw a well dressed young woman leave the house about the time the crime was committed and go in the direction of Broadway. It was on Broadway we first met Brenda. But the doctor is sure he would not know the woman if he were to see her again.

Notwithstanding Captain Neale's innuendoes, Brenda bears herself admirably. It is true that she contradicts herself, but all of us do that sometimes. And that police captain with the ape arms is so horrid! But I would like to know why Brenda is so much interested in Elsie, whom she has never seen. Perhaps the next chapter will tell.

The plot thickens and the mystery deepens. Alden impresses me very favorably, but Brenda gives me a shock when she almost faints at sight of the knife with which the stabbing was done. But the dramatic way in which Captain Neale exposed it was enough to make any woman of refinement faint. Police captains are nothing if not spectacular.

So Brenda was not Miss Williams, as she had announced herself to the policemen at the door, but the daughter of Duncan Maclane, a prominent millionaire. And here is a poser: "Dr. Blair," she whispered, "you will not say it was I whom you saw leaving this house?"

Now Captain Neale begins his inquisition again. At any rate, we shall learn something about the New York police and their methods. Brenda engaged to Alden? And the engagement broken that day? This grows exciting.

"And by the way, Neale, you don't think Alden did this thing, do you?"

"Not on your life," said the captain. I thought Alden was very rash to quarrel with Captain Neale, telling him of his bad reputation. We have not found out much yet, but this is going to be a story worth reading, if only for the picture it gives of New York police. The idea of a police captain arresting a man for murder because he calls the police captain a thief!

The Lodge bill, for the regulation of the consular service, with unimportant amendments, will be favorably reported by the senate committee on foreign relations. It puts the service on an entirely new basis, the leading feature of which is the merit system. Consuls can aid perhaps more than any other government agents in helping America to retain her commercial supremacy abroad. The trouble with the present system is that they are selected haphazard, at the recommendation of congressmen, and are likely to be turned out of office as soon as they fairly get settled down to work and have learned enough of their duties to become really useful. There is urgent need of complete reform of the whole system.

The country has confidence in the Philippine commission, if Mr. Hoar hasn't. There is no need of an investigation, such as he proposes. It would simply disturb matters and serve no other purpose than to provide campaign material for Filipino insurgents, Democrats and other "antis." Any facts which congress desires concerning the conduct of Philippine affairs can be had without spreading a dragnet.

Out in Illinois there is a new woman crusader. She does not war on the saloon, but on lazy men. She does not attack them with a hatchet, but with the law, compelling them to get out and hustle for the support of their families. There are few communities where such a crusader could not find work that needs to be done.

Charles M. Schwab denies that he indulged in any sensational gambling at Monte Carlo. It is probable he received a tip from the headquarters of the big trust that he was not paid the largest salary of any man in the United States to gain a reputation for recklessness.

The Democratic state central committee of Ohio met in Columbus and instead of holding a funeral, resolved to take steps to see if they could reanimate the corpse. Hope springs eternal in the Democratic breast, even though it is withered by frost almost every fall.

OBITUARY

Mrs. William Shannon.

Mrs. William Shannon, a well known resident of Trentvale street, died yesterday morning. The funeral will take place at the house at 11:30 tomorrow afternoon.

AT THE THEATER

The opera house was again crowded last night, when the Chester De Vonde company presented "Dr. Jekyll And Mr. Hyde." The performance was very cleverly presented, Mr. De Vonde in the difficult double impersonation being exceptionally strong. He was very much perplexed, however, by the actions of a number of giddy girls, occupying front seats together with others in the balcony, who continued to giggle during the entire performance.

A party of young men who also sat close to the stage continued to annoy the players and spectators until an usher finally restored order. One of the performers, who was angry from disgust, said at the conclusion of the performance that he had never witnessed such disorder at a play of the nature of the one last night in his theatrical experience.

A short time before his death Colonel Robert Ingersoll said before the Players' club, New York: "I do not incline to the play which moves solely to mirth, nor that which alone stirs the serious sensibilities. The one which comforts and consoles me and woos me to forgetfulness of the seamy side of life is the play that creates dimples wherein to catch the tears." Could he have witnessed "Lovers' Lane" he would have found it to precisely answer this meaning. It will be seen at the opera house next Tuesday night for the stage hands' annual benefit.

The forthcoming engagement of Mildred Holland here January 24 in "The Power Behind the Throne" will positively be her last appearance in the character of "Aria" in this city. Next spring she will produce a new romantic drama at the palatial and magnificent Teck theater, Buffalo, written by Carina Jordan, entitled "The Lily And the Prince." Manager Edward C. White contemplates the bringing of this new production to this city some timeduring the next theatrical season.

The pottery firm of Thomas Maddock Sons' company, of Trenton, was merged into a corporation yesterday, the articles of incorporation being filed in the county clerk's office. The capital stock is $600,000, divided into 6,000 shares at $100 per share. Seventeen hundred and fifty shares are designated as preferred stock, to draw 5 per cent cumulative dividend. The incorporators are Charles S. Maddock, Archie M. Maddock and Harry S. Maddock, each with 10 shares. The corporation has elected the following officers: President S. C. Maddock; vice president, H. S. Maddock; treasurer, A. M. Maddock; secretary, A. D. Anderson. The board of directors are C. S. Maddock, A. M. Maddock and H. S. Maddock. A. M. Maddock said the reason for the change from a firm to a corporation was for the general bettering of the business management—all interested in the firm believing that the corporation form was preferable.

The second anniversary of kilndrawers' local No. 17 will be held in Brotherhood hall Saturday evening and will be celebrated with a smoker. The affair has been placed in the hands of a committee which has prepared an interesting program. It is expected an address will be made to the local by President Hughes, of the National organization, provided he returns from the west in time.

Christopher Horton, who has been employed as a decorating kiln fireman at the C. C. Thompson pottery for years, has taken a similar position at the Dresden pottery. George Swingewood, who was formerly employed at the Diamond pottery in the same capacity, has taken a position with Mr. Horton at the Dresden.

The packers at the C. C. Thompson pottery have not been working full time since before the hondays. Active work will be commenced, however, within a few days, according to a statement of Chief Packer William Swindells yesterday.

George Beggs, bookkeeper at the Sebring Pottery company's plant, who has been off duty for the past two months with muscular rheumatism, is still confined to his home, though feeling somewhat better than he has for the past few days.

Packers' local No. 25 will meet this evening in the Knights of Columbus hall. The meeting promises to be interesting, as delegates to the next annual convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters may be nominated.

Albert Finn, formerly a motorman on the East Liverpool railway, has taken a position at the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery. He is now working in the mixing room, but will take a position as a kilnman scon.

All the machinery at the cooper shop of Captain Dawson was given a thorough overhauling during the past week. A new addition has also been built to the office of Mr. Dawson on the second floor of his shop.

C. H. Davis, a crockery jobber of Cedar Rapids, Ia., was here yesterday, the guest of H. P. Knoblock, of the Dresden. It is said quite a large order for ware was placed with this firm for early shipment.

Packers in the National have found it advisable not to begin work each day until 9 o'clock, on account of the rapid sending out of ware, as orders are taking up the stock faster than it can be made.

Jere McMillan, engineer at the Diamond pottery, has sold his property at the corner of Mulberry alley and Drury lane, to Richard Edmonston. The property will be improved in the spring.

Frank Sebring, of Sebring, is quoted as saying that the East Palestine pottery of the Oliver China company has not been sold, and unless it is sold no new plant will be erected at Sebring.

The local coopers have not had much work to do on account of the holiday shut down of the potteries, but commencing next Monday every shop in the city will be in full operation.

Owing to a rush of orders for decorating ware, the decorators at the Chelsea at New Cumberland were compelled to work until late at night upon several occasions this week.

At Harker's pottery since the holidays, the average has been about two and one-half kilns per week, but there will be a larger number per pay during the coming weeks.

Mr. Crawford, one of the new salesmen for the Smith & Phillips pottery, left yesterday afternoon for an extensive trip through the west. He will be gone several months.

Wednesday the Cartwright pottery shipped a car of ware to Tennessee, while yesterday one was packed for Los Angeles, Cal. Orders are coming in rapidly at this factory.

Cyrus Watson, formerly employed at Laughlin No. 2 as a saggermaker, has taken a similar position with the Potters' Supply company. He commenced work yesterday.

Frank Irwin, of Sebring, was presented with an elegant leather upholstered oak rocker by the employes of the decorating department of the Oliver China company.

F. McHenry, a ground layer at the American pottery at Toronto, who has been in the city several days visiting friends, returned to Toronto yesterday.

Alfred Johnson, of Second street, a dipper at the D. E. McNicol pottery, was in Lisbon today attending the Republican county committee meeting.

Melvin George, a presser at the George C. Murphy pottery, became ill while attending a dance recently and has been unable to work since.

A new floor has been laid in the old packing shed of the Cartwright pottery. The floor disposed of had been in service for 10 years.

Because there was not ware the glost kilnmen of the Diamond pottery did not work yesterday. Work was commenced this morning.

The printers of the Diamond pottery, who have been idle for several weeks, returned to work this morning.

Ambrose Massey, of the Diamond Pottery company, was in Pittsburg yesterday.

Ralph Woods, a presser at the Diamond, is off duty on account of illness.

Local No. 9 will meet in Brotherhood hall this evening.

AT THE THEATER

The opera house was again crowded last night, when the Chester De Vonde company presented "Dr. Jekyll And Mr. Hyde." The performance was very cleverly presented, Mr. De Vonde in the difficult double impersonation being exceptionally strong. He was very much perplexed, however, by the actions of a number of giddy girls, occupying front seats together with others in the balcony, who continued to giggle during the entire performance.

A party of young men who also sat close to the stage continued to annoy the players and spectators until an usher finally restored order. One of the performers, who was angry from disgust, said at the conclusion of the performance that he had never witnessed such disorder at a play of the nature of the one last night in his theatrical experience.

A short time before his death Colonel Robert Ingersoll said before the Players' club, New York: "I do not incline to the play which moves solely to mirth, nor that which alone stirs the serious sensibilities. The one which comforts and consoles me and woos me to forgetfulness of the seamy side of life is the play that creates dimples wherein to catch the tears." Could he have witnessed "Lovers' Lane" he would have found it to precisely answer this meaning. It will be seen at the opera house next Tuesday night for the stage hands' annual benefit.

The forthcoming engagement of Mildred Holland here January 24 in "The Power Behind the Throne" will positively be her last appearance in the character of "Aria" in this city. Next spring she will produce a new romantic drama at the palatial and magnificent Teck theater, Buffalo, written by Carina Jordan, entitled "The Lily And the Prince." Manager Edward C. White contemplates the bringing of this new production to this city some timeduring the next theatrical season.

pany for some time, and while at Grand Rapids, Mich., four months ago, became ill and was confined in a hospital in that city until a few weeks ago. He is well known to the trade, and his many friends will be pleased to learn of his recovery.

The pottery firm of Thomas Maddock Sons' company, of Trenton, was merged into a corporation yesterday, the articles of incorporation being filed in the county clerk's office. The capital stock is $600,000, divided into 6,000 shares at $100 per share. Seventeen hundred and fifty shares are designated as preferred stock, to draw 5 per cent cumulative dividend. The incorporators are Charles S. Maddock, Archie M. Maddock and Harry S. Maddock, each with 10 shares. The corporation has elected the following officers: President S. C. Maddock; vice president, H. S. Maddock; treasurer, A. M. Maddock; secretary, A. D. Anderson. The board of directors are C. S. Maddock, A. M. Maddock and H. S. Maddock. A. M. Maddock said the reason for the change from a firm to a corporation was for the general bettering of the business management—all interested in the firm believing that the corporation form was preferable.

The second anniversary of kilndrawers' local No. 17 will be held in Brotherhood hall Saturday evening and will be celebrated with a smoker. The affair has been placed in the hands of a committee which has prepared an interesting program. It is expected an address will be made to the local by President Hughes, of the National organization, provided he returns from the west in time.

Christopher Horton, who has been employed as a decorating kiln fireman at the C. C. Thompson pottery for years, has taken a similar position at the Dresden pottery. George Swingewood, who was formerly employed at the Diamond pottery in the same capacity, has taken a position with Mr. Horton at the Dresden.

The packers at the C. C. Thompson pottery have not been working full time since before the holidays. Active work will be commenced, however, within a few days, according to a statement of Chief Packer William Swindells yesterday.

George Beggs, bookkeeper at the Sebring Pottery company's plant, who has been off duty for the past two months with muscular rheumatism, is still confined to his home, though feeling somewhat better than he has for the past few days.

Packers' local No. 25 will meet this evening in the Knights of Columbus hall. The meeting promises to be interesting, as delegates to the next annual convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters may be nominated.

Albert Finn, formerly a motorman on the East Liverpool railway, has taken a position at the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery. He is now working in the mixing room, but will take a position as a kilnman soon.

All the machinery at the cooper shop of Captain Dawson was given a thorough overhauling during the past week. A new addition has also been built to the office of Mr. Dawson on the second floor of his shop.

C. H. Davis, a crockery jobber of Cedar Rapids, Ia., was here yesterday, the guest of H. P. Knoblock, of the Dresden. It is said quite a large order for ware was placed with this firm for early shipment.

Packers in the National have found it advisable not to begin work each day until 9 o'clock, on account of the rapid sending out of ware, as orders are taking up the stock faster than it can be made.

Jere McMillan, engineer at the Diamond pottery, has sold his property at the corner of Mulberry alley and Drury lane, to Richard Edmonston. The property will be improved in the spring.

Frank Sebring, of Sebring, is quoted as saying that the East Palestine pottery of the Oliver China company has not been sold, and unless it is sold no new plant will be erected at Sebring.

The local coopers have not had much work to do on account of the holiday shut down of the potteries, but commencing next Monday every shop in the city will be in full operation.

Owing to a rush of orders for decorating ware, the decorators at the Chelsea at New Cumberland were compelled to work until late at night upon several occasions this week.

At Harker's pottery since the holidays, the average has been about two and one-half kilns per week, but there will be a larger number per pay during the coming weeks.

Mr. Crawford, one of the new salesmen for the Smith & Phillips pottery, left yesterday afternoon for an extensive trip through the west. He will be gone several months.

Wednesday the Cartwright pottery shipped a car of ware to Tennessee, while yesterday one was packed for Los Angeles, Cal. Orders are coming in rapidly at this factory.

Cyrus Watson, formerly employed at Laughlin No. 2 as a saggermaker, has taken a similar position with the Potters' Supply company. He commenced work yesterday.

Frank Irwin, of Sebring, was presented with an elegant leather upholstered oak rocker by the employes of the decorating department of the Oliver China company.

F. McHenry, a ground layer at the American pottery at Toronto, who has been in the city several days visiting friends, returned to Toronto yesterday.

Alfred Johnson, of Second street, a dipper at the D. E. McNicol pottery, was in Lisbon today attending the Republican county committee meeting.

Melvin George, a presser at the George C. Murphy pottery, became ill while attending a dance recently and has been unable to work since.

A new floor has been laid in the old packing shed of the Cartwright pottery. The floor disposed of had been in service for 10 years.

Because there was not ware the glost kilnmen of the Diamond pottery did not work yesterday. Work was commenced this morning.

The printers of the Diamond pottery, who have been idle for several weeks, returned to work this morning.

Ambrose Massey, of the Diamond Pottery company, was in Pittsburg yesterday.

Ralph Woods, a presser at the Diamond, is off duty on account of illness.

Local No. 9 will meet in Brotherhood hall this evening.

WELLSVILLE

Its Hasty Abolition Causes Anxiety And Alarm Among Council.

At the meeting of the city council Monday evening, January 6, a majority of the members was present and passed an ordinance which in effect abolished the sewer commission, of which Messrs. Brannan and Brown, Martin, and Moore were members.

According to a standing ordinance of the city an ordinance is not effective until it has been published for 10 days, therefore yesterday was the last day of grace. It seems that council did not fully realize the responsibility and work the abolishing of the commission would cause, because late yesterday afternoon there was a great stir on councilmanic circles. One member, evidently alarmed, called upon City Clerk McQueen and demanded that he issue a call immediately for a special meeting of council, as he wished to have an ordinance passed which would repeal the abolishing of the ordinance. The city clerk did not think that such an ordinance could be passed and consulted the city solicitor, who informed him tha council had deferred action too long, and that the only step now would be to hold a meeting and create a new commission.

It is not likely that council will now take such a step, though it may do so in the early spring, when the extensive improvement of sewers will be commenced.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT

At the Home of Mr. And Mrs. Stillwell in Wellsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Stillwell entertained a number of friends at their home on Eleventh street last evening in honor of Louis Hayden, of East Liverpool, and Miss Anna Ward, of Wellsville, who are to be married next month. There were about 75 young people present, most of whom were from East Liverpool.

Many social games were played and fine music was rendered by a quartet consisting of Messrs. Mike Connelly, William Hughes, George Tatgenhorst and Robert Connell. A choice luncheon was also served.

SCISSORS IN HAND

Mrs. Aten Fell on the Stairs And Suffered Painful Injury.

While descending the stairs in her home on Main street yesterday afternoon Mrs. J. Hal Aten tripped and fell headlong a distance of five feet and sustained a painful injury.

She was carrying a pair of scissors and when she fell one of the blades penetrated her left hand, causing her to suffer excruciating pain.

Hand Badly Crushed.

Louis Buchman, while at work in the railroad shops, met with an unfortunate accident. A large piece of iron fell on his hand and badly mashed it. He will be off duty for several weeks and left yesterday with his brother Peter for a visit with relatives in East Pittsburg.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Entertainment.

Arrangements have been made for an entertainment and banquet to be given by Diamond Council No. 5, Jr. O. U. A. M., in the lodge room tomorrow evening. The members and their families will be present and a joyous time is expected.

Injured By a Fall.

Mrs. Frank Chandler, of the West End, is suffering from the effects of a hard fall occasioned by slipping on an icy-covered board. Her head was bruised considerably, but serious results are not anticipated.

Settled Out of Court.

A barrister riding his bicycle on a path was caught by a policeman. The gentleman at once came off the path and tried to reason with the policeman.

"You aren't really going to run me in for this?" he asked.

"Yes, sir. I can't help it."

"Well, come in here (a public house close by), and we will talk about it."

The policeman followed the gentleman, who ordered two glasses of beer, one for himself, the other for the policeman, both of which were finished before he again remarked:

"Surely you are not really going to make a fuss about this?"

"I must, sir. It's my business."

"Ah! Then at the same time it will be my business to report you for drinking beer while on duty."

The policeman's expression suddenly changed.

"You're a lawyer, I suppose, sir?"

"Yes."

Want 500 Acres of Cucumbers.

Ex-State Senator O. S. Marshall, of New Cumberland, has received a letter from parties who want the farmers of Hancock county to grow 500 acres of cucumber pickles. They will establish eight houses this year and want the farmers of Hancock county to enter the contest for one of the houses.

In Full Operation Soon.

The manager of the Chester tin mill said last evening that two more mills would be started within a few days and that the construction work had progressed sufficiently for him to believe that the plant would be running in its full capacity within six weeks.

CHESTER NOTES.

Lee Conant was in from Fairview yesterday.

W. A. Slack left yesterday for a business visit in Pittsburg.

John West, one of O. O. Allison's clerks, is off duty on account of sickness.

Richard Ellison, Jr., of Magnolia, visited E. C. Baxter and family yesterday.

Miss Leone Stewart, of Gas Valley, is the guest of her sister, Miss Jane Stewart.

Mrs. James Hays, a resident in the Lawrenceville addition, is sick with the grip.

Able to Hear It.

It is well known that Joseph Medill of the Chicago Tribune was somewhat deaf, although his ability at times to hear what was said in an ordinary tone of voice was frequently remarked.

It is related of him that he dropped into the business department of the office one day to make an inquiry about something that had occurred to him, and a young man who had been in his employ only a few months undertook in a loud tone of voice to enlighten him.

"What did you say?" asked Mr. Medill, putting his hand to his ear.

The young man repeated the question in a still louder voice.

"I can't hear you," said the editor.

"Oh, chase yourself around the block, you old granny!" muttered the impatient employee just above his breath.

"I am not an old granny," said Mr. Medill, turning away, "and I shall not chase myself around the block."

The fresh young man made immediate arrangements to say goodby to his job, but the great editor probably thought that the lesson he had received was sufficient and did not disturb him.

A Story of Culberson.

In the Fifty-first congress, when Speaker Reed first gained the title of "czar" by his arbitrary decisions, Judge Culberson was one of his strongest supporters, although he gave the speaker no public indorsement, for political reasons. One afternoon while the Democrats were in a terrible tumult over a decision of the speaker and the proceedings of the house were very near riot a thunderstorm came up. When the confusion was highest, a blinding flash of lightning and a terrible crash of nature's artillery startled every soul on the floor and caused a profound silence. Judge Culberson, like everybody else, was deeply moved, but was the first to recover. "That was God Almighty, sir, calling this house to order," he exclaimed in an impressive tone, addressing the speaker. Then, turning to his colleagues, he said, "Now let us proceed to business like men."

An Unreliable Adage.

"I suppose you lay a great deal of stress on the adage 'Money talks,'" said the man who gets familiarly facetious.

"No, sir," said Senator Sorghum. "If you had observed as many investigations as I have, you'd know that the success of pecuniary enterprise frequently depends on the ability to keep perfectly still."—Washington Star.

BIG REPUBLICAN MEETING

When no names are certified to the secretary within five days after the caucus date, the ticket shall be printed blank for such precinct.

"Fifteenth—There shall be three central committeemen elected at each precinct at the county primary each year. The committeemen so elected in all the precincts of the county shall constitute the county central committee. The central committee of each township shall organize by the election of a chairman, secretary and treasurer. The county central committee shall meet in Lisbon on the Tuesday following the county primary, to organize by the selection of a chairman, secretary, treasurer and executive committee, and to fix the time for holding the county primaries for the next year, and adopt rules for its conduct. The precinct central committee shall be the election officers in their precinct.

"Sixteenth—Any central committeeman may be removed on proof, to the satisfaction of the county executive committee, of gross misconduct in office or disloyalty to the party or its nominees, and the vacancy occasioned shall be filled by appointment by said county executive committee.

"Seventeenth—Persons who are legal residents of the township and precinct, and who are at present and have hitherto been identified with the Republican party, shall be held to be qualified electors.

"Eighteenth—Any qualified elector shall have the privilege of challenge, and if the judges are not satisfied of the right of the person to vote they shall administer to him an oath to answer any questions pertaining to his right to vote, and if his answers are not satisfactory or he refuses to be sworn, his vote shall be rejected. Otherwise he shall be accepted and the clerk shall enter the word "Sworn" opposite his name.

"Nineteenth—No one shall be within 100 feet of the polling place.

"Twentieth—This section provides that the committee from each precinct shall provide rooms, booths and ballots for each polling place in their precinct. All other supplies for county primaries shall be furnished by the county central committee.

"Twenty-first—These rules shall govern all Republican primaries in the county, so far as applicable.

"Twenty-second—Amendments to these rules must be presented and signed by two or more members of the county central committee and can only be adopted by a majority vote at a regularly called meeting of such committee."

ditions.

The date of the county primary was fixed for March 1.

At this afternoon's session the rules were read and adoptedw ith minor admous, with the following resolution added:

Resolved, that the names of candidates for congress be placed upon the ticket, and the names of candidates for congressional delegates be placed under the names of their respective candidates for congress. Such delegates shall be elected by townships.

Hon. R. W. Tayler made a telling speech, complimenting the convention on its new regulations. He congratulated the Republicans and the committee on the work done. He was warmly applauded.

Hon. R. W. Tayler arrived last night from Washington to attend the meetings today. He is showing much interest in the proceedings, and is warmly greeted on every hand. It is plain that he is more popular than ever with his Columbiana county constituents. Mr. Tayler will return to Washington tomorrow.

Fiddled Into Office.

If history be true, Governor Taylor of Tennessee is not the only man who fiddled himself into office. Lossing relates that in 1848 he met at Oswego, N. Y., Major Cochran, then nearly 80 years old, a son-in-law of General Philip Schuyler, who told the story of his election to congress during the administration of the elder Adams. A vessel was to be launched on one of the lakes in interior New York, and people came from afar to see it. The young folks gathered there, determined to have a dance at night. THE SEWER COMMISSION

Its Hasty Abolition Causes Anxiety And Alarm Among Council.

At the meeting of the city council Monday evening, ry 6, a majority of the was present and passed an which in effect abolished the commission, of which Messrs. rown, Martin, Brannan and were members.

According to a standing ordinance of the city an ordinance is not effective until it has been published for 10 days, therefore yesterday was the last day of grace. It seems that council did not fully realize the responsibility and work the abolishing of the commission would cause, because late yesterday afternoon there was a great stir on councilmanic circles. One member, evidently alarmed, called upon City Clerk McQueen and demanded that he issue a call immediately for a special meeting of council, as he wished to have an ordinance passed which would repeal the abolishing of the ordinance. The city clerk did not think that such an ordinance could be passed and consulted the city solicitor, who informed him tha council had deferred action too long, and that the only step now would be to hold a meeting and create a new commission.

It is not likely that council will now take such a step, though it may do so in the early spring, when the extensive improvement of sewers will be commenced.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT

At the Home of Mr. And Mrs. Stillwell in Wellsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Stillwell entertained a number of friends at their home on Eleventh street last evening in honor of Louis Hayden, of East Liverpool, and Miss Anna Ward, of Wellsville, who are to be married next month. There were about 75 young people present, most of whom were from East Liverpool.

Many social games were played and fine music was rendered by a quartet consisting of Messrs. Mike Connelly, William Hughes, George Tatgenhorst and Robert Connell. A choice luncheon was also served.

SCISSORS IN HAND

Mrs. Aten Fell on the Stairs And Suffered Painful Injury.

Settled Out of Court.

A barrister riding his bicycle on a path was caught by a policeman. The gentleman at once came off the path and tried to reason with the policeman.

"You aren't really going to run me in for this?" he asked.

"Yes, sir. I can't help it."

"Well, come in here (a public house close by), and we will talk about it."

The policeman followed the gentleman, who ordered two glasses of beer, one for himself, the other for the policeman, both of which were finished before he again remarked:

"Surely you are not really going to make a fuss about this?"

"I must, sir. It's my business."

"Ah! Then at the same time it will be my business to report you for drinking beer while on duty."

The policeman's expression suddenly changed.

"You're a lawyer, I suppose, sir?"

"Yes."

Able to Hear It.

It is well known that Joseph Medill of the Chicago Tribune was somewhat deaf, although his ability at times to hear what was said in an ordinary tone of voice was frequently remarked.

It is related of him that he dropped into the business department of the office one day to make an inquiry about something that had occurred to him, and a young man who had been in his employ only a few months undertook in a loud tone of voice to enlighten him.

"What did you say?" asked Mr. Medill, putting his hand to his ear.

The young man repeated the question in a still louder voice.

"I can't hear you," said the editor.

"Oh, chase yourself around the block, you old granny!" muttered the impatient employee just above his breath.

"I am not an old granny," said Mr. Medill, turning away, "and I shall not chase myself around the block."

The fresh young man made immediate arrangements to say goodby to his job, but the great editor probably thought that the lesson he had received was sufficient and did not disturb him.

A Story of Culberson.

In the Fifty-first congress, when Speaker Reed first gained the title of "czar" by his arbitrary decisions, Judge Culberson was one of his strongest supporters, although he gave the speaker no public indorsement, for political reasons. One afternoon while the Democrats were in a terrible tumult over a decision of the speaker and the proceedings of the house were very near riot a thunderstorm came up. When the confusion was highest, a blinding flash of lightning and a terrible crash of nature's artillery startled every soul on the floor and caused a profound silence. Judge Culberson, like everybody else, was deeply moved, but was the first to recover. "That was God Almighty, sir, calling this house to order," he exclaimed in an impressive tone, addressing the speaker. Then, turning to his colleagues, he said, "Now let us proceed to business like men."

An Unreliable Adage.

"I suppose you lay a great deal of stress on the adage 'Money talks,'" said the man who gets familiarly facetious.

"No, sir," said Senator Sorghum. "If you had observed as many investigations as I have, you'd know that the success of pecuniary enterprise frequently depends on the ability to keep perfectly still."—Washington Star.

When no names are certified to the secretary within five days after the caucus date, the ticket shall be printed blank for such precinct.

"Fifteenth—There shall be three central committeemen elected at each precinct at the county primary each year. The committeemen so elected in all the precincts of the county shall constitute the county central committee. The central committee of each township shall organize by the election of a chairman, secretary and treasurer. The county central committee shall meet in Lisbon on the Tuesday following the county primary, to organize by the selection of a chairman, secretary, treasurer and executive committee, and to fix the time for holding the county primaries for the next year, and adopt rules for its conduct. The precinct central committee shall be the election officers in their precinct.

"Sixteenth—Any central committeeman may be removed on proof, to the satisfaction of the county executive committee, of gross misconduct in office or disloyalty to the party or its nominees, and the vacancy occasioned shall be filled by appointment by said county executive committee.

"Seventeenth—Persons who are legal residents of the township and precinct, and who are at present and have hitherto been identified with the Republican party, shall be held to be qualified electors.

"Eighteenth—Any qualified elector shall have the privilege of challenge, and if the judges are not satisfied of the right of the person to vote they shall administer to him an oath to answer any questions pertaining to his right to vote, and if his answers are not satisfactory or he refuses to be sworn, his vote shall be rejected. Otherwise he shall be accepted and the clerk shall enter the word "Sworn" opposite his name.

"Nineteenth—No one shall be within 100 feet of the polling place.

"Twentieth—This section provides that the committee from each precinct shall provide rooms, booths and ballots for each polling place in their precinct. All other supplies for county primaries shall be furnished by the county central committee.

"Twenty-first—These rules shall govern all Republican primaries in the county, so far as applicable.

"Twenty-second—Amendments to these rules must be presented and signed by two or more members of the county central committee and can only be adopted by a majority vote at a regularly called meeting of such committee."

ditions.

The date of the county primary was fixed for March 1.

At this afternoon's session the rules were read and adoptedw ith minor admous, with the following resolution added:

Resolved, that the names of candidates for congress be placed upon the ticket, and the names of candidates for congressional delegates be placed under the names of their respective candidates for congress. Such delegates shall be elected by townships.

Hon. R. W. Tayler made a telling speech, complimenting the convention on its new regulations. He congratulated the Republicans and the committee on the work done. He was warmly applauded.

Hon. R. W. Tayler arrived last night from Washington to attend the meetings today. He is showing much interest in the proceedings, and is warmly greeted on every hand. It is plain that he is more popular than ever with his Columbiana county constituents. Mr. Tayler will return to Washington tomorrow.

Fiddled Into Office.

If history be true, Governor Taylor of Tennessee is not the only man who fiddled himself into office. Lossing relates that in 1848 he met at Oswego, N. Y., Major Cochran, then nearly 80 years old, a son-in-law of General Philip Schuyler, who told the story of his election to congress during the administration of the elder Adams. A vessel was to be launched on one of the lakes in interior New York, and people came from afar to see it. The young folks gathered there, determined to have a dance at night. There was a fiddle, but no fiddler. Young Cochran was an amateur performer, and his services were demanded. He gratified the joyous company, and at the supper table one of the gentlemen remarked, in commendation of his talents, that he was "fit for congress." The matter was talked up, and he was nominated and elected a representative in congress for the district then comprising the whole of New York west of Schenectady. NEGOTIATING PEACE?

Belief Prevailed In London Financial Circles Boers and British Were Conferring.

Vienna Papers Asserted That Netherlands Government Had Entered Into Confidential Relations With Boer Leaders.

London, Jan. 17.—A strong belief prevailed in financial circles here late yesterday that negotiations for peace had been re-opened between the leading Boers and the British government.

Nothing definite can be ascertained with regard to the alleged peace movement.

The Vienna papers declare that the government of the Netherlands has entered into confidential negotiations with the Boer leaders with the view of bringing the war to an end.

Dispatches from Brussels assert that Dr. Leyds, the European representative of the Transvaal, still opposes any negotiations, but that other Boer leaders have been conferring among themselves and with Dr. Kuyper, the Dutch premier, with a view of arranging negotiations. None of these stories have a very solid basis.

In the budget committee of the chamber Thursday several members complained that the government had taken no steps to intervene in South Africa.

In the House of Lords, yesterday, replying to the premier, Lord Rosebery said he favored a passive policy of peace, which would receive overtures when made, and that in this connection he wished to know the truth of the rumors concerning the visit to London of Dr. Kuyper, the premier of Holland. Had Dr. Kuyper brought overtures? he asked.

"Not so far as I know," answered Lord Salisbury.

"Have any overtures been received from the Boer leaders in Europe?" asked Lord Rosebery. To this question Lord Salisbury answered, "No."

KING OPENED PARLIAMENT.

In His Speech He Referred to the South African War.

London, Jan. 17.—King Edward opened Parliament yesterday with a ceremonial in all essential respects similar to that of February last. The procession to the House of Lords was of the same character as that witnessed on the occasion of the opening of the first Parliament of King Edward's reign, while within the upper house were seen the same state pageantry, the same historic dresses and the same revival of ancient forms.

After robing, King Edward and Queen Alexandra entered the House of Peers and occupied their thrones, beneath a canopy, with the Prince and Princess of Wales on either side of them. The other members of the royal family were seated on chairs at the foot of the steps leading to the throne.

The gentleman usher of the Black Rod, General Sir Michael Biddulph, having summoned the speaker and the members of the House of Commons, His Majesty read the speech from the throne.

The speech was not an important utterance. His Majesty referred in terms of gratification to the world tour of the Prince and Princess of Wales, expressed regret at the fact that the war in South Africa was not concluded, said he trusted the decision of the sugar conference would lead to the abandonment of bounties, and noted the conclusion of the Isthmian canal treaty.

PROPOSED NEW DEPARTMENT.

Discussion in Senate Showed Desire to Amend Measure.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The Senate yesterday for a brief time had under consideration the bill creating a department of commerce, and the discussion tended to show that the measure will have to be amended in many particulars before it can receive the approval of the Senate. Serious objections were raised to the transfer to the proposed department of several important bureaus now a part of other departments of the government. It was pointed out that if the bill as reported became a law it would create the greatest department of the government, and that the Secretary of Commerce would have more power even than the Secretary of the Treasury. Notice of several important amendments was given.

A large number of uncontested bills and private pension measures were passed, after which the Senate adjourned until Monday.

MUST GIVE SCHLEY CREDIT.

Baltimore County Taxpayers Act as To School Text-Books.

Baltimore, Jan. 17.—The Baltimore County Taxpayers' convention has placed a ban upon any text-book which does not give Rear Admiral W. S. Schley credit for the naval victory at Santiago.

A resolution was unanimously passed calling upon the Baltimore county delegation in the Legislature to have a law enacted which will prohibit the use of such text-books in the public schools of the county.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Ex-Postmaster General Smith yesterday called at the White House to take leave of President Roosevelt. He left yesterday afternoon for Philadelphia, where he will immediately resume editorial control of the Philadelphia Press.

Ten Resolutions For the New Year

By Rev. Dr. LOUIS ALBERT BANKS of New York

FIRST.—I WILL NOT PERMIT MYSELF, IF POSSIBLE, TO SPEAK WHILE ANGRY. If I must speak before I can control my anger, I will force myself to speak in a low tone of voice, and I will not make a bitter retort to another person who speaks to me in anger.

SECOND.—I WILL NEITHER GOSSIP ABOUT THE FAILINGS OF ANOTHER NOR WILL I PERMIT ANY OTHER PERSON TO SPEAK SUCH GOSSIP TO ME. Gossip will die, with all its hateful, deadly train of slander and broken hearts and blighted lives, when it cannot find a listener.

Third.—I will respect weakness and defer to it on the street car, on the elevated train, in the store and in the home, whether it be in man or woman.

Fourth.—I will always express gratitude for any favor or service rendered to me on the spot and at once. If prevented from doing it, then I will seek an early opportunity to give utterance to it in the most gracious way within my power.

Fifth.—I will not fail to express sympathy with another's sorrow or to give hearty utterance to my appreciation of good work by another, whether the party be friendly to me or not.

ONE BUTTONHOLE BOUQUET OFFERED AMID LIFE'S STRESS OF TRIAL IS WORTH A THOUSAND WREATHS OF ROSES LAID ON A MAN'S COFFIN WHO DIED DISCOURAGED AND BROKEN HEARTED.

Sixth.—I will not talk about my personal ailments. If my shoulder is rheumatic or I have the gout in my big toe or my knee joint is stiff, it will be one of the subjects on which I am silent and not open to interview.

Seventh.—I will look on the bright side of the circumstances of my daily life and will seek to carry a cheerful face and speak cheerfully and hopefully to all whom I meet.

Eighth.—I will neither eat nor drink what I know will detract from my ability to do my best work and be of the most service to myself or others.

Ninth.—I will speak and act truthfully, living with sincerity toward God and man.

TENTH.—I WILL STRIVE TO BE ALWAYS READY FOR THE VERY BEST THAT CAN HAPPEN TO ME. I WILL SEEK TO BE READY TO SEIZE THE HIGHEST OPPORTUNITY, TO DO THE NOBLEST WORK, TO RISE TO THE LOFTIEST PLACE WHICH GOD AND MY ABILITIES PERMIT.

A TRAIN WAS HELD UP.

Robbers Escaped and Officials State That a Package Containing Three Dollars Their Loss.

Ft. Smith, Ark., Jan. 17.—The southbound Kansas City Southern passenger train was held up Wednesday night at 11 o'clock a mile north of Spiro, I. T., by seven masked men. The express and mail car were entered. The local safe in the express car was opened, but nothing secured from it. The robbers tried to open the through safe but failed. Then they rifled the mail car and it is said secured a quantity of registered mail.

The scene of the robbery is 15 miles from Ft. Smith. A report yesterday from there says that United States marshals are scouting the country in search of the robbers. Three suspects, miners, have been arrested and taken to Poteau, I. T.

Postoffice officials here deny that any registered mail was taken, and the express officials say that one package containing $3 covers the loss.

He Apologized.

International courtesies are to be observed even in disreputable professions. Josiah Flynt, who has shared the company of tramps in order to procure data as to their methods of living, relates an instance of true politeness from one of that unsavory brotherhood. He says in "Tramping With Tramps:"

"In Glasgow a fellow vagabond did me a good turn. We were walking along the street, when three town tramps came along and 'guyed' my hat. My companion noticed it, and I told him I had suffered in that way before. Then he turned sharply about on the scoffers and thundered out:

"'Who're you lookin at? Ef you're tryin to guy this Yank, you'd better stop! Ef you don't, there'll be a fight!'

"'Let's run,' said I, 'if you really mean that.'

"'Not much! I'm English, you know, and I can knock out any Scotchman that comes round. I'm in the mood for it right now.'

"The town vagabonds took him at his word and left. Then I said to him, 'You English fellows seem to have things pretty much your own way here.'

"'Yes,' said he; 'we English fellers know how to bluff. We've been bluffin the world now for a good many years.'

"'You forget the United States!' I could not help interjecting.

"'Beg pardon, Yank,' said he. 'Beg pardon!'"

Deceitful Man.

Two men were standing together in a postoffice. One of them happened to notice that a postcard held in the fingers of the other was addressed to the holder.

"Why, what does this mean?" he asked. "Do you address letters to yourself?"

"In this case, yes," was the answer.

"That's funny."

"Well, not so very. See the other side."

He held it up, and the other side read: "Brother Blank—There will be a meeting of the I. O. O. S. B., No. 387, at the hall tonight to transact special business. Members not present will be fined $10. J. B., secretary."

"Yes, but I don't exactly catch on," protested the innocent.

"Oh, you don't? Well, I got the cards printed myself. The society is all a myth. When I want to go out of an evening, I direct one of these cards to my house. That's all, my friend, except that the scheme is worked by hundreds of others, and the poor, deluded wives haven't tumbled to it yet."

NEGOTIATING PEACE?

Belief Prevailed In London Financial Circles Boers and British Were Conferring.

Vienna Papers Asserted That Netherlands Government Had Entered Into Confidential Relations With Boer Leaders.

London, Jan. 17.—A strong belief prevailed in financial circles here late yesterday that negotiations for peace had been re-opened between the leading Boers and the British government.

Nothing definite can be ascertained with regard to the alleged peace movement.

The Vienna papers declare that the government of the Netherlands has entered into confidential negotiations with the Boer leaders with the view of bringing the war to an end.

Dispatches from Brussels assert that Dr. Leyds, the European representative of the Transvaal, still opposes any negotiations, but that other Boer leaders have been conferring among themselves and with Dr. Kuyper, the Dutch premier, with a view of arranging negotiations. None of these stories have a very solid basis.

In the budget committee of the chamber Thursday several members complained that the government had taken no steps to intervene in South Africa.

In the House of Lords, yesterday, replying to the premier, Lord Rosebery said he favored a passive policy of peace, which would receive overtures when made, and that in this connection he wished to know the truth of the rumors concerning the visit to London of Dr. Kuyper, the premier of Holland. Had Dr. Kuyper brought overtures? he asked.

"Not so far as I know," answered Lord Salisbury.

"Have any overtures been received from the Boer leaders in Europe?" asked Lord Rosebery. To this question Lord Salisbury answered, "No."

In His Speech He Referred to the South African War.

London, Jan. 17.—King Edward opened Parliament yesterday with a ceremonial in all essential respects similar to that of February last. The procession to the House of Lords was of the same character as that witnessed on the occasion of the opening of the first Parliament of King Edward's reign, while within the upper house were seen the same state pageantry, the same historic dresses and the same revival of ancient forms.

After robing, King Edward and Queen Alexandra entered the House of Peers and occupied their thrones, beneath a canopy, with the Prince and Princess of Wales on either side of them. The other members of the royal family were seated on chairs at the foot of the steps leading to the throne.

The gentleman usher of the Black Rod, General Sir Michael Biddulph, having summoned the speaker and the members of the House of Commons, His Majesty read the speech from the throne.

The speech was not an important utterance. His Majesty referred in terms of gratification to the world tour of the Prince and Princess of Wales, expressed regret at the fact that the war in South Africa was not concluded, said he trusted the decision of the sugar conference would lead to the abandonment of bounties, and noted the conclusion of the Isthmian canal treaty.

PROPOSED NEW DEPARTMENT.

Discussion In Senate Showed Desire to Amend Measure.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The Senate yesterday for a brief time had under consideration the bill creating a department of commerce, and the discussion tended to show that the measure will have to be amended in many particulars before it can receive the approval of the Senate. Serious objections were raised to the transfer to the proposed department of several important bureaus now a part of other departments of the government. It was pointed out that if the bill as reported became a law it would create the greatest department of the government, and that the Secretary of Commerce would have more power even than the Secretary of the Treasury. Notice of several important amendments was given.

MUST GIVE SCHLEY CREDIT.

Baltimore County Taxpayers Act as To School Text-Books.

Baltimore, Jan. 17.—The Baltimore County Taxpayers' convention has placed a ban upon any text-book which does not give Rear Admiral W. S. Schley credit for the naval victory at Santiago.

A resolution was unanimously passed calling upon the Baltimore county delegation in the Legislature to have a law enacted which will prohibit the use of such text-books in the public schools of the county.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Ex-Postmaster General Smith yesterday called at the White House to take leave of President Roosevelt. He left yesterday afternoon for Philadelphia, where he will immediately resume editorial control of the Philadelphia Press.

FIRST.—I WILL NOT PERMIT MYSELF, IF POSSIBLE, TO SPEAK WHILE ANGRY. If I must speak before I can control my anger, I will force myself to speak in a low tone of voice, and I will not make a bitter retort to another person who speaks to me in anger.

SECOND.—I WILL NEITHER GOSSIP ABOUT THE FAILINGS OF ANOTHER NOR WILL I PERMIT ANY OTHER PERSON TO SPEAK SUCH GOSSIP TO ME. Gossip will die, with all its hateful, deadly train of slander and broken hearts and blighted lives, when it cannot find a listener.

Third.—I will respect weakness and defer to it on the street car, on the elevated train, in the store and in the home, whether it be in man or woman.

Fourth.—I will always express gratitude for any favor or service rendered to me on the spot and at once. If prevented from doing it, then I will seek an early opportunity to give utterance to it in the most gracious way within my power.

Fifth.—I will not fail to express sympathy with another's sorrow or to give hearty utterance to my appreciation of good work by another, whether the party be friendly to me or not.

ONE BUTTONHOLE BOUQUET OFFERED AMID LIFE'S STRESS OF TRIAL IS WORTH A THOUSAND WREATHS OF ROSES LAID ON A MAN'S COFFIN WHO DIED DISCOURAGED AND BROKEN HEARTED.

Sixth.—I will not talk about my personal ailments. If my shoulder is rheumatic or I have the gout in my big toe or my knee joint is stiff, it will be one of the subjects on which I am silent and not open to interview.

Seventh.—I will look on the bright side of the circumstances of my daily life and will seek to carry a cheerful face and speak cheerfully and hopefully to all whom I meet.

Eighth.—I will neither eat nor drink what I know will detract from my ability to do my best work and be of the most service to myself or others.

Ninth.—I will speak and act truthfully, living with sincerity toward God and man.

TENTH.—I WILL STRIVE TO BE ALWAYS READY FOR THE VERY BEST THAT CAN HAPPEN TO ME. I WILL SEEK TO BE READY TO SEIZE THE HIGHEST OPPORTUNITY, TO DO THE NOBLEST WORK, TO RISE TO THE LOFTIEST PLACE WHICH GOD AND MY ABILITIES PERMIT.

Robbers Escaped and Officials State That a Package Containing Three Dollars Their Loss.

Ft. Smith, Ark., Jan. 17.—The southbound Kansas City Southern passenger train was held up Wednesday night at 11 o'clock a mile north of Spiro, I. T., by seven masked men. The express and mail car were entered. The local safe in the express car was opened, but nothing secured from it. The robbers tried to open the through safe but failed. Then they rifled the mail car and it is said secured a quantity of registered mail.

The scene of the robbery is 15 miles from Ft. Smith. A report yesterday from there says that United States marshals are scouting the country in search of the robbers. Three suspects, miners, have been arrested and taken to Poteau, I. T.

Postoffice officials here deny that any registered mail was taken, and the express officials say that one package containing $3 covers the loss.

He Apologized.

International courtesies are to be observed even in disreputable professions. Josiah Flynt, who has shared the company of tramps in order to procure data as to their methods of living, relates an instance of true politeness from one of that unsavory brotherhood. He says in "Tramping With Tramps:"

"In Glasgow a fellow vagabond did me a good turn. We were walking along the street, when three town tramps came along and 'guyed' my hat. My companion noticed it, and I told him I had suffered in that way before. Then he turned sharply about on the scoffers and thundered out:

"'Who're you lookin at? Ef you're tryin to guy this Yank, you'd better stop! Ef you don't, there'll be a fight!'

"'Let's run,' said I, 'if you really mean that.'

"'Not much! I'm English, you know, and I can knock out any Scotchman that comes round. I'm in the mood for it right now.'

"The town vagabonds took him at his word and left. Then I said to him, 'You English fellows seem to have things pretty much your own way here.'

"'Yes,' said he; 'we English fellers know how to bluff. We've been bluffin the world now for a good many years.'

"'You forget the United States!' I could not help interjecting.

"'Beg pardon, Yank,' said he. 'Beg pardon!'"

Deceitful Man.

Two men were standing together in a postoffice. One of them happened to notice that a postcard held in the fingers of the other was addressed to the holder.

"Why, what does this mean?" he asked. "Do you address letters to yourself?"

"In this case, yes," was the answer.

"That's funny."

"Well, not so very. See the other side."

He held it up, and the other side read: "Brother Blank—There will be a meeting of the I. O. O. S. B., No. 387, at the hall tonight to transact special business. Members not present will be fined $10. J. B., secretary."

"Yes, but I don't exactly catch on," protested the innocent.

"Oh, you don't? Well, I got the cards printed myself. The society is all a myth. When I want to go out of an evening, I direct one of these cards to my house. I reach home, and my wife hands it to me with a sigh. I offer to stay home and stand the fine of 2 guineas, but of course she won't allow that. That's all, my friend, except that the scheme is worked by hundreds of others, and the poor, deluded wives haven't tumbled to it yet."

BATTLE IN A MINE

Thieves and Officers In a Desperate Contest 400 Feet Underground.

SCORES OF SHOTS FIRED

Thieves Were Finally Victorious And Forced the Company's Men to Retreat—Men Alleged to Have Stolen Thousands Every Month.

Victor, Col., Jan. 17.—A desperate battle 400 under ground between ore thieves and officers and trusted employes occurred in the Independence mine on Battle mountain yesterday. Between 50 and 75 shots were exchanged between the opposing parties. Lee Glockner, a member of the company's force, was shot twice, but not seriously injured.

The fight was most determined, but the thieves finally gained the upper hand and forced the company's men to retreat toward the big shaft, giving the thieves an opportunity to escape.

The management of Stratton's Independence company of London, England, which owns the Independence mine, has been aware for a long time that rich deposits of sylvanite in the mine were being systematically robbed, the stealings amounting to thousands of dollars a month. Detectives were employed, and it is said the thieves were detected in the act of looting a rich seam of ore. They escaped through the underground workings connected with an adjoining property.

DECLARED SUPERIOR KNEW IT.

Rathbone Said He Used Government Money to Furnish Official Residence—Others Did Also.

Havana, Jan. 17.—At the trial of the charges growing out of the Cuban postoffice frauds, yesterday, the examination of Estes G. Rathbone, ex-director general of posts of Cuba, was concluded. Counsel for W. H. Reeves, ex-deputy auditor for Cuba, requested the privilege of cross-examining Rathbone, which was accorded. The cross-examination will begin to-day.

During yesterday's hearing Rathbone was questioned further relative to the furnishing of his residence in El Cerro, Havana, from the postal funds. He said he could not have been expected to furnish his official residence from private funds; that he had not known how long he was going to remain in Cuba, and that Gen. John Brooke, ex-military governor of Cuba, and Gen. William Ludlow, ex-military governor of the city of Havana, had furnished their official residences from government funds.

Rathbone said his superiors knew of his expenditures in this respect, and had not made any objection thereto, and that these bills were only for moneys spent for housefurnishing, and not on his private account. The examination of a bill from a New York department store showed that fifty pairs of hose which it was alleged Rathbone bought for his private use, read fifty feet of hose.

NAVAL RECEPTION TO HENRY.

Vessels Assigned to Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, who has been charged with the preparation and execution of the naval program at the reception of Prince Henry, called upon Dr. Von Holleben, the German ambassador, at the embassy yesterday, and consulted him regarding the arrangements for the naval welcome to be accorded the distinguished visitor. Admiral Evans will keep in close touch with the ambassador and the embassy in order that he may conform his own arrangements to those of the visiting party.

It may be said on authority that the Kronprinz Wilhelm will not deviate from her course and go first to Hampton Roads, as heretofore reported, but will bear Prince Henry direct to New York, where the naval demonstration proper will take place.

The following squadron has been assigned to Rear Admiral Evans by the navy department to welcome the Prince: Flagship, the battleship Illinois, protected cruisers Olympia, San Francisco and Cincinnati and the cruiser Hartford.

KAISER WILL SEND ALICE ROOSEVELT PRESENT

New York, Jan. 17.—Prince Henry of Prussia will bring from Germany a handsome present for Miss Alice Roosevelt from the Emperor in recognition and as a souvenir of her part in the launching of the new royal yacht. Announcement of this fact was made yesterday in a dispatch to the Staats Zeitung from Berlin. The cablegram also said that Prince Henry had been directed to arrange for aquatic sports between German and American tars in the foreign ports where they meet. The German government has accepted Mayor Low's offer of the use of West Thirty-fourth street pier for the imperial yacht Honenzollern during the visit to the city of Prince Henry. The acceptance is accompanied by an expression of thanks in the name of Prince Henry.

PRINCE TO BE ENTERTAINED AT GERMAN EMBASSY.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Ambassador Von Holleben, who was at the State department yesterday in conference with Secretary Hay, has given notice that he will entertain Prince Henry and suite at the German embassy here. Dr. Hill, the first assistant secretary of state, who by reason of an extended residence in Germany is perfectly conversant with the German language, may be charged to represent the Department of State in the ceremonies connected with the reception of the Prince.

COMPLAINED OF TUNNEL.

Superintendent Admitted Railroad Employes Did So.

New York, Jan. 17.—The coroner's inquest to determine the responsibility for the death of seventeen persons in the New York Central tunnel last week was begun yesterday. The proceedings were in part:

Policeman Patrick H. Fox said he asked Wisker, engineer of the White Plains train what had caused the accident, and Wisker replied: "There was a train passing and the smoke and steam shut off the signals."

Joseph H. Franklin, manager of the Grand Central depot, was on the stand. The district attorney questioned him. His testimony was in part: He admitted that he had received many complaints from trainmencvc garding the signal lights in the tunnel. These men had called his attention to the fact that on foggy days the lights could be seen only a very short distance.

Mr. Franklin said he was under the orders of President Newman, of the New York Central, and President Hall, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford road. He said he had spoken to them about the tunnel lights when they had taken him to task about trains being late. Nothing, in particular, he said, had been done about the complaints of the engineers concerning the lights.

Answering Mr. Jerome, Manager Franklin admitted that the murky morning on which the disaster occurred, was the first time Engineer Wisker had taken a passenger train through the tunnel.

POSTMASTERS CONFIRMED.

Those From Pennsylvania and Ohio Passed Upon By the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The Senate yesterday confirmed a number of nominations. Among the postmasters connrmed were these:

Pennsylvania—W. T. Geddes, Windber; J. W. Hall, Cresson; C. W. Zook, Roaring Springs; J. S. Paul, South Fork; J. C. Chamberlain, Everett.

Ohio—B. F. Trescott, Alliance; M. J. Lockwood, Bedford; E. F. Ellis, Belle Center; J. C. Glover, Cadiz; J. R. Barr, Cambridge; W. G. Myers, Canal Fulton; C. Burroughs, Collinwood; E. I. Snyder, Columbiana; C. F. Bonham, Harrison; G. R. Vincent, Hiram; W. H. Antrim, Lebanon; H. D. Weaver, Leetonia; P. S. Lybarger, Shelby; W. C. Hoover, Winton Place; A. P. Hegner, Wyoming; H. M. Nixon, Salineville; I. H. Griswold, Elyria; W. D. Powley, Monroeville; E. P. Webster, Gambier; G. E. Canning, Mount Vernon; A. B. Pond, New Loudon; T. D. Shepherd, Norwalk; J. W. Steel, Oberlin.

REPORTS OF DISSENSIONS GREATLY EXAGGERATED.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Ex-Senator Henry B. Davis, chairman of the United States delegation to the Pan-American congress, has just returned from the City of Mexico and called upon President Roosevelt yesterday. Mr. Davis said that the reports of dissensions in the congress had been exaggerated. The influence of the American delegates in the congress was large and he looked for benefits to our commerce with South American countries to result from the congress.

To Swallow His Own Advice.

"I had a horrible dream last night," said Huddleston when he came down to breakfast the other morning.

"What was it?" asked his wife.

"I dreamed that I was in purgatory and was made to do all the things I had told my friends I would do if I were in their places."—Brooklyn Life.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. BATTLE IN A MINE

Thieves and Officers In a Desperate Contest 400 Feet Under Ground.

SCORES OF SHOTS FIRED

Thieves Were Finally Victorious And Forced the Company's Men to Retreat—Men Alleged to Have Stolen Thousands Every Month.

Victor, Col., Jan. 17.—A desperate battle 400 under ground between ore thieves and officers and trusted employes occurred in the Independence mine on Battle mountain yesterday. Between 50 and 75 shots were exchanged between the opposing parties. Lee Glockner, a member of the company's force, was shot twice, but not seriously injured.

The fight was most determined, but the thieves finally gained the upper hand and forced the company's men to retreat toward the big shaft, giving the thieves an opportunity to escape.

The management of Stratton's Independence company of London, England, which owns the Independence mine, has been aware for a long time that rich deposits of sylvanite in the mine were being systematically robbed, the stealings amounting to thousands of dollars a month. Detectives were employed, and it is said the thieves were detected in the act of looting a rich seam of ore. They escaped through the underground workings connected with an adjoining property.

DECLARED SUPERIOR KNEW IT.

Rathbone Said He Used Government Money to Furnish Official Residence—Others Did Also.

Havana, Jan. 17.—At the trial of the charges growing out of the Cuban postoffice frauds, yesterday, the examination of Estes G. Rathbone, ex-director general of posts of Cuba, was concluded. Counsel for W. H. Reeves, ex-deputy auditor for Cuba, requested the privilege of cross-examining Rathbone, which was accorded. The cross-examination will begin to-day.

During yesterday's hearing Rathbone was questioned further relative to the furnishing of his residence in El Cerro, Havana, from the postal funds. He said he could not have been expected to furnish his official residence from private funds; that he had not known how long he was going to remain in Cuba, and that Gen. John Brooke, ex-military governor of Cuba, and Gen. William Ludlow, ex-military governor of the city of Havana, had furnished their official residences from government funds.

Rathbone said his superiors knew of his expenditures in this respect, and had not made any objection thereto, and that these bills were only for moneys spent for housefurnishing, and not on his private account. The examination of a bill from a New York department store showed that fifty pairs of hose which it was alleged Rathbone bought for his private use, read fifty feet of hose.

NAVAL RECEPTION TO HENRY.

Vessels Assigned to Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, who has been charged with the preparation and execution of the naval program at the reception of Prince Henry, called upon Dr. Von Holleben, the German ambassador, at the embassy yesterday, and consulted him regarding the arrangements for the naval welcome to be accorded the distinguished visitor. Admiral Evans will keep in close touch with the ambassador and the embassy in order that he may conform his own arrangements to those of the visiting party.

It may be said on authority that the Kronprinz Wilhelm will not deviate from her course and go first to Hampton Roads, as heretofore reported, but will bear Prince Henry direct to New York, where the naval demonstration proper will take place.

The following squadron has been assigned to Rear Admiral Evans by the navy department to welcome the Prince: Flagship, the battleship Illinois, protected cruisers Olympia, San Francisco and Cincinnati and the cruiser Hartford.

KAISER WILL SEND ALICE ROOSEVELT PRESENT

New York, Jan. 17.—Prince Henry of Prussia will bring from Germany a handsome present for Miss Alice Roosevelt from the Emperor in recognition and as a souvenir of her part in the launching of the new royal yacht. Announcement of this fact was made yesterday in a dispatch to the Staats Zeitung from Berlin. The cablegram also said that Prince Henry had been directed to arrange for aquatic sports between German and American tars in the foreign ports where they meet. The German government has accepted Mayor Low's offer of the use of West Thirty-fourth street pier for the imperial yacht Honenzollern during the visit to the city of Prince Henry. The acceptance is accompanied by an expression of thanks in the name of Prince Henry.

PRINCE TO BE ENTERTAINED AT GERMAN EMBASSY.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Ambassador Von Holleben, who was at the State department yesterday in conference with Secretary Hay, has given notice that he will entertain Prince Henry and suite at the German embassy here. Dr. Hill, the first assistant secretary of state, who by reason of an extended residence in Germany is perfectly conversant with the German language, may be charged to represent the Department of State in the ceremonies connected with the reception of the Prince.

COMPLAINED OF TUNNEL.

Superintendent Admitted Railroad Employes Did So.

New York, Jan. 17.—The coroner's inquest to determine the responsibility for the death of seventeen persons in the New York Central tunnel last week was begun yesterday. The proceedings were in part:

Policeman Patrick H. Fox said he asked Wisker, engineer of the White Plains train what had caused the accident, and Wisker replied: "There was a train passing and the smoke and steam shut off the signals."

Joseph H. Franklin, manager of the Grand Central depot, was on the stand. The district attorney questioned him. His testimony was in part: He admitted that he had received many complaints from trainmencvc garding the signal lights in the tunnel. These men had called his attention to the fact that on foggy days the lights could be seen only a very short distance.

Mr. Franklin said he was under the orders of President Newman, of the New York Central, and President Hall, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford road. He said he had spoken to them about the tunnel lights when they had taken him to task about trains being late. Nothing, in particular, he said, had been done about the complaints of the engineers concerning the lights.

Answering Mr. Jerome, Manager Franklin admitted that the murky morning on which the disaster occurred, was the first time Engineer Wisker had taken a passenger train through the tunnel.

POSTMASTERS CONFIRMED.

Those From Pennsylvania and Ohio Passed Upon By the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The Senate yesterday confirmed a number of nominations. Among the postmasters confirmed were these:

Pennsylvania—W. T. Geddes, Windber; J. W. Hall, Cresson; C. W. Zook, Roaring Springs; J. S. Paul, South Fork; J. C. Chamberlain, Everett.

REPORTS OF DISSENSIONS GREATLY EXAGGERATED.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Ex-Senator Henry B. Davis, chairman of the United States delegation to the Pan-American congress, has just returned from the City of Mexico and called upon President Roosevelt yesterday. Mr. Davis said that the reports of dissensions in the congress had been exaggerated. The influence of the American delegates in the congress was large and he looked for benefits to our commerce with South American countries to result from the congress.

To Swallow His Own Advice.

"I had a horrible dream last night," said Huddleston when he came down to breakfast the other morning.

"What was it?" asked his wife.

"I dreamed that I was in purgatory and was made to do all the things I had told my friends I would do if I were in their places."—Brooklyn Life.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other locaiities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. Animals in the United States.

The department of agriculture has recently published an estimate of the animal population of the country. It comprises 13,537,524 horses, about 2,000,000 mules, about 28,000,000 cattle, 16,292,360 milk cows and 81,883,065 sheep. Second Part. EVENING NEWS REVIEW. Pages 9 to 12.

19TH YEAR. NO. 14. EAST LIVERPOOL, FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1902. TWO CENTS.

MERIT COUNTS MOST

In every position in life and in every kind of business. Merit in every newspaper is quickly recognized by the public.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW is extending its business every day at a rate unprecedented in the history of East Liverpool journalism.

How Does it Do It?

Finds It Indispensable.

Thousands of new readers gained in the past few months are pretty good evidence of public recognition and public appreciation. Its value as the best advertising medium in East Liverpool is attested by hundreds of business men. Of this fact there is Plenty of Evidence.

For instance, during the month of December there were printed in the Classified Advertisement Column of this paper, 432 Want Ads.

A larger number than ever appeared in a like period in any news paper published in Columbiana County. This department of its business is growing at a marvelous rate.

People Who Advertise

And find that advertising brings the desired result return again and again. That is why, wants, for sales, for rents and similar notices are always numerous in the News Review. They cost but little and they Bring Quick Returns.

INDIANS ON RAMPAGE

JUDGE TIED UP THEIR MONEY.

Ordered $38,000, Which Was to Be Paid Them for Selling Chicago Lake Front Land, to Be Turned Over Only to Guardians.

Dowagiac, Mich., Jan. 17.—Three hundred Pottawattamie Indians were on a rampage last night and were besieging Lee Brothers' bank, which they threatened to break open if they were not paid the money they expected to receive yesterday, for signing over their claims to lake front land in Chicago.

Many of the Indians were armed. The town marshal swore in a number of deputies. All other citizens were keeping in doors, fearing to leave their houses.

The Indians came to town yesterday to get $38,000, which was to be paid them by an agent of the Chicago syndicate to which they signed over their power of attorney to act in the lake front land case. The Indians were to have received $100 each. Just as the agent was about to issue the money an order was received from the probate judge of the county instructing him to make payment only to the guardians of the Indians. The judge feared the Indians would spend the money in saloons, and after becoming intoxicated cause trouble.

Every one was hoping that the Indians would grow quieter as the night wore on. If any attempt should be made to wreck the bank a serious conflict was expected to follow.

FIVE INDIANS WERE KILLED.

Some Details of Recent Trouble in Montana—Agent Wants Troops Increased Permanently.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Five Indians were killed during the recent trouble at the Tongue river agency in Montana, according to the official report received by Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones yesterday from Agent Clifford. The agent recommended that fifty men from the United States army under command of a commissioned officer be stationed permanently at Camp Merritt, near the agency. Now there are only eleven men under command of a sergeant at Camp Merritt.

The report shows that the recent trouble began on the 4th inst., when two Indian police reported that an Indian named White, the center figure in the affair, had fresh beef in his cabin, coincident with the unlawful killing and mutilation of several head of cattle east of Tongue river. White refused three times to surrender and wanted to fight. Then Private White Shield and six other policemen went for White, finding him on a hill near his cabin. They had instructions to avoid trouble if possible, as White was a desperate character, and a leader in the Messiah troubles. Little Bear, another Indian, made an inflammatory speech, and White's wife and daughter gave a war cry and tried to stab White Shield. White shot and killed an Indian policeman named Bullard and killed one horse and wounded another horse.

The police were repulsed and were returning home when they were again fired upon. They did not shoot. White threatened to raid the agency and the entire police force was held in reserve for some time. On the 8th inst. White and his wife, son and daughter were found dead. It was believed that the son opposed his father's surrendering himself, and killed the father and the others of the family and then committed suicide.

Black Crane and about 25 other Indians also threatened trouble, and the troops were called out, but there were no further developments.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio—Fair to-day; to-morrow fair and warmer; fresh northeasterly winds, becoming variable.

Western Pennsylvania—Generally fair to-day and to-morrow; probably warmer to-morrow; fresh northeasterly winds, shifting southerly by to-morrow.

West Virginia—Partly cloudy to-day, with snow in the mountain districts; to-morrow fair, warmer in western portion; westerly winds.

One Thing Needful.

Irate Father (of pretty girl)—What! Is it possible you are here again after the treatment you received last night!

Young Man—Yes, sir. When you kicked me down stairs and set the dog on me, the animal tore a large piece from my trousers.

Irate Father—Well, isn't that enough? What more do you want?

Young Man—If it isn't too much trouble, sir, I would like that piece of cloth.—Chicago News.

Possible Explanation of It.

"I wonder what's the matter with Willie Jenkins? He's been getting into all sorts of mischief of late, especially Thursday afternoons."

"Oh, that's easily explained. That's the afternoon Mrs. Jenkins goes to a mothers' meeting to discuss the proper method of child education and discipline."—Chicago Post.

LUKBAN CAN SURRENDER.

Provided He Is Not To Take Oath of Allegiance.

Manila, Jan. 17.—Gen. Chaffee will leave Manila for the island of Samar next Saturday. He will thoroughly investigate the situation there as it is desired to stamp out the Samar insurrection during the dry season.

A captured communication from the Filipino insurgent junta at Hong Kong addressed to Gen. Lukban (the insurgent leader on Samar island), authorizes Lukban to surrender if he wishes to do so, but does not advocate this action. If Lukban surrenders, the letter goes on to say, he need not deliver a single Filipino soldier or officer to the Americans, nor must he (Lukban) or any other officer be forced to accept civil appointment. They may emigrate if allowed to do so, but no Filipino must be obliged to take the oath of allegiance of the United States. Under these terms the Hong Kong junta has no objection to Lukban's surrendering.

Senor Gomez, presidente of the town of Pasig, province of Manila, has been arrested on the charge of appropriating municipal taxes to his personal use.

CHAUTAUQUA REPORT.

Trustees Met—Superintendent Says Future Is Promising.

Buffalo, Jan. 17.—The annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Chautauqua Assembly was held here. The financial report places the total assets at $594,046.02. The total liabilities are $347,646.40, of which $78,100.08 is to the credit of the endowment and various building funds. The surplus is $246,399.62. The receipts for the fiscal year 1900-01 were $102,680.95. The expenditures were $98,902.18, leaving a gain of $3,778.77.

The report of the superintendent of instruction says the future of Chautauqua shows much promise.

SIX MEN WERE HURT.

Explosion Occurred in a Plant at Springfield, O.

Springfield, O., Jan. 17.—There was a terrific explosion in the blacksmith shop of the plant of the Warder, Bushnell & Glessner company. Two hundred men were at work in the department at the time. There was a blinding flash, a dull roar and the great roof fell in. Six men were hurt. They are Harper Waltham, Charles Stephens, William Beatty, Samuel Sami, John Golden and John Smith.

None of the injuries are serious. The cause of the explosion is not known.

HASKINS ELECTED PRESIDENT BY OHIO MINERS.

The Belief In Charms.

A belief in charms has existed in all ages and has been shared by all peoples. It is a natural result of superstition. The phylacteries worn by Mohammedan and Jewish women on the forehead form but one phase of this universal belief. Faith, however, is deemed essential and is true of all talismans that are copied from old patterns and not constructed according to the rules of the cabalistic art.

Talismans to be efficacious must be constructed when the planets are in benefic configuration. It is then that the magic geometrical words and figures inscribed thereon are more potent in their results for good. The date of birth of the person for whom the talisman is made must also be considered, so that his particular lucky star is taken into consideration.

Many great men were believers in talismans and wore them constantly. Napoleon especially was very superstitious and carried on his person a charm given to him by an Egyptian priest, which he regarded as being responsible for his great success in battle. The Rothschild family, it is said, also has a talisman, which is an heirloom. It is in the shape of a snuffbox and is said to have brought the family the great wealth for which it is celebrated.—New York Herald.

DEMOCRATS TO FIGHT

With More Vigor, In Ohio, In The Future Campaigns.

A PERMANENT HEADQUARTERS

To Be Established, in Charge of Salaried Secretary—State Central Committee Members and Others Conferred—Committee Named.

Columbus, O., Jan. 17.—At a conference of the Democratic State Central committee, with prominent leaders of the party held here, it was decided to establish permanent State headquarters at Columbus, in charge of a salaried secretary, and to push the work of the party more vigorously in future campaigns.

The call for the meeting was issued by W. J. Frey, of Findlay, chairman of the State Central committee. In addition to the members of that body there were present Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland; J. L. Zimmerman, of Springfield; Charles W. Baker, of Cincinnati; former Congressman John J. Lentz, and more than a score of other leaders from various sections of the State.

There was a general sentiment that the party ought to get together and organize more vigorous campaigns. Mayor Johnson and former Congressman Lentz favored the immediate adoption of a declaration of principles. The former advocated a declaration for tax reforms and the latter thought three-cent fares on street railways and municipal ownership ought also to be advocated. The consensus of opinion, however, was against any immediate action with reference to party declarations and the matter went over to a subsequent meeting.

A committee on permanent organization was appointed, consisting of Harvey Garber, Columbus; Charles P. Salen, Cleveland; Charles W. Baker, Cincinnati; William Burnett, Springfield, and J. W. Frey, Cleveland. Mr. Garber was elected chairman of the committee, and it was decided to open headquarters in his office in Columbus, at once.

Was In the Business.

It was on a Seventh street car that a well dressed man carried his hand to his jaw now and then and uttered a stifled groan. After a bit a fellow passenger had his curiosity aroused and brusquely queried:

"Toothache?"

"Yes."

"I've been there and know all about it. If she's holler and has the jumps, it ain't no use fooling around. What you want to do is to go to a dentist."

"Um! Jerusha, but how it aches!"

"Go right to the dentist and have it yanked out. Man with the toothache always feels a little scared about having it yanked, but that's all imagination, you know."

"I'd rather be shot!" groaned the sufferer.

"Oh, pshaw! Go to some dentist who gives laughing gas. He'll give you gas and take the tooth out without your knowing it. I pledge you my word that it won't hurt any more than paring off a finger nail."

"Um! What a liar! G'way from me!"

"Why, man, I pledge you my word that you'll never"—

"Don't talk to me! I know all about it! I've been a dentist myself for the last 15 years!"

"Oh, you have!" growled the other as he backed away. "Well, that's different. It will not only seem to you as if your blamed old head was being pulled off your shoulders, but your jaw will ache two weeks after, and I'm durned glad of it too!"—Washington Post.

Sorrows of the Millionaire.

Look at the ways of the millionaire. Given his million, he gives up his house and builds himself a small, first class hotel in some big city, which for the greater part of the year is occupied by servants. He next erects a country palace at Lenox or at Newport. This he calls a cottage, though it usually looks more like a public library or a hospital or a clubhouse.

Then he builds himself a camp, with stained glass windows, in the Adirondacks and has to float a small railroad in order to get himself and his wife's trunks into camp. Shortly after these follows a bungalow modeled after a French chateau, somewhere in the south, and then a yacht warranted to cross the ocean in ten days and to produce seasickness 12 hours sooner than the regular ocean steamer becomes one of the necessities of life.

Result, he never lives anywhere. To occupy all his residences, camps and bungalows he has to keep eternally on the move, and when he thinks he needs a trip to Europe he has his yacht got ready and sends it over, going himself on a fast steamer. Oh, it's a terrible thing to be a millionaire and have nowhere to lay one's head, with every poorer man envying him, many hating him and hands raised against him everywhere!—Woman's Home Companion.

The hardworking laborers and coolies seen everywhere in Japan wear only a narrow loin scarf and straw sandals. In cold and rainy weather they wear a mackintosh of loose straw over their shoulders and a mammoth rude hat.

Thought to Be Diamond Thief.

New Orleans, Jan. 17.—Although Manners, under arrest here, still denies that he is Kern, the New York diamond thief, the belief is growing stronger that he is the right man. A piece of corroborative evidence is his possession of a toilet set marked "M. E. T.," which is supposed to belong to Mr. Thebaud's brother, though Manners says it is his own initials reversed. He has engaged counsel, but no legal steps have yet been taken in his behalf.

Pennsylvania Treasury Receipts.

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.—The report of State Treasurer Barnett for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1901, shows that the total treasury receipts for that period was $17,727,432.46. A portion of this amount will be returned to the counties so that the aggregate receipts retained by the State will not exceed $15,000,000. That part of the report showing the expenditures for the year has not yet been prepared by Col. Barnett.

Coal Miners' Strike Settled.

Columbus, O., Jan. 17.—The coal miners' strike in Columbiana county, involving over 800 men, who have been out for more than eight months, has been settled, and work will be resumed soon. Under the settlement the miners are paid for lineal work, which has heretofore been the bone of contention.

Ten Perished in the Mines.

Negaunee, Mich., Jan. 17.—There were ten men killed by the cave-in a week ago Tuesday instead of nine, as reported at the time. Angelo Carilla, the tenth victim, was not numbered among the missing. He is an Italian, but was not missed until yesterday.

Kate Masterson's First Poem.

Kate Masterson, the poet and humorist, thus describes the beginning of her literary career:

"I was at school in Brooklyn when I first sent a poem to Judge, signing it Kittie K. It was accepted and published with an illustration, and my cup of joy was brimming. When I got a check for $2, I effervesced. I then sent some verses to Puck, which was then edited by H. C. Bunner. They were also signed Kittie K., but were written from a masculine point of view, and, as I wrote a very gentlemanly hand, Bunner evidently came to the conclusion that I was a boy. He sent me some very funny letters, and I replied, keeping up the idea that I was a very fresh, slangy boy. He accepted the verses, 'She Stood on the Stair,' and they were published in a Christmas number with a picture. As this was only the second poem I had sold in my life, you can imagine how wildly anxious I was to have it appear. I bothered Bunner with inquiries, for of course that was the only poem on earth to me just then. I recollect finally writing him, 'Do you think my poem will be published during my lifetime?'

"He wrote me, 'My dear boy, I cannot say if your poem will be published during your lifetime, as I do not know when you are going to die.'"—Saturday Evening Post.

Base Apathy.

"Say, Thompson, did you ever notice that I was brutally indifferent to my children?"

"Certainly not. You're quite the contrary, Holmes."

"Well, do I look like a miscreant who would be only too glad to abandon them to the mercy of strangers?"

"Of course not. Whatever put such an idea into your head?"

"Or have I the reputation of being so selfish that I would not disturb or exert myself in the slightest to secure their safety from the most desperate danger?"

"No, indeed. Who's been accusing you of such things?"

"My wife."

"Your wife? Why?"

"Why, little Johnny got himself lost for a couple of hours the other day, and all I did was to notify the police, hire every private detective in town and rouse all the neighbors to help hunt for him."

"Wasn't that enough?"

"No. She insists that I am a brutal, selfish miscreant and several other things because I refused to do all she wanted me to."

"Why, what more was possible?"

"Make the governor order out the militia to help hunt."—Harper's Bazar.

INDIANS ON RAMPAGE

JUDGE TIED UP THEIR MONEY.

Ordered $38,000, Which Was to Be Paid Them for Selling Chicago Lake Front Land, to Be Turned Over Only to Guardians.

Dowagiac, Mich., Jan. 17.—Three hundred Pottawattamie Indians were on a rampage last night and were besieging Lee Brothers' bank, which they threatened to break open if they were not paid the money they expected to receive yesterday, for signing over their claims to lake front land in Chicago.

Many of the Indians were armed. The town marshal swore in a number of deputies. All other citizens were keeping in doors, fearing to leave their houses.

The Indians came to town yesterday to get $38,000, which was to be paid them by an agent of the Chicago syndicate to which they signed over their power of attorney to act in the lake front land case. The Indians were to have received $100 each. Just as the agent was about to issue the money an order was received from the probate judge of the county instructing him to make payment only to the guardians of the Indians. The judge feared the Indians would spend the money in saloons, and after becoming intoxicated cause trouble.

Every one was hoping that the Indians would grow quieter as the night wore on. If any attempt should be made to wreck the bank a serious conflict was expected to follow.

FIVE INDIANS WERE KILLED.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Five Indians were killed during the recent trouble at the Tongue river agency in Montana, according to the official report received by Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones yesterday from Agent Clifford. The agent recommended that fifty men from the United States army under command of a commissioned officer be stationed permanently at Camp Merritt, near the agency. Now there are only eleven men under command of a sergeant at Camp Merritt.

The report shows that the recent trouble began on the 4th inst., when two Indian police reported that an Indian named White, the center figure in the affair, had fresh beef in his cabin, coincident with the unlawful killing and mutilation of several head of cattle east of Tongue river. White refused three times to surrender and wanted to fight. Then Private White Shield and six other policemen went for White, finding him on a hill near his cabin. They had instructions to avoid trouble if possible, as White was a desperate character, and a leader in the Messiah troubles. Little Bear, another Indian, made an inflammatory speech, and White's wife and daughter gave a war cry and tried to stab White Shield. White shot and killed an Indian policeman named Bullard and killed one horse and wounded another horse.

The police were repulsed and were returning home when they were again fired upon. They did not shoot. White threatened to raid the agency and the entire police force was held in reserve for some time. On the 8th inst. White and his wife, son and daughter were found dead. It was believed that the son opposed his father's surrendering himself, and killed the father and the others of the family and then committed suicide.

Black Crane and about 25 other Indians also threatened trouble, and the troops were called out, but there were no further developments.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio—Fair to-day; to-morrow fair and warmer; fresh northeasterly winds, becoming variable.

Western Pennsylvania—Generally fair to-day and to-morrow; probably warmer to-morrow; fresh northeasterly winds, shifting southerly by to-morrow.

One Thing Needful.

Young Man—If it isn't too much trouble, sir, I would like that piece of cloth.—Chicago News.

Possible Explanation of It.

"I wonder what's the matter with Willie Jenkins? He's been getting into all sorts of mischief of late, especially Thursday afternoons."

LUKBAN CAN SURRENDER.

Provided He Is Not To Take Oath of Allegiance.

Manila, Jan. 17.—Gen. Chaffee will leave Manila for the island of Samar next Saturday. He will thoroughly investigate the situation there as it is desired to stamp out the Samar insurrection during the dry season.

A captured communication from the Filipino insurgent junta at Hong Kong addressed to Gen. Lukban (the insurgent leader on Samar island), authorizes Lukban to surrender if he wishes to do so, but does not advocate this action. If Lukban surrenders, the letter goes on to say, he need not deliver a single Filipino soldier or officer to the Americans, nor must he (Lukban) or any other officer be forced to accept civil appointment. They may emigrate if allowed to do so, but no Filipino must be obliged to take the oath of allegiance of the United States. Under these terms the Hong Kong junta has no objection to Lukban's surrendering.

Trustees Met—Superintendent Says Future Is Promising.

Buffalo, Jan. 17.—The annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Chautauqua Assembly was held here. The financial report places the total assets at $594,046.02. The total liabilities are $347,646.40, of which $78,100.08 is to the credit of the endowment and various building funds. The surplus is $246,399.62. The receipts for the fiscal year 1900-01 were $102,680.95. The expenditures were $98,902.18, leaving a gain of $3,778.77.

The report of the superintendent of instruction says the future of Chautauqua shows much promise.

The Player Folk

At the Criterion theater Mrs. Leslie Carter is the star of David Belasco's new play, "Du Barry." This actress made something of a sensation two seasons ago in New York as Zaza in a play which the dramatic censor should have stopped. There being no such officer, the play ran to abnormal business, and every one who did not see it was sorry. The fact that Mrs. Carter played it so well made it more harmful, and in her new role she is almost another Zaza. I was astonished to see in the house girls in short dresses and young ladies with young gentlemen looking at a play which they could scarcely discuss at the fall of the curtain.

The play of "Du Barry" deals with the life of that notorious woman from the time she is a little milliner in a shop in Paris to her execution on the guillotine during the French revolution. She has meanwhile been the favorite of the king, Louis XV., and, shameless creature though she was, she was almost the queen of France and had the homage of royalty accorded her. Through all this glitter she is not happy because, as she says, the one decent thing in her life is her pure love for Cosse, the son of De Brissac, captain of the king's guards. This young man, after he has asked her to be his wife, casts her off when he finds her living in rooms adjoining a gambling house for royalty, where she has been tempted to go as a decoy for the men. She does no wrong there but yield to her love of flattery, fine clothes and jewels. She longs for her lover's return, and when he does find her he will not believe in her purity and, scorning her, leaves her forever.

Being a creature of impulse and feeling his injustice, Du Barry yields to the entreaties of the king at this moment and is translated to the palace at Versailles, where for a year she reigns supreme. Here she receives the news that Cosse, her lover, has been imprisoned for months by the king, who is madly jealous of La Du Barry.

Following a quarrel with the king on this subject, she locks her door on him, and immediately a wounded man, who is none other than Cosse, staggers into her room. He has escaped, and in his rage and jealousy of the king he has come to kill him, but is wounded in getting into the palace. La Du Barry, loving him, is wild to know what to do, for momentarily she expects the king to return. Cosse is so excited that he will not heed her warning of danger; therefore, in desperation, when she hears the king's knock, she strikes her lover in his wounded breast to deaden his voice by pain. Finding that he has been rendered unconscious, she covers him on the bed, where he has fallen, and throws herself on the other side, having opened the door for the king and his followers. A violent scene of outraged dignity follows, and La Du Barry turns them all from her room. Next day she is forced to reveal the hiding place of her lover, whose life is spared, but she is made to promise in return to make him believe that she betrayed him so that he might live to see her as the plaything of the king. Loving him, she promises this because she knows that otherwise he will be killed. She then keeps her promise, but not as was expected, for, in the presence of the whole court, while horrified at the position in which she finds herself, she denounces the king, exposes his vileness and is turned from court penniless.

Years after, when the revolution is on, La Du Barry is betrayed in her humble home in Paris by her brother-in-law and is condemned to the guillotine. The acme of cruelty is reached when the summons for arrest is sent by the hands of her old lover, now a free man and an officer of the people.

"Du Barry" is full of strong dramatic situations and is superbly mounted, but Mr. Belasco has ignored history and simply made a play with La Du Barry as the central figure. There is enough material for several strong dramas in this one, and almost sufficient time is lost in scene shifting to give another performance. It is too long, and there are many unnecessary people and many anticlimaxes.

In all the anger, sarcastic impudence and unbridled emotion allowable Mrs. Carter is excellent. These points are her forte, but in the tenderness, tears and gentle refinement of suffering she is not satisfactory. There was only one moment when she made me forget that I was in a theater, and that was at the close of the fourth act, when she denounces the king. For that instant only she was superb.

The lover, as played by Hamilton Revelle, was very good, as was the work of C. A. Stevenson, Henry Weaver, Sr., and H. R. Roberts, respectively, as King Louis XV., the Duc de Brissac and the papal nuncio. Special praise must be given to Claude Gillingwater, whose Denys, perfectly carried out, was as pretty a piece of acting as I have ever seen in a role of the faithful friend and servant sort.

The festive scene in the royal gardens before dawn was a beautiful piece of stage setting.

"The Wilderness," a comedy in three acts by that writer of dainty dramas, H. V. Esmond, was the play selected by Charles Frohman for the inauguration of the thirteenth season of his Empire theater stock company in this city. Accepting the public estimate of the play, it would be exaggeration to assert that it has scored a sensational success. Nevertheless it appears to please in a mild fashion and is at least a gratifying relief from the impossible swashbuckling dramas with which for a couple of seasons we have been almost uninterruptedly afflicted. The language of "The Wilderness" is well chosen and neatly turned, and there is much spontaneous comedy.

To most persons the first and second acts will appear exasperatingly slow; but, even admitting that to be true, it is conceded that the action thereafter is sufficiently rapid to suit the most exacting critic. As this is a fault common to almost every play in which any pretense to characterization is made, it need not be regarded as an irremediable blemish. Another element in favor of the possible ultimate success of "The Wilderness" is the fact that its third and final act is its strongest, and the auditor is sent home with the pleasantest portions of the performance ringing in his ears.

Nothing can be simpler than the story of "The Wilderness." Mabel Vaughan, a flirtatious little goose, has deluded herself into the belief that she is madly in love with a hopeless cad, Jack Kennerley. Still she has an eye to the material side of life and permits herself to be induced by her mother to accept the attentions of Sir Harry Milanor, a baronet of wealth and position. Then she repents and almost asks Kennerley to wed her. That cad, however, has a little sense, and he shows her how impossible is their union when neither has the wherewithal to maintain an establishment in keeping with their position in life. Naturally this does not raise Kennerley in the estimation of Miss Vaughan, and she forthwith proceeds to "set her cap" for Sir Harry Milanor, that gentleman having foolishly permitted himself to fall in love with the little flirt.

When the curtain rises on the third act, we learn that Sir Harry and Mabel have been married seven months, during which time the latter has learned to love her husband. She determines to confess to him her early deception. Just then Kennerley, the cad, returns from the war, a wounded hero. He fondly imagines that Mabel still loves him, and she, having decided upon her course of action, leads him on until he has revealed himself in the most contemptible light. Then she turns upon him and "gives him a piece of her mind," at the same time informing him that she intends to make to her husband a confession of her earlier mistakes. This confession, by the way, is generally looked upon as about the best bit in the play. Indeed, if "The Wilderness" lives it will owe its continued existence largely to this confession and the denunciation immediately preceding it.

The Empire company, as usual, was excellent. Mr. Richman and Margaret Anglin as Sir Harry Milanor and Mabel Vaughan, respectively, doing creditable work.

The United States as a World Power

Again and again it is stated that the United States has now become a world power. So it has. But what is meant by the term "a world power," and how are we to justify our right to that title? Not by the manifestation of military or naval strength. While wars will be, as wars have been, yet the dawn of the twentieth century unveils a greater national glory than can be won on any field of strife.

While the events of the last two or three years have compelled an increase in our military and naval force, while the amount of money which is called for by the secretaries of war and navy seem to many too large and while the roll of the drum and the blare of the bugle are more often heard, YET THE SONS OF THE PILGRIMS WILL NEVER TURN OUR COUNTRY OVER TO THE MAN ON HORSEBACK nor will our dearest laurels be crimsoned with the blood of the dying soldier.

WE SHALL DESERVE TO BE CALLED A WORLD POWER BECAUSE OUR RELATIONS WITH ALL NATIONS WILL BE CARRIED ON UPON THE HIGHEST PRINCIPLES OF TRUTH AND JUSTICE.

Especially must we remember the Golden Rule in our dealings with inferior races and ignorant peoples. We cannot afford to grow rich by wrecking them. A Yankee, with his strong self control, may perhaps wrestle with rum in safety, but woe be to the savage or Filipino who makes a like attempt. His doom is written. It is gratifying to note that legislation is proposed which will stop the sale of narcotics and intoxicants to the peoples of the orient.

Into all the avenues of our official life is entering civil service reform. PROMOTION BY MERIT HAS CEASED TO BE THE JOKE OF THE POLITICIAN AND IS COMING TO BE THE CONTROLLING RULE OF ALL OFFICIAL LIFE not merely in the army and navy (and we have had of late some very positive assurances in respect to them), but in all the departments of official life, national, state and municipal. It is one of the bright assurances of the future that the thought and purpose of the people are turned in this direction, and they will not be thwarted.

THE FU[N I]N BADNESS

Although the a[dmission is free and everybody came [expecting a chromo as a free gift, I [am grateful all the same. Before be[ginning my lectures it is usua[l for me to ta]ke up a collection, and I [have now] [succeed with the task. This collection is [not necessarily an evidence of your g]ood faith in anything particular, b[ut is intended to pay my back rent and laundry bills and assist me to r]each Beaver Dam. It doesn't matter [to the undersigned whether you give cheerfully or grudgingly, so long as you give. A liberal spirit on your part will still further encourage me, but if there is one single knockkneed, slab sided son of a father in this audience who conscientiously feels that I ought to be sat down on, then let him hang on to his nickel. The collection is finished and the proceeds counted. The 250 enlightened and cultivated people before me have chipped in about half a cent apiece, and my labors can be continued in other fields.

NERO, THE WHITEWASHER.

My dear people, I want to say a few words to you this evening about the badness of human nature. It is easy to be bad. There is also a good deal of fun in it. It is the bad man who has a fur lined overcoat in winter, a duck suit in summer and champagne and ice cream in the intervals. As I turn the stereopticon light on the canvas you behold the picture of Nero. Up to the age of 24 he was a good man. While other young men were off to the circus or races he was at home helping his mother cut carpet rags or whitewash the cellar. He retired to his couch at 8 o'clock at night instead of whooping things up at the Tivoli. He rose with the lark, and he rose without a head on him, no swearing, no smoking, no drinking—just goodness. One day, after young Nero had been sawing a cord of hickory wood in two, he sat down to rest his back and figure a bit. The result was that he decided to make a change. He had come to the conclusion that goodness didn't pay. That's where he made a mistake weighing a ton, as all the world knows. History has told you his career. He walked right into the house as a first move and kicked over the churn and upset the flour barrel and then demanded a quarter of his astonished mother and went off on a spree. From that day on he was a cuss on wheels. He painted the old town red every night in the week and got up next day to paint her blue. His mother died of a broken heart, and he sold her flatirons and quilt frames to bet on a chariot race. His father was found dead with tears in his eyes, and young

CAPTAIN KIDD.

Nero sold off the chickens and pigs and the old homestead to back a gladiator. There was no holding him down except when the Roman constables sat on him. He became a sort of holy terror to the whole Roman empire, and when he finally died there was such general satisfaction that the factory whistles tooted and the wages of the hired girls were advanced a dollar a month.

During his career Nero swam in champagne, reveled in quail on toast and wore the best toga in the empire. He had money in every pocket, admirers on every corner, and high rolled to beat the band. And yet what did it all amount to? He died poor and disgraced, and history hasn't got through abusing him yet. He had traded off an orange grove for a cabbage patch. I say to you all, and I say to that squint eyed, lantern jawed man in the third row in particular, that whoever figures that badness is a good investment is going to get left. It is full of champagne and race horses and going a-fishing; but, alas, it is also full of blighted souls.

Let me herewith present you the picture of Captain Kidd, the pirate. He was a man who had honor and fame and the respect of the world within his reach. He had only to keep on being good to arrive at that point where men would doff their hats to him and women fall over each other to get a view of the back of his neck. Then he suddenly changed. He flung his goodness to the winds and went in to be a screaming old pirate. He was a hummer from Hummersville. He knocked seven bells out of everything he came across and had money to bury on every island he came across. He thought he was having a high old time and that it would last to his eighty-fifth year and that he would then give $10,000 to an orphan asylum and die in his bed. All of you know how he ended. He was still prancing and cavorting and high rolling when the law seized him and he was hung by the neck. He figured it all out before he went his way, and he came to the conclusion that he hadn't been in it. He wrote it down on his shirt collar in red ink that his having had a high old time was all a mistake and that the farmer who had stuck to corn and potatoes was ahead of the pirate business. I see before me a baldheaded, broad backed man, who is evidently itching to become a pirate bold I call on him to pause ere it is too late.

Let us take a still more historical case. Behold the picture of Judas Iscariot. It is a sketch made of him while he was a young man, and you see that he holds the plow behind an ox. Judas was a tiller of the soil for many years. He was naturally good, and daily contact with nature added to his goodness. He came to be known far and wide as a man who always shoveled the snow off his sidewalk clear up to the line, and if he had a lawsuit about a line fence he didn't drag in the whole country. When he went up to Jerusalem, he was honored and respected of all men, and his daily life was without a blot. No one has tried to explain why Judas suddenly made up his mind to change and give things away. He was rewarded with 24 pieces of silver, but he had no note coming due and was not hard up for cash. But change he did, and he no doubt expected to have high old times and lead the band. His career, as you all know, was brief and rocky. Things didn't turn out as he hoped for. He was shunned of men, dodged of dogs and died without having enjoyed himself for a day. I am now looking at a man in this audience who closely resembles Judas Iscariot and who may be planning to sell out and cut loose. If so, let my words sink deep into his heart when I say that the result of badness is inevitable. It may prosper for a short time, but the bad man is busted and laid low when his pride is greatest. It may not pay above 3 per cent to be good, but with a clear conscience, a good crop of potatoes and a sure interest on your money you can fall asleep on the cellar stairs or the kitchen roof and know that all will be well with you when the cows come home to be milked.

What $100,000,000 For the Navy Really Means

By Secretary of the Navy JOHN D. LONG

I HAVE been interested in the circular signed by many eminent citizens, my beloved friend E. E. Hale at the head, in which they regret the estimate of $100,000,000 for the increase of the navy. Of course, it is rather a taking thing to say as a matter of theory, as this circular says, that $100,000,000 for the navy means a tax of $6 on every family in the United States. And yet, if that sum is spent there is probably not a family in the United States whose future income could be shown to be $6 less, and there are a good many families whose income would be $6 more and still more families whose income would be many times $6 less if it were not spent. It is also rather a taking thing to say that $100,000,000 could be better spent for education or charity. And yet, on the other hand, $100,000,000 spent in the employment of labor is the very best use to which it can be put.

The great question of the day as to wealth is its distribution. While few would say that the community should be taxed for the sole purpose of distributing the proceeds of taxation, yet it is some comfort to know of a tax which, when it is laid on the community, all returns again to it. If $100,000,000 shall be appropriated for the navy by the present congress, a small part will go for the purchase of raw material and something for salaries, but the great bulk of it for labor in every part of the Union.

NOR IS IT TRUE AS SUGGESTED IN THE CIRCULAR THAT A GREAT NAVY NECESSARILY INFLAMES THE FIGHTING SPIRIT AND LEADS TO WAR.

If my recollection serves me right, while Great Britain has had troubles in Egypt and Africa and elsewhere, she has had no conflict on sea for many years, and yet her navy has been twice as large as that of any other power. The recent increase in our navy did not induce the war with Spain, which, as things were, seems to have been inevitable. On the other hand, it is more than likely that if in the beginning of 1898 we had even as large a navy as we have now, certainly as large a one as now proposed, there would have been no war with Spain and that country would have come to terms, as she was very near coming, without battle. AT THAT TIME, HOWEVER, IT WAS THE GENERAL IMPRESSION AMONG FOREIGN POWERS, AND PROBABLY IN SPAIN, THAT HER NAVY WOULD BLOW US OUT OF THE WATER.

We are the richest nation of the world, with a larger income than any other. If, then, the size of our navy should correspond to our national and international size and if we have the cash on hand, it would seem the simplest good business sense to increase the navy. Whether this shall cost $20,000,000 or $75,000,000 or $100,000,000, it is not extravagance to cut our garment according to our cloth.

IT IS LIKE HAVING POLICEMEN ENOUGH INSTEAD OF HAVING A NUMBER SO LIMITED THAT THE ROUGHS ARE TEMPTED TO RIOT.

There certainly is a heap of comfort in feeling that if millions are now spent for the navy the money is in the till to spend. It is a case where the people can have their cake and eat it, too; they can have their ships, and they can have in their pockets the money paid for building them.

A United States naval vessel carrying our flag into the ports and harbors of the world is something more than a fighting machine. It means relations with those ports; it means an awakening and lively respect there for our country; it means recognition of the outreach of our civilization, commerce and influence.

How Gas Eats Up Our Oxygen.

Some interesting calculations have been made to show why extra ventilation is necessary at night when the rooms are lighted. A man may exist for an hour in a fair sized room hermetically sealed if he has no light burning. Place a lighted candle in that room with him, and his existence will be shortened by fifteen minutes. If he had a lamp instead of a candle, he would live only half an hour. If he had two good gas burners, he would scarcely have time to make his will, for he would not live more than five minutes.

Of course, it is rather a taking thing to say as a matter of theory, as this circular says, that $100,000,000 for the navy means a tax of $6 on every family in the United States. And yet, if that sum is spent there is probably not a family in the United States whose future income could be shown to be $6 less, and there are a good many families whose income would be $6 more and still more families whose income would be many times $6 less if it were not spent. It is also rather a taking thing to say that $100,000,000 could be better spent for education or charity. And yet, on the other hand, $100,000,000 spent in the employment of labor is the very best use to which it can be put.

The great question of the day as to wealth is its distribution. While few would say that the community should be taxed for the sole purpose of distributing the proceeds of taxation, yet it is some comfort to know of a tax which, when it is laid on the community, all returns again to it. If $100,000,000 shall be appropriated for the navy by the present congress, a small part will go for the purchase of raw material and something for salaries, but the great bulk of it for labor in every part of the Union.

NOR IS IT TRUE AS SUGGESTED IN THE CIRCULAR THAT A GREAT NAVY NECESSARILY INFLAMES THE FIGHTING SPIRIT AND LEADS TO WAR.

If my recollection serves me right, while Great Britain has had troubles in Egypt and Africa and elsewhere, she has had no conflict on sea for many years, and yet her navy has been twice as large as that of any other power. The recent increase in our navy did not induce the war with Spain, which, as things were, seems to have been inevitable. On the other hand, it is more than likely that if in the beginning of 1898 we had even as large a navy as we have now, certainly as large a one as now proposed, there would have been no war with Spain and that country would have come to terms, as she was very near coming, without battle. AT THAT TIME, HOWEVER, IT WAS THE GENERAL IMPRESSION AMONG FOREIGN POWERS, AND PROBABLY IN SPAIN, THAT HER NAVY WOULD BLOW US OUT OF THE WATER.

We are the richest nation of the world, with a larger income than any other. If, then, the size of our navy should correspond to our national and international size and if we have the cash on hand, it would seem the simplest good business sense to increase the navy. Whether this shall cost $20,000,000 or $75,000,000 or $100,000,000, it is not extravagance to cut our garment according to our cloth.

IT IS LIKE HAVING POLICEMEN ENOUGH INSTEAD OF HAVING A NUMBER SO LIMITED THAT THE ROUGHS ARE TEMPTED TO RIOT.

There certainly is a heap of comfort in feeling that if millions are now spent for the navy the money is in the till to spend. It is a case where the people can have their cake and eat it, too; they can have their ships, and they can have in their pockets the money paid for building them.

A United States naval vessel carrying our flag into the ports and harbors of the world is something more than a fighting machine. It means relations with those ports; it means an awakening and lively respect there for our country; it means recognition of the outreach of our civilization, commerce and influence.

How Gas Eats Up Our Oxygen.

Some interesting calculations have been made to show why extra ventilation is necessary at night when the rooms are lighted. A man may exist for an hour in a fair sized room hermetically sealed if he has no light burning. Place a lighted candle in that room with him, and his existence will be shortened by fifteen minutes. If he had a lamp instead of a candle, he would live only half an hour. If he had two good gas burners, he would scarcely have time to make his will, for he would not live more than five minutes.

NOTED RUSSIAN ARTIST PAINTING PORTRAIT OF ROOSEVELT.

What the Government Already Has as a Basis For the National University Proposed by Carnegie. Plan For Penny Postage.

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—President Roosevelt is these days devoting some moments of his spare time, of which, however, he has very little, to sitting for a portrait by M. Constantine Makovsky, the celebrated Russian court artist, who has painted the czar and his father before him and the grand dukes of the imperial family. The sittings for the president's portrait are in the cabinet room of the White House, this place being chosen for the reason that it furnishes a satisfactory background and good light.

M. Makovsky is here as a guest at the Russian embassy and is accompanied by his wife. Both are becoming exceedingly popular at the capital and have received many social courtesies. The artist is also painting a portrait of Countess Cassini, which was begun some months ago in Marienbad, Bohemia, where Embassador Cassini and his daughter spent a portion of the summer.

The president is still obliged to devote not a little of his time to hearing the recital of the virtues of applicants for offices. This he usually does very good naturedly, but occasionally he makes little attempt to conceal the fact that he is bored by this almost ceaseless importunity on the part of friends of the candidates. A late instance is recounted. A western representative much interested in a pending appointment called at the White House the other day to make a final appeal for his candidate, but more especially to protest against the choice of a certain other man. His reception was not altogether cordial. Indeed the president was decidedly brusque. Upon returning from the White House the representative admitted to a colleague that he had been received rather coolly, but added, "I made him listen and shot the cold dough into him with a redhot syringe." The next day the man against whom the protest was lodged received the appointment, and now this western representative's colleagues are certain that the nomination was due to presidential dyspepsia, caused by the remarkable injection aforesaid—"cold dough" administered with a "redhot syringe."

It is intimated that there may soon be a change in the official household of the president, and connected with the intimation there is a bit of romantic gossip. It is said that Secretary Hitchcock would like to give up the portfolio of the interior department and return to his business enterprises in St. Louis and, further, that the president would like to offer the place to ex-Senator Wolcott of Colorado, who, it is asserted, would not be averse to accepting it, though at considerable financial sacrifice. The ex-senator and his wife have lived apart for several years. The latter is a close friend of Mrs. Roosevelt and has lately been a guest at the White House. Mrs. Wolcott was a Miss Metcalf of Buffalo. She was married to Lyman K. Bass, who was in congress for several years. Her marriage to Senator Wolcott was the result of a romance begun in Colorado. It was supposed to be an unusually happy love match, and society, social and official, was shocked when the rupture to their domestic happiness was made known. On Feb. 22, 1899, Senator Wolcott delivered the eulogy on Washington in the senate. Mrs. Wolcott sat in the gallery and at the conclusion of his speech sent him a beautiful bouquet of roses. A few days afterward society was surprised and shocked to learn of their separation.

The friendship between the Wolcotts and the Roosevelts is of many years' standing, and it is known that the president and his wife have been deeply pained over the domestic infelicity of their friends and would be delighted to see them reconciled. Putting two and two together, society now argues that the president, in view of the especially firm friendship of Mrs. Roosevelt for Mrs. Wolcott, would hardly invite ex-Senator Wolcott to become a member of his official family unless a reconciliation had been effected between the former husband and wife. Stranger things than this have happened.

The proposition of Andrew Carnegie to place at the disposal of the government $10,000,000 for the foundation of a national institution for advanced study and research brings into present prominence the educational forces now under government direction which would naturally become a part of the university settlement—the Congressional library, the Smithsonian institution, the Naval observatory and the various scientific bureaus connected with the departments.

Few persons, even in Washington, realize what a wealth of material capable of being used to promote scientific research the government already possesses. On the strictly scientific work of the department of agriculture it lays out yearly about $4,000,000, on that of the interior department more than $1,000,000 and the same on the treasury department, while to the navy department, the war department, the Smithsonian institution, the fish commission, the botanic gardens and the library of congress it devotes enough more to make a total of more than $8,000,000, or a sum representing about 10 cents per capita for the entire population of the United States. Congress has provided that the museums, libraries, containing about 3,000,000 books, pamphlets and maps, and other resources shall be available for higher education and research, but has not provided the machinery for making them practicably useful. It is this machinery which the Carnegie foundation is intended to supply.

In this connection the annual report of Congressional Librarian Putnam, which has just been submitted to congress, may be of interest to the thoughtful. This report, which is the third that has come from the hand of Mr. Putnam, not only deals in a most comprehensive way with administrative details of the library, but places before members of the senate and house an adequate idea of what has been done to make the prodigious amount of printed information which constitutes the library of congress available under topical classification for ready reference as well as exhaustive research.

The report shows that the total expenditures for the library for the past fiscal year were $505,055.07. This amount is increased to $563,257.77 in the appropriation made for the current fiscal year. The revenues of the copyright division amounted to $63,687.50.

The report shows that 76,481 printed books and pamphlets have been added to the library during the past year. On this subject the librarian says the increase in the appropriation over that for the preceding year has enabled progress to be made in the completion of sets and in the acquisition of standard material in each great department of knowledge. But the present sum is below that requisite if the library is to become a collection comprehensive in scope. In view of the larger field of usefulness of the Congressional library in connection with the proposed national university, the suggestions of the librarian should have special weight with congress.

is the "penny postage" bill introduced by Congressman G. W. Smith of Illinois before the holiday recess. It proposes to reduce letter postage to 1 cent an ounce. While the postoffice department officials have made no recommendation on the subject, it is well understood that it is being considered in view of the plans that are being pushed for the reduction of postal expenditures in other directions.

Postal authorities estimate that the department will save from $8,000,000 to $15,000,000 by the consummation of plans for excluding certain publications from the second class mail matter. This reduction, however, according to postoffice officials, will not be felt for some months in an appreciable manner, and the full effects of it will not be realized until the next period of reweighing the mails and the consequent reduction that is expected in the cost of transportation.

Legislation is expected by congress along lines suggested by the postmaster general in his annual report, but the effect of it can hardly be felt in time to be brought to the consideration of this session of congress. One of the features of the proposed legislation in the interest of the postal service is a proposition to secure new legislation, making more rigid terms for the admission of publications to second class mail privileges. It is argued that this is a more certain method of preventing the abuses of the postal privileges than the enforcement of the postmaster general's ruling on the present law respecting second class matter. Certain publishers are already preparing to prevent if possible any legislation hostile to their interests, and their efforts may result in a postponement of departmental indorsement of Congressman Smith's efforts to secure penny postage. However, Mr. Smith will make a vigorous fight for the measure and is assured of support from many sources.

SAMUEL HUBBARD.

VENTILATOR FOR WINDOWS.

Device of an Oregonian For the Comfort of Travelers.

A simple ventilator for car windows or other windows, which affords convenient means for adjustment to graduate the opening of the ventilator so as to open it partially or entirely, is described by The Scientific American. The inventor is David E. Werts of Grants Pass, Or.

The sash is held to slide vertically in the window frame, and the improved ventilator is placed in the lower rail of each sash. This lower rail has a horizontal slot leading outwardly and downwardly. On the inner side of the sash rail a recessed guard frame is secured, which frame is slotted to register with the slot of the sash rail. The exterior opening of the slot is covered with a woven wire cloth.

Slidable in the recess of the guard frame is a gate, upon which a plug bears. The plug projects from the free end of a flat spring secured by one end in a cavity in the sash rail and through a perforation in the guard frame. It will be seen that the impinging of the spring pressed plug on the gate will retain the gate at a desired point of open adjustment. The relative position of the plug is such as to adapt it to project its free rounded end through the perforation in the guard frame for a short distance, so as to support the gate when elevated sufficiently to close the sash slot completely.

The improved ventilator is of special value as a means for ventilating passenger cars.

FREAKS OF THE MIND.

Some of the Strange Powers It Often Has Over the Will.

Did you ever think how often you eat and never stick your fork in your eye? You always stick your fork in your mouth. If you ate in the dark, it would be the same thing. You would never put out your eye by putting your fork in it. Why? Because your subconscious mind is doing its automatic duty and knows very well that you eat with your mouth and not with your eye.

Many other actions are automatic. For instance, 20 people have gathered on a street corner to board a passing car. The very fact that they are there means that the car will stop. The first man has already signaled the motorman. So do the other 19. And the same thing happens if ten people gather to descend in an elevator. The first comer rings the bell. So do the other nine—merely automatically. The sign says "Ring," so each man takes this sign to himself and rings.

A shoemaker once had a shop in the basement of a large building down town. The shoemaker worked with his back to the door. Every time the door opened the shoemaker turned his head to the left to see who entered. For ten years the shoemaker worked and turned his head almost every hour in the day. Before many years had passed the shoemaker's head turned automatically, and now that man has spent all the money he has ever made trying to be cured of this automatic habit. But his head still jerks, so that he looks over his left shoulder constantly.—New York Herald.

Played His Client False.

"I shall have to make a lawyer out of that boy of mine. I don't see any other way out of it," declared the well known attorney, with a laugh. "He came into my office the other day on his way home from school and laid a nickel down on the desk before me.

"'What is this for, son?' I asked.

"'Retainer,' he answered soberly.

"'Very well,' said I, entering into the joke. 'What have I been retained upon?'

"My boy dug down into his pocket and produced a note from his teacher and placed it before me without comment. It was to the effect that he had been 'cutting up' and advised a whipping.

"'Now, what would you advise?' asked he in a businesslike voice after I had read the note and saw the trap that young rascal led me into.

"'I think that out first move should be to apply for a change of venue,' said I.

"'Very well,' he answered. 'You're handling the case.'

"'Then we will turn the note over to your mother,' said I.

"I saw the young imp's face fall at this, but he braced up and said:

"'See here, pop, you're bound to see me through on this, 'cause you've accepted my retainer, you know!'

"'I'll argue your case before the court,' I answered, 'but you will have to accept the decision. I would not dare to attempt to influence the court.'

"Well, I pleaded the boy's case, promptly had it thrown out of court, and the boy got what he deserved—a good whipping.

"It was the first time I ever played false to a client."—Detroit Free Press.

THERE ARE MANY ROADS

The Finger Posts Marking the Many By-Paths of Present Day Troubles All Seem to Point the Same Way—Lack of Nerve Force.

Day by day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from East Liverpool people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Why they accomplish so much is easily explained. They are prepared with an eye single to restoring nerve force. They accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world has ever been able to do. That's why hundreds of East Liverpool people offer their testimony.

Mr. Cyrus Hauselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done for me more to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five or six years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills, and got them at Larkin's drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets., and they took hold finely—something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong, and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

THE ESQUIMO

The Esquimo eats blubber. The lumbermen eat pork. These people are constantly exposed to cold and physical strain. Experience has taught them that fatty foods give warmth and nourishment.

For those who have cold and thin bodies, or are threatened with consumption or any wasting disease, there is no fat in so digestible and palatable a form as Scott's Emulsion. Physicians prescribe it.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

NOTED RUSSIAN ARTIST PAINTING PORTRAIT OF ROOSEVELT.

What the Government Already Has as a Basis For the National University Proposed by Carnegie. Plan For Penny Postage.

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—President Roosevelt is these days devoting some moments of his spare time, of which, however, he has very little, to sitting for a portrait by M. Constantine Makovsky, the celebrated Russian court artist, who has painted the czar and his father before him and the grand dukes of the imperial family. The sittings for the president's portrait are in the cabinet room of the White House, this place being chosen for the reason that it furnishes a satisfactory background and good light.

nied by his wife. Both are becoming exceedingly popular at the capital and have received many social courtesies. The artist is also painting a portrait of Countess Cassini, which was begun some months ago in Marienbad, Bohemia, where Embassador Cassini and his daughter spent a portion of the summer.

The president is still obliged to devote not a little of his time to hearing the recital of the virtues of applicants for offices. This he usually does very good naturedly, but occasionally he makes little attempt to conceal the fact that he is bored by this almost ceaseless importunity on the part of friends of the candidates. A late instance is recounted. A western representative much interested in a pending appointment called at the White House the other day to make a final appeal for his candidate, but more especially to protest against the choice of a certain other man. His reception was not altogether cordial. Indeed the president was decidedly brusque. Upon returning from the White House the representative admitted to a colleague that he had been received rather coolly, but added, "I made him listen and shot the cold dough into him with a redhot syringe." The next day the man against whom the protest was lodged received the appointment, and now this western representative's colleagues are certain that the nomination was due to presidential dyspepsia, caused by the remarkable injection aforesaid—"cold dough" administered with a "redhot syringe."

It is intimated that there may soon be a change in the official household of the president, and connected with the intimation there is a bit of romantic gossip. It is said that Secretary Hitchcock would like to give up the portfolio of the interior department and return to his business enterprises in St. Louis and, further, that the president would like to offer the place to ex-Senator Wolcott of Colorado, who, it is asserted, would not be averse to accepting it, though at considerable financial sacrifice. The ex-senator and his wife have lived apart for several years. The latter is a close friend of Mrs. Roosevelt and has lately been a guest at the White House. Mrs. Wolcott was a Miss Metcalf of Buffalo. She was married to Lyman K. Bass, who was in congress for several years. Her marriage to Senator Wolcott was the result of a romance begun in Colorado. It was supposed to be an unusually happy love match, and society, social and official, was shocked when the rupture to their domestic happiness was made known. On Feb. 22, 1899, Senator Wolcott delivered the eulogy on Washington in the senate. Mrs. Wolcott sat in the gallery and at the conclusion of his speech sent him a beautiful bouquet of roses. A few days afterward society was surprised and shocked to learn of their separation.

The friendship between the Wolcotts and the Roosevelts is of many years' standing, and it is known that the president and his wife have been deeply pained over the domestic infelicity of their friends and would be delighted to see them reconciled. Putting two and two together, society now argues that the president, in view of the especially firm friendship of Mrs. Roosevelt for Mrs. Wolcott, would hardly invite ex-Senator Wolcott to become a member of his official family unless a reconciliation had been effected between the former husband and wife. Stranger things than this have happened.

The proposition of Andrew Carnegie to place at the disposal of the government $10,000,000 for the foundation of a national institution for advanced study and research brings into present prominence the educational forces now under government direction which would naturally become a part of the university settlement—the Congressional library, the Smithsonian institution, the Naval observatory and the various scientific bureaus connected with the departments.

Few persons, even in Washington, realize what a wealth of material capable of being used to promote scientific research the government already possesses. On the strictly scientific work of the department of agriculture it lays out yearly about $4,000,000, on that of the interior department more than $1,000,000 and the same on the treasury department, while to the navy department, the war department, the Smithsonian institution, the fish commission, the botanic gardens and the library of congress it devotes enough more to make a total of more than $8,000,000, or a sum representing about 10 cents per capita for the entire population of the United States. Congress has provided that the museums, libraries, containing about 3,000,000 books, pamphlets and maps, and other resources shall be available for higher education and research, but has not provided the machinery for making them practicably useful. It is this machinery which the Carnegie foundation is intended to supply.

In this connection the annual report of Congressional Librarian Putnam, which has just been submitted to congress, may be of interest to the thoughtful. This report, which is the third that has come from the hand of Mr. Putnam, not only deals in a most comprehensive way with administrative details of the library, but places before members of the senate and house an adequate idea of what has been done to make the prodigious amount of printed information which constitutes the library of congress available under topical classification for ready reference as well as exhaustive research.

The report shows that the total expenditures for the library for the past fiscal year were $505,055.07. This amount is increased to $563,257.77 in the appropriation made for the current fiscal year. The revenues of the copyright division amounted to $63,687.50.

The report shows that 76,481 printed books and pamphlets have been added to the library during the past year. On this subject the librarian says the increase in the appropriation over that for the preceding year has enabled progress to be made in the completion of sets and in the acquisition of standard material in each great department of knowledge. But the present sum is below that requisite if the library is to become a collection comprehensive in scope. In view of the larger field of usefulness of the Congressional library in connection with the proposed national university, the suggestions of the librarian should have special weight with congress.

is the "penny postage" bill introduced by Congressman G. W. Smith of Illinois before the holiday recess. It proposes to reduce letter postage to 1 cent an ounce. While the postoffice department officials have made no recommendation on the subject, it is well understood that it is being considered in view of the plans that are being pushed for the reduction of postal expenditures in other directions.

Postal authorities estimate that the department will save from $8,000,000 to $15,000,000 by the consummation of plans for excluding certain publications from the second class mail matter. This reduction, however, according to postoffice officials, will not be felt for some months in an appreciable manner, and the full effects of it will not be realized until the next period of reweighing the mails and the consequent reduction that is expected in the cost of transportation.

Legislation is expected by congress along lines suggested by the postmaster general in his annual report, but the effect of it can hardly be felt in time to be brought to the consideration of this session of congress. One of the features of the proposed legislation in the interest of the postal service is a proposition to secure new legislation, making more rigid terms for the admission of publications to second class mail privileges. It is argued that this is a more certain method of preventing the abuses of the postal privileges than the enforcement of the postmaster general's ruling on the present law respecting second class matter. Certain publishers are already preparing to prevent if possible any legislation hostile to their interests, and their efforts may result in a postponement of departmental indorsement of Congressman Smith's efforts to secure penny postage. However, Mr. Smith will make a vigorous fight for the measure and is assured of support from many sources.

VENTILATOR FOR WINDOWS.

Device of an Oregonian For the Comfort of Travelers.

A simple ventilator for car windows or other windows, which affords convenient means for adjustment to graduate the opening of the ventilator so as to open it partially or entirely, is described by The Scientific American. The inventor is David E. Werts of Grants Pass, Or.

The sash is held to slide vertically in the window frame, and the improved ventilator is placed in the lower rail of each sash. This lower rail has a horizontal slot leading outwardly and downwardly. On the inner side of the sash rail a recessed guard frame is secured, which frame is slotted to register with the slot of the sash rail. The exterior opening of the slot is covered with a woven wire cloth.

Slidable in the recess of the guard frame is a gate, upon which a plug bears. The plug projects from the free end of a flat spring secured by one end in a cavity in the sash rail and through a perforation in the guard frame. It will be seen that the impinging of the spring pressed plug on the gate will retain the gate at a desired point of open adjustment. The relative position of the plug is such as to adapt it to project its free rounded end through the perforation in the guard frame for a short distance, so as to support the gate when elevated sufficiently to close the sash slot completely.

The improved ventilator is of special value as a means for ventilating passenger cars.

Did you ever think how often you eat and never stick your fork in your eye? You always stick your fork in your mouth. If you ate in the dark, it would be the same thing. You would never put out your eye by putting your fork in it. Why? Because your subconscious mind is doing its automatic duty and knows very well that you eat with your mouth and not with your eye.

Many other actions are automatic. For instance, 20 people have gathered on a street corner to board a passing car. The very fact that they are there means that the car will stop. The first man has already signaled the motorman. So do the other 19. And the same thing happens if ten people gather to descend in an elevator. The first comer rings the bell. So do the other nine—merely automatically. The sign says "Ring," so each man takes this sign to himself and rings.

A shoemaker once had a shop in the basement of a large building down town. The shoemaker worked with his back to the door. Every time the door opened the shoemaker turned his head to the left to see who entered. For ten years the shoemaker worked and turned his head almost every hour in the day. Before many years had passed the shoemaker's head turned automatically, and now that man has spent all the money he has ever made trying to be cured of this automatic habit. But his head still jerks, so that he looks over his left shoulder constantly.—New York Herald.

Played His Client False.

"I shall have to make a lawyer out of that boy of mine. I don't see any other way out of it," declared the well known attorney, with a laugh. "He came into my office the other day on his way home from school and laid a nickel down on the desk before me.

"'What is this for, son?' I asked.

"'Retainer,' he answered soberly.

"'Very well,' said I, entering into the joke. 'What have I been retained upon?'

"My boy dug down into his pocket and produced a note from his teacher and placed it before me without comment. It was to the effect that he had been 'cutting up' and advised a whipping.

"'Now, what would you advise?' asked he in a businesslike voice after I had read the note and saw the trap that young rascal led me into.

"'I think that out first move should be to apply for a change of venue,' said I.

"'Very well,' he answered. 'You're handling the case.'

"'Then we will turn the note over to your mother,' said I.

"I saw the young imp's face fall at this, but he braced up and said:

"'See here, pop, you're bound to see me through on this, 'cause you've accepted my retainer, you know!'

"'I'll argue your case before the court,' I answered, 'but you will have to accept the decision. I would not dare to attempt to influence the court.'

"Well, I pleaded the boy's case, promptly had it thrown out of court, and the boy got what he deserved—a good whipping.

"It was the first time I ever played false to a client."—Detroit Free Press.

The Finger Posts Marking the Many By-Paths of Present Day Troubles All Seem to Point the Same Way—Lack of Nerve Force.

Day by day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from East Liverpool people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Why they accomplish so much is easily explained. They are prepared with an eye single to restoring nerve force. They accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world has ever been able to do. That's why hundreds of East Liverpool people offer their testimony.

Mr. Cyrus Hauselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done for me more to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five or six years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills, and got them at Larkin's drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets., and they took hold finely—something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong, and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

19TH YEAR. NO. 14. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1902—TWELVE PAGES. TWO CENTS.

BIG REPUBLICAN MEETING HELD AT LISBON TODAY

CANDIDATES OUT IN FORCE

Hon. R. W. Tayler Showed His Interest by Coming on From Washington.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Lisbon, January 17.—(Special)—All the candidates who aspire to be nominated for county officers in the next three years, together with almost all the prominent politicians of the county, landed in Lisbon last night.

At the court house there was a big demonstration in the evening. The candidates who have been announced for the coming primaries there met their friends from all parts of the county.

The only real work, as far as the county committee is concerned, was performed by the special committee appointed at the meeting of the county committee last spring to make alterations in the rules or provide special rules for the government of county primaries. This committee is composed of R. N. Chamberlain, East Palestine; W. G. Bentley, Salem; George E. Davidson, East Liverpool; J. Frank Adams and Ed A. King, Lisbon. Mr. King was unavoidably absent in Washington. The work was taken up by the other four members.

They assembled at the probate court room about 8 o'clock and their deliberations lasted more than three hours.

A number of the suggestions which were embodied in Judge P. M. Smith's recommendations were objected to by several of the committeemen, and alterations were made accordingly, taking up much time.

Early this morning the rules as passed upon by this special committee were compiled and arranged by Mr. Chamberlain, to go to the stenographer. The changes are as follows:

"Rules and regulations for the conduct of Republican primary elections in Columbiana county, O., adopted January 17, 1902:

"First—The primary election for the nomination of county and district officers shall be held on Saturday, March —, between the hours of 11:30 a. m. and 5:30 p. m., central standard time.

"Second—All prospective candidates at such election are required to file their names and pay an assessment of $10 to the secretary of the Republican executive committee of said county on or before noon on Saturday, ———.

"Third—At least ten days' notice of the primary election shall be published in some Republican newspaper, printed and of general circulation in said county, stating the authority by which it is published, the purpose, time, manner, condition and places of holding such election, and shall prescribe the equalifications of the persons entitled to vote at such election.

"Fourth—The ballot used at such electians shall conform, as nearly as possible, with the form of the ballot required for a general election, except that there shall be but one column. It shall contain the names of all the candidates.

"It shall contain the names of all candidates, the names of the candidate for each office shall constitute a group with the name of the office printed over it. There shall be a ruled line between the names of the candidates for each office. The voter shall designate his choice by placing an X-mark at the left of the name of the candidate for whom he wishes to vote. The ballot shall be prepared by the county central committee and transmitted with the poll book and tally sheets to the committeemen of each precinct. The ballots for each precinct shall be put up in pads securely fastened together.

"Fifth—At the hour appointed for the polls to open the officers being present shall open the room in which the election is to be held, prepare the ballot box by placing it in a position in plain view of each voter, see that the box is securely locked and booths in proper condition.

"They shall have charge of all matters connected with receiving and counting the votes. They shall deliver to each qualified elector who requests the same one ballot. The voter shall forthwith and without leaving the room retire alone to one of the voting booths and without undue delay unfold and mark his ballot. No elector shall be allowed to occupy a voting shelf already occupied by another or to occupy voting shelf for more than five minutes. All marks on the ballots must be made by a black lead pencil. If any elector soil or deface a ballot so that it cannot be read, he may obtain another, providing he returns the ballot soiled or defaced, which shall be immediately destroyed.

"Sixth—Marking, folding, placing in hands of judge, same exactly as Australian system; also counting, etc., the same. Same rule must be carried out regarding disposition of irregularly marked ballots, which must be returned to county committee.

"Seventh—The election officials shall certify the result of their precinct and properly seal and send said certificate to the secretary of the committee calling the primary.

"Eighth—The committeemen of each precinct shall take charge of and deliver the poll books and tally sheets to the county central committee, which shall convene at the court house in Lisbon at 1 o'clock p. m. on the Tuesday following the date for the purpose of canvassing and making an official abstract of the result of said election.

"Ninth—No person shall act as judge or clerk whose name appears on the ticket as a candidate for any office except central committeemen.

"Tenth—No judge or clerk shall directly or indirectly do anything to influence any voter while in or about the polling place, and such officer shall before entering upon the discharge of his duties subscribe to an oath to honestly and faithfully discharge his duties and shall further make oath that he has not received or does not expect to receive any pay from any candidate.

"Eleventh—All tickets shall be furnished by the committee calling the primary, and there shall be but one official ballot at any primary.

"Twelfth—No person shall be permitted to remain in the polling place during the receiving and the counting of the votes except the election officials and a duly accredited inspector for each candidate.

"Thirteenth—At the time for opening the ballot if any vacancy exists it shall be properly filled by the qualified Republican voters present.

"Fourteenth—In each precinct the central committee shall call a caucus of Republican voters, to be held between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock p. m., central standard time, on the Saturday three weeks prior to the time of the county primary, to select three precinct central committeemen. The committeemen shall advertise said caucus by publication and posting at least five notices in conspicuous places within the precinct, stating the place of holding caucus, and that only qualified Republican voters of such precinct can participate. The precinct central committeemen shall promptly certify the names of three persons so selected to the secretary of the county central committee, and such names shall appear in the official ballot for said precinct, and blank places shall be added to the ballot to allow voters the privilege of voting for others.

In All Pottery Circles By the New Departure—Activity on the Increase at Various Plants—Buying Is Reported Brick for This Season.

President A. M. Moreland, of the Union Potteries company, this morning caused the following notice to be placed in the kiln department of the Union pottery and also at the Chelsea pottery at New Cumberland:

To Our Employes:

If the rate of 1 cent per dozen for bisque kiln work and one and three-fourth cents a dozen for glost kiln work, placing and drawing combined, do not give to kilnmen a bonus over the present rates of wages adopted by the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters equal to 30 per cent, this company agrees to fix and pay rates per dozen which will do so.

UNION POTTERIES CO.

The notice was brought here yesterday by Frank W. Fowler and when seen this morning he said:

"I have talked to many of our employes and they all seem to favor our plan. It must be understood that while the ware will be counted from the kiln, the kilnmen and employes in the clay department will receive the union rates of wages, no matter if there is but one piece of good ware taken from the kiln. Many persons are in error about the 'bonus' plan and all we ask is that it be given a fair trial. The story published in a local paper that if a workman is off duty on account of sickness a physician's certificate would be demanded, is absolutely false. Such an idea was never thought of by the company, and is absurd. As far as we know, nothing but harmony exists between our company and employes."

Members of kilnmen's local No. 9, who will attend the weekly meeting in Brotherhood hall this evening, will be fully informed as to the purpose of the new scale recently posted in the Union pottery. The telegram received by the News Review company yesterday afternoon was placed in the hands of Aaron Coleman, president of No. 9, this morning, and after that official read it, he made the following statement:

"For the kilnmen to accept the new proposition, in my estimation, would be to violate the agreement made with the manufacturers last summer, and as a result unrest would be created between the employer and the employe. The kilnmen at present are perfectly satisfied with the scale as adopted, and I for one do not think it manly to ask or accept from the manufacturer any change from the present uniform list. For years we have been working for a uniform scale, and now that we have one in existence we do not like the idea of having matters changed even in one pottery, as it would create a possible ill-feeling in other plants."

H. A. Keffer, secretary of the Manufacturing Potters' association, when asked for an opinion on the new scale, said: "The new scale may prove to be a good thing for the workmen, but nothing can be said until it is tried. I think the scale should be tried, probably for two weeks, and if the men could earn bonus money, so much the better for them. A trial of the matter is all that is needed for the men."

Thomas Price, manager of the Chelsea pottery, operated by the Union Potteries company, was in the city yesterday afternoon and when asked how the new proposition was liked by the workmen of the plant at New Cumberland said: "Everybody seems to be satisfied with the new idea of Mr. Moreland, and that is all that I can say on the subject." Mr. Price returned to New Cumberland yesterday afternoon.

Some new copper plates are being made for the East Liverpool Potteries company, which will soon be placed in the hands of the printers. The designs were originated by Walter De Ville, chief decorator of this company.

W. C. Burgess, a salesman for the Dresden, will start on the road in a few days, going west. Mr. Burgess has been connected with this com-

COMMITTEES SOON TO BE MADE UP

FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Representative Buell Outspoken in Support of the Plan to Allow Ladies to Vote on All Public Questions—Capital Notes.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, January 17.—The personnel of the house and senate standing committees will be made known early next week. In the house, the selection of committees rests entirely with Senator McKinnon. The personnel of the senate committees is in the hands of a special committee, of which Senator Connell, of Lisbon, is a member. Senator Connell aspired to the chairmanship of the judiciary committee, and a canvass of the members of the special committee showed he could have corralled this position, but he magnanimously gave way to Senator Hosea, of Cincinnati, on account of his seniority of years and legislative experience.

However, while the Cincinnati senator will be chairman of this important committee, Senator Connell will be vice chairman and will be contented with this honor. He has a pretty definite idea of the different committees he will serve on, but is not inclined to make them known before the committee makes its report. Representative Crist has indicated to Speaker McKinnon his preference of the committees, and he has considerable assurance that as far as possible his wish will be acquiesced in. It is understood he would like very much to get on the finance committee. Representative Buell has few favors to ask and is not bothering his head about committees. He has confidence that he will be looked after properly in the apportionment.

Representative Buell declares he is in favor of woman suffrage. He has some strong convictions on the question and believes that the gentler sex should have a voice in governmental affairs. His remarks conveyed the impression that he would stand by a measure giving women the right to vote. Mr. Buell received a communication from Warren this week in which he was asked to support a bill extending to women the right to vote on all public questions. A measure of this kind was introduced in the house two years ago and defeated. It is probable another will be offered at this session.

Representative Crist will introduce a bill on request from parties in West township, Columbiana county, amending the ditch law so as to specify whether townships or individuals are to be liable for costs in cases of damage suits. A resident of West township made a ditch and was sued by his neighbor, who claimed his rights had been infringed on. The latter secured a verdict and the costs have been placed against the township. A question has been raised involving the legality of this, and as the law is not clear on the point an amendment is desired with more explicit provisions. Neither Senator Connell nor Representative Buell have any bills to dump into the legislative hopper at present.

The Columbiana county legislators have secured permanent quarters within a few minutes' walk of the state capital. Senator Connell and wife are at the Vendome, which is located on Third street, opposite the addition of the capital building. Representative Buell and wife are at the Llewellyn, on State street, just south of the capital square, and Representative Crist and wife are are stopping at a private dwelling at 318 State street, east of the capital building.

Albert Brewer, of Tiffin, a former pottery manufacturer of that city, has resigned as a member of the state fish and game commission. He was appointed in 1898 and his present term would not have expired until next year. Mr. Brewer is a brother of the late John Hart Brewer, of Trenton, N. J., and both were engaged in the pottery business in that city for many years.

Samuel Herron, postmaster of Homeworth, is here visiting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Margaret J. Potts, who formerly resided in Homeworth. Postmaster Ed Moore, of Lisbon, was in attendance at the state farmers' institute in this city this week. Ed Bowmanfi of Canton, a former Lisbon resident, was here yesterday.

The Crooksville Art Pottery company, of Crooksville, Perry county, has taken out a certificate of incorporation. The capital stock is $60,000 and the incorporators are S. H. Brown, W. H. Brown, C. E. Crooks, W. J. Tague and A. P. Tague.

MRS. WILLIAM STERLING GREATLY WRONGED.

Says Connellsville (Pa.) Man Who Came Here And Said His Wife Robbed Him, Lied.

Mrs. William Sterling, whose husband told the police here that she had ran away from him at Connellsville, Pa., and stolen $1,500, denies the charge and has an abundance of proof to show that he deliberately lied to the officers.

She came here from Gypsie, W. Va., having left her husband last November because of his extreme cruelty and threats to murder her. She is staying here with friends, who say that Sterling is insane from drink.

The story that the woman ran away with a boarder named Smithour is also another of Sterling's alleged inventions.

Board Did Not Meet.

Owing to the absence of H. P. Knoblock from the city, the meeting of the joint arbitration board, which was to have been held last evening to consider the dispute of the printers was deferred. The date for a future meeting has not been set.

600 WERE KILLED IN AN EARTHQUAKE

Laredo, Tex., January 17.—(Special)—A dispatch from the City of Mexico says that a telegram reached that citi this morning, stating that the city of Chilanpancingo, in the state of Guerrero, suffered severely yesterday from an earthquake shock.

Details are meagre, but it is estimated that 600 persons were killed and enormous damage done to property.

LIBRARY DEDICATION IS SET FOR APRIL 1

A meeting of the Carnegie library board was held at the office of Secretary J. H. Brookes last night, at which Miss Gertrude A. Baker, of Mt. Vernon, the newly-appointed librarian, was present.

The session was principally devoted to a discussion of plans for the primary work which will be taken up on February 1, preparatory to the dedication of the library, which it is thought can be arranged to take place on April 1.

It is expected that 5,000 books will be at the disposal of the public at the time of the dedication, after which others will be added as fast as possible.

Miss Baker gave the members of the board some valuable "pointers" and gave unquestionable proof of her ability to properly fill the important position to which she has been appointed. She was instructed to be here by February 1 to assist in the preparatory work.

EAST END

THE ICE CROP

Promises to Be Good on the River And on East End Ponds.

Ice froze very rapidly on the river this morning. There is a fair crust between Babb's island and the north sore. It is 5 1-2 inches thick, but George McKinnon wishes it to become almost two inches thicker before he begins to fill his warehouse, which has a capacity of 100 tons.

The ice is much thicker on the ponds. A large reservoir is owned by William Andrews near the East End. There was seven-inch ice on his pond, which is almost satisfactory for commercial use; but Mr. Andrews will wait a day or two before starting on his harvest.

Work Kept Up.

While the cold weather has caused a suspension of outdoor labor in some portions of the city, this has not happened in the East End. Much activity has developed in the last few days, there being no delay in excavating cellars because of the frozen earth.

A Big Porker.

An exceptionally large hog was purchased from Jesse Smith by a downtown butcher. When dressed the animal tipped the scales at 514 pounds. It was only about a year and a half old.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Mrs. James Elliott is very sick at her home on First avenue.

Rev. Charles W. Swan and family departed this morning for Shreve, O.

James Mills has recovered from a spell of sickness at his home on High street.

Mrs. William Calhoun is somewhat improved from typhoid fever at her home on St. George stret. She suffered a dangerous relapse this week

A new two-story building for mercantile use will be constructed at once for William Peterson on Mulberry street, near Pennsylvania avenue.

Rev. N. M. Crowe has been conducting meetings each evening this week at Smith's Ferry. They have been well attended. Communion service will be held at Smith's Ferry Sunday.

Plans and specifications have been drawn for a new six-room modern dwelling to be erected for Councilman W. B. Thomas which will be built on Ohio avenue. It will be occupied as a residence.

A RARE TREAT

Promised at the Y. M. C. A. Hall Tomorrow Afternoon And Evening.

In speaking of the Fadettes' famous Woman's orchestra, which will give a matinee and evening performance at Y. M. C. A. hall tomorrow, the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune says:

"There is something in their music that is not only most grateful to the ear, but borrows an additional interest from the association of ideas. The program was light and breezy, and it was astonishing how much strength they had at their command; the strings especially are of even musical quality, and their attack prompt, the wood-wind excellent; the brass vigorous and even. The conductor, Mrs. Nichols, wields her baton with grace and dignity and has her forces under fine control. On the whole, their work is remarkably clever. No point in coloring or grouping is passed over to make these concerts a feast for the eye as well as for the ear. There was an audience of more than 3,000 people."

STRIKE OF COAL MINERS

May Be Precipitated if Operators Fail to Attend the Convention.

Wheeling, January 17.—At their convention in Huntington, this state, the West Virginia miners formulated a new scale, which the operators will be asked to sign on April 1. The operators are invited to attend the joint conference of the workers and operators of the competitive fields at Indianapolis the last of the month. West Virginia operators have not been present at these conferences since 1887, the year subsequent to their inspection.

Failing to attend the Indianapolis gathering or grant the concessions asked may precipitate the greatest strike West Virginia has ever seen, for the men were never so well organized, but control of the principal fields by the steel trust and railroads makes them face a complication. The scale is lower than the Ohio rate, but coal is said to be easier mined in West Virginia.

Unexpected Opposition.

While Lord Kitchener was engaged in suppressing the Prieska rebellion he ordered the destruction of a certain farmhouse. Not seeing any signs of his orders being carried out, he rode over with his staff and found an interesting situation.

In the doorway of the doomed farmhouse stood a pretty young Dutch girl, her hands clasping the doorposts and her eyes flashing fire from beneath her dainty sunbonnet. The Irish sergeant in charge of the party of destruction was vainly endeavoring to persuade her to let them pass in, but to all his blandishments of "Arrah darlint, wisha now, acushla," etc., the maiden turned a deaf ear, and a deadlock prevailed.

Kitchener's sharp "What's this?" put a climax to the scene.

The girl evidently guessed that this was the dreaded chief of staff, and her lips trembled in spite of herself.

Kitchener gazed sourly at her, standing bravely though tearfully there, and turned to his military secretary. "Put down," he growled, "that the commander's orders with reference to the destruction of Rightman's farm could not be carried out owing to unexpected opposition. Forward, gentlemen."—London News.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION FOR M'KINLEY DAY

To the Citizens of East Liverpool:

Whereas, the 59th anniversary of the birth of our late president, William McKinley, will occur on the 29th of the present month; and

Whereas, by a proclamation issued by the governor of the State of Ohio, it is ordered that on said day, we give proper observance to the memory of him, who so recently was removed from the scene of his earthly labors, and who fell as a martyr to free government.

Now, therefore, I, Wm. C. Davidson, mayor of the City of East Liverpool, do most respectfully invite all my fellow citizens to appropriately observe said day in memory of our late illustrious fellow citizen; and I also request that as a further token of their esteem for him, and their devotion to the government for which he stood, that on said day they contribute their free will offering for the memorial to be erected by the people in commemoration of his noble deeds, his love of home and loyalty to our free government.

W. C. DAVIDSON,
Mayor.

Swallowed His Destination.

A Clevelander who made a trip to Washington says that, much as he was impressed by the beauty and grandeur of the national capital and its surroundings, the thing he will remember longest was a remark he heard made by a colored deckhand on one of the handsome boats that take daily trips up and down the Potomac.

These boats stop at many of the picturesque little Virginia and Maryland river towns that dot the banks of the historic river and take freight shipments to and from Washington. One of the things shipped from one of the down river towns on the boat the Clevelander rode on was a goat of the sort that delights the average small boy. The Clevelander was wandering about the boat, interested in the differences between the Potomac river boat and the Lake Erie craft with which he was familiar, when he noticed the colored deckhand standing almost motionless before the goat, which was tied to one of the supports of the upper deck. He was scratching his head and apparently very much puzzled.

"What's the matter?" the Clevelander asked the deckhand.

"Why," answered the colored man, "de goat done eat up whar he gwine to."

The goat had simply chewed up and swallowed the tag on which was the address to which he was being shipped.—Cleveland Leader.

An Attack of Pneumonia Warded Off.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annato Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist.

"What's the matter?" asked Hoyt in surprise.

THE CERAMIC CITY

Of the Future Is East Liverpool, According to an English Authority.

VIEW OF FRANK HARRIS

Rev. Edwin Weary, of this city, has just received a copy of the Staffordshire Sentinel which contains the following account of the visit of Frank Harris, the English labor expert, to East Liverpool:

Mr. Frank Harris, who has recently returned from a visit to the principal pottery centers of the United States, where he has had an instructive experience, considers that East Liverpool is bound to be the ceramic city of the future. No fewer than three large manufactories have been started in East Liverpool this year, one of 15 ovens, one of 11 and the other nine; to the latter a further addition of four ovens were contemplated, at the time Mr. Harris was there. These manufactories are built on the latest principles, and having plenty of space are so arranged that the clays go in at one end and come out at the other a finished production, loaded on to the railway alongside, and sent to the consumers.

Mr. Harris was deeply impressed with the works of Messrs. Taylor, Smith & Taylor (sons of Mr. Taylor, president of Knowles, Taylor & Knowles), whose model works are entirely run by natural gas at a pressure of three and one-half pounds per square inch, with a reserve force of 47 pounds (night and day). This gas is brought 27 miles in seven-inch mains from the oil wells. Messrs. Knowles, Taylor & Knowles' manufactory consists of 32 ovens, making granite, semi-porcelain and bone china, all fired by natural gas. Thirty other factories are located at East Liverpool, and enjoy the same advantages.

At Wheeling Mr. Harris found two firms producing goods of a superior quality. At the Warwick pottery none but decorated wares are sold. The body is excellent and the demand exceeds the supply. At the Wheeling Potteries (3), La Belle, Wheeling pottery, and a sanitary and ornamental works, semi-porcelain, white and bone china of excellent quality are made and decorated, specimens of which are already on their way to this country, and will be included in the donations to the pottery museums.

At Syracuse, Mr. Harris was astonished to find one of the most perfect manufactories of "French porcelain." During the last two years the firm has extended it by eight ovens, making in all 16. Here porcelain equal to Limoges is made and decorated. This firm have lithographic artists of their own, and their productions are finished off in best gold, of conspicuous merit. In five years' time we shall cease to export ordinary earthenware, and signs are not wanting that our trade in sanitary and other goods will meet with a strong competition from the American potter. At Wheeling, too, natural gas is used and has been for 14 years. At Syracuse and Trenton anthracite coal is the fuel. Mr. Harris is now engaged at Messrs. Copeland's, Stoke.

STRENGTH FAILED TO PREVAIL

In Stock Market Thursday—With Dividend of Shorts Satisfied, Buying Became Apathetic.

New York, Jan. 17.—The strength which developed in Wednesday's stock market failed to persist yesterday. With the urgent demand from the shorts satisfied, the buying became apathetic. The selling was very light, but was not well absorbed, and the market moved in a sluggish and irregular way all day. The rather acute weakness which was manifest earlier in the week was not renewed, and there was some appearance of support on the declines. This and the positive strength of a few stocks in the list steadied the tone after declines had reached considerable figures, and resulted in recoveries. The general level of the prices did not get far from Wednesday night's level on the recovery, and the market became irregular again at the closing.

There is an element among stock operators which holds the theory that large reserves of capital are in the hands of the investors ready to flow into securities the moment the downward course of prices is seen to have gone far enough. This class hoped that the support afforded the market Wednesday would resolve the doubts of the owners of this waiting capital, and that it would flow into the stock market; but the commission houses yesterday morning failed to reflect notable increase in their orders for execution. The opening advance quickly came to the standstill.

Sharp weakness in Manhattan helped the reactionary tone, that stock dropping during the morning to 134¾. Speculators in the stock have been fed with the hope that an arrangement for an inter change of traffic with the New York Central was impending, as a consequence of the disaster in the Park avenue tunnel.

As Wednesday's statement by the New York Central directors of their plans for terminal improvements gave no corroboration to the reported plan for inter change with Manhattan, that stock was sold freely by the speculators. There was much discussion in a general way of the recent new bonds and stock issues by various railroad companies, and the effect of this discussion was unfavorable to speculation.

Recent heavy outlays by railroad companies from the large current profits were supposed to be a forestallment of necessary charges for betterments and to promise future curtailment of expenses, and the consequent maintenance of net profit in future periods of less prosperity. The current tendency to increase capital issues has disturbed this feeling of security over the future. The process of piling up reserves in New York banks, which seem to have gained much headway during the week, failed entirely to stimulate speculation.

The money market continued easy and sterling exchange showed no advance. The maintenance by the Bank of England of its 4 per cent discount rate may be regarded as a fair notice of its intention to attempt to lift the open market rate. The bank's reserve is very strong, and the market is practically free of indebtedness to the institution, which would prompt its governors, in their capacity as private bankers, to lower the rate and secure business, but in their semi-public capacity and looking to the coming issue of a government loan, it may be incumbent upon them to take measures to attract foreign gold to the English money market. There was some special strength in yesterday's market by Southwestern railroad stocks, notably in the St. Louis Southwestern, the St. Louis & San Francisco, and the Texas and Pacific stocks. Sugar also showed strength.

Bonds were moderately active and firm. Total sales, par value, $3,400,000.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL DAY.

Extensive Preparations Being Made in Several States.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 17.—Telegrams and letters received by Ryerson Ritchie, secretary of the McKinley National Memorial association, indicate a general observance of McKinley day throughout the country. Alexander H. Revell, national trustee, at Chicago, writes that by proclamation Governor Yates has suggested the holding of special services in the churches on Sunday, January 26th, and exercises in the schools on January 29th.

The city council of Chicago will pass a resolution, and Mayor Harrison will issue a proclamation calling for the day's observance. In four thousand churches in Illinois special services will be held.

The ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church of Cook county, have agreed to hold a McKinley memorial service and take up a collection.

Other letters and telegrams show great progress. Governor Herried, of South Dakota, says that his State has raised the sum apportioned. Mr. Henry T. Scott, national trustee of San Francisco, wires that an enthusiastic meeting of the State committee was held Wednesday night and California will raise its full quota.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the National association in Cleveland, on Monday next.

Moral of the Garden.

Nothing teaches patience like a garden. You may go round and watch the opening bud from day to day, but it takes its own time, and you cannot urge it on faster than it will. If forced, it is only torn to pieces. All the best results of a garden, like those of life, are slowly but regularly progressive.—Weekly Bouquet.

"EQUAL PARTNERS."

A Thrilling Story of Mystery by Howard Fielding.

WILL BEGIN NEXT MONDAY

We have secured the serial rights for this story in our paper and will begin its publication in a few days.

The following comments by one who has been permitted to see the opening chapters will give our readers a suggestion of the treat in store for them:

"Equal partners" in what? There is a mystery locked up in this title. And in seeking its solution the first person we meet is Brenda. She is somewhat of an enigma herself. The author calls her "the smooth product of all the social refinements." But that may mean a great many things. After reading of the stabbing of the actress why should Brenda wish to go to the scene of the crime? The broker's name mentioned in the newspaper account may have something to do with it.

Why should the policemen whom Brenda meets in the doorway "seem to fill all the space and their heads to tower to the housetop?" And then it is very strange that the policemen should exchange glances when Brenda inquires with anxiety if the actress is dead. But New York policemen are very suspicious.

That's a queer police captain whose picture we get in a few bold strokes of the pen—"medium stature and very heavy, having the build of an ape, with preposterously long arms, which swung aimlessly when he moved, * * * brutally cynical and smiling without purpose." True, "a man may smile and smile and smile and yet may be a—gentleman." What bothers me is that I do not see why his gaze should fascinate Brenda and why he should not permit her to leave the house after the actress has been carried away in an ambulance.

Now Brenda appears better. In an elegant room "in the presence of Dr. Blair, whose manner was that of the world wherein she had moved, Brenda gains part of her self possession." The author evidently did not intend that "smooth" should have a sinister meaning. Still there is something mysterious about Brenda. She tells the doctor that she obeyed "an unaccountable impulse" in coming to the house. And why should she turn white and wring her hands?

But now we are coming to something. Brenda is confessing that Alden, the broker mentioned in the newspaper account of the crime, was an acquaintance of hers. And so there is a man in the case this time—at the bottom of it, perhaps.

That was a fervid love letter of the broker to the actress. It would do to go with "The Love Letters of an English Woman." It was very inconsiderate in that police captain to want Brenda to go into the room where the actress was stabbed. Of course Brenda would turn faint. I don't like that police captain. The next chapter will doubtless explain Brenda to my entire satisfaction.

This Brenda enigma is deepening. In Elsie's room, after giving his opinion of how the murder was done, this police captain (I find my aversion to him growing) "turned to Brenda with a questioning leer." He even admits that he thinks the murderer may have been a woman.

But what is this? Dr. Blair saw a well dressed young woman leave the house about the time the crime was committed and go in the direction of Broadway. It was on Broadway we first met Brenda. But the doctor is sure he would not know the woman if he were to see her again.

Notwithstanding Captain Neale's innuendoes, Brenda bears herself admirably. It is true that she contradicts herself, but all of us do that sometimes. And that police captain with the ape arms is so horrid! But I would like to know why Brenda is so much interested in Elsie, whom she has never seen. Perhaps the next chapter will tell.

The plot thickens and the mystery deepens. Alden impresses me very favorably, but Brenda gives me a shock when she almost faints at sight of the knife with which the stabbing was done. But the dramatic way in which Captain Neale exposed it was enough to make any woman of refinement faint. Police captains are nothing if not spectacular.

So Brenda was not Miss Williams, as she had announced herself to the policemen at the door, but the daughter of Duncan Maclane, a prominent millionaire. And here is a poser: "Dr. Blair," she whispered, "you will not say it was I whom you saw leaving this house?"

Now Captain Neale begins his inquisition again. At any rate, we shall learn something about the New York police and their methods. Brenda engaged to Alden? And the engagement broken that day? This grows exciting.

"And by the way, Neale, you don't think Alden did this thing, do you?"

"Not on your life," said the captain. I thought Alden was very rash to quarrel with Captain Neale, telling him of his bad reputation. We have not found out much yet, but this is going to be a story worth reading, if only for the picture it gives of New York police. The idea of a police captain arresting a man for murder because he calls the police captain a thief!

The Lodge bill, for the regulation of the consular service, with unimportant amendments, will be favorably reported by the senate committee on foreign relations. It puts the service on an entirely new basis, the leading feature of which is the merit system. Consuls can aid perhaps more than any other government agents in helping America to retain her commercial supremacy abroad. The trouble with the present system is that they are selected haphazard, at the recommendation of congressmen, and are likely to be turned out of office as soon as they fairly get settled down to work and have learned enough of their duties to become really useful. There is urgent need of complete reform of the whole system.

The country has confidence in the Philippine commission, if Mr. Hoar hasn't. There is no need of an investigation, such as he proposes. It would simply disturb matters and serve no other purpose than to provide campaign material for Filipino insurgents, Democrats and other "antis." Any facts which congress desires concerning the conduct of Philippine affairs can be had without spreading a dragnet.

Out in Illinois there is a new woman crusader. She does not war on the saloon, but on lazy men. She does not attack them with a hatchet, but with the law, compelling them to get out and hustle for the support of their families. There are few communities where such a crusader could not find work that needs to be done.

OBITUARY

Mrs. William Shannon.

Mrs. William Shannon, a well known resident of Trentvale street, died yesterday morning. The funeral will take place at the house at 11:30 tomorrow afternoon.

AT THE THEATER

The opera house was again crowded last night, when the Chester De Vonde company presented "Dr. Jekyll And Mr. Hyde." The performance was very cleverly presented, Mr. De Vonde in the difficult double impersonation being exceptionally strong. He was very much perplexed, however, by the actions of a number of giddy girls, occupying front seats, together with others in the balcony, who continued to giggle during the entire performance.

A party of young men who also sat close to the stage continued to annoy the players and spectators until an usher finally restored order. One of the performers, who was angry from disgust, said at the conclusion of the performance that he had never witnessed such disorder at a play of the nature of the one last night in his theatrical experience.

A short time before his death Colonel Robert Ingersoll said before the Players' club, New York: "I do not incline to the play which moves solely to mirth, nor that which alone stirs the serious sensibilities. The one which comforts and consoles me and woos me to forgetfulness of the seamy side of life is the play that creates dimples wherein to catch the tears." Could he have witnessed "Lovers' Lane" he would have found it to precisely answer this meaning. It will be seen at the opera house next Tuesday night for the stage hands' annual benefit.

The forthcoming engagement of Mildred Holland here January 24 in "The Power Behind the Throne" will positively be her last appearance in the character of "Aria" in this city. Next spring she will produce a new romantic drama at the palatial and magnificent Teck theater, Buffalo, written by Carina Jordan, entitled "The Lily And the Prince." Manager Edward C. White contemplates the bringing of this new production to this city some timeduring the next theatrical season.

pany for some time, and while at Grand Rapids, Mich., four months ago, became ill and was confined in a hospital in that city until a few weeks ago. He is well known to the trade, and his many friends will be pleased to learn of his recovery.

The pottery firm of Thomas Maddock Sons' company, of Trenton, was merged into a corporation yesterday, the articles of incorporation being filed in the county clerk's office. The capital stock is $600,000, divided into 6,000 shares at $100 per share. Seventeen hundred and fifty shares are designated as preferred stock, to draw 5 per cent cumulative dividend. The incorporators are Charles S. Maddock, Archie M. Maddock and Harry S. Maddock, each with 10 shares. The corporation has elected the following officers: President S. C. Maddock; vice president, H. S. Maddock; treasurer, A. M. Maddock; secretary, A. D. Anderson. The board of directors are C. S. Maddock, A. M. Maddock and H. S. Maddock. A. M. Maddock said the reason for the change from a firm to a corporation was for the general bettering of the business management—all interested in the firm believing that the corporation form was preferable.

The second anniversary of kilndrawers' local No. 17 will be held in Brotherhood hall Saturday evening and will be celebrated with a smoker. The affair has been placed in the hands of a committee which has prepared an interesting program. It is expected an address will be made to the local by President Hughes, of the National organization, provided he returns from the west in time.

Christopher Horton, who has been employed as a decorating kiln fireman at the C. C. Thompson pottery for years, has taken a similar position at the Dresden pottery. George Swingewood, who was formerly employed at the Diamond pottery in the same capacity, has taken a position with Mr. Horton at the Dresden.

The packers at the C. C. Thompson pottery have not been working full time since before the holidays. Active work will be commenced, however, within a few days, according to a statement of Chief Packer William Swindells yesterday.

George Beggs, bookkeeper at the Sebring Pottery company's plant, who has been off duty for the past two months with muscular rheumatism, is still confined to his home, though feeling somewhat better than he has for the past few days.

Packers' local No. 25 will meet this evening in the Knights of Columbus hall. The meeting promises to be interesting, as delegates to the next annual convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters may be nominated.

Albert Finn, formerly a motorman on the East Liverpool railway, has taken a position at the Wallace & Chetwynd pottery. He is now working in the mixing room, but will take a position as a kilnman scon.

All the machinery at the cooper shop of Captain Dawson was given a thorough overhauling during the past week. A new addition has also been built to the office of Mr. Dawson on the second floor of his shop.

C. H. Davis, a crockery jobber of Cedar Rapids, Ia., was here yesterday, the guest of H. P. Knoblock, of the Dresden. It is said quite a large order for ware was placed with this firm for early shipment.

Packers in the National have found it advisable not to begin work each day until 9 o'clock, on account of the rapid sending out of ware, as orders are taking up the stock faster than it can be made.

Jere McMillan, engineer at the Diamond pottery, has sold his property at the corner of Mulberry alley and Drury lane, to Richard Edmonston. The property will be improved in the spring.

Frank Sebring, of Sebring, is quoted as saying that the East Palestine pottery of the Oliver China company has not been sold, and unless it is sold no new plant will be erected at Sebring.

The local coopers have not had much work to do on account of the holiday shut down of the potteries, but commencing next Monday every shop in the city will be in full operation.

Owing to a rush of orders for decorating ware, the decorators at the Chelsea at New Cumberland were compelled to work until late at night upon several occasions this week.

At Harker's pottery since the holidays, the average has been about two and one-half kilns per week, but there will be a larger number per pay during the coming weeks.

Mr. Crawford, one of the new salesmen for the Smith & Phillips pottery, left yesterday afternoon for an extensive trip through the west. He will be gone several months.

Wednesday the Cartwright pottery shipped a car of ware to Tennessee, while yesterday one was packed for Los Angeles, Cal. Orders are coming in rapidly at this factory.

Cyrus Watson, formerly employed at Laughlin No. 2 as a saggermaker, has taken a similar position with the Potters' Supply company. He commenced work yesterday.

Frank Irwin, of Sebring, was presented with an elegant leather upholstered oak rocker by the employes of the decorating department of the Oliver China company.

F. McHenry, a ground layer at the American pottery at Toronto, who has been in the city several days visiting friends, returned to Toronto yesterday.

Alfred Johnson, of Second street, a dipper at the D. E. McNicol pottery, was in Lisbon today attending the Republican county committee meeting.

Melvin George, a presser at the George C. Murphy pottery, became ill while attending a dance recently and has been unable to work since.

A new floor has been laid in the old packing shed of the Cartwright pottery. The floor disposed of had been in service for 10 years.

Because there was not ware the glost kilnmen of the Diamond pottery did not work yesterday. Work was commenced this morning.

The printers of the Diamond pottery, who have been idle for several weeks, returned to work this morning.

Ambrose Massey, of the Diamond Pottery company, was in Pittsburg yesterday.

Ralph Woods, a presser at the Diamond, is off duty on account of illness.

Local No. 9 will meet in Brotherhood hall this evening.

WELLSVILLE

Its Hasty Abolition Causes Anxiety And Alarm Among Councilmen.

At the meeting of the city council Monday evening, January 6, a majority of the members was present and passed an ordinance which in effect abolished the sewer commission, of which Messrs. Brown, Martin, Brannan and Morland were members.

According to a standing ordinance of the city an ordinance is not effective until it has been published for 10 days, therefore yesterday was the last day of grace. It seems that council did not fully realize the responsibility and work the abolishing of the commission would cause, because late yesterday afternoon there was a great stir on councilmanic circles. One member, evidently alarmed, called upon City Clerk McQueen and demanded that he issue a call immediately for a special meeting of council, as he wished to have an ordinance passed which would repeal the abolishing of the ordinance. The city clerk did not think that such an ordinance could be passed and consulted the city solicitor, who informed him tha council had deferred action too long, and that the only step now would be to hold a meeting and create a new commission.

It is not likely that council will now take such a step, though it may do so in the early spring, when the extensive improvement of sewers will be commenced.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT

At the Home of Mr. And Mrs. Stillwell in Wellsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Stillwell entertained a number of friends at their home on Eleventh street last evening in honor of Louis Hayden, of East Liverpool, and Miss Anna Ward, of Wellsville, who are to be married next month. There were about 75 young people present, most of whom were from East Liverpool.

Many social games were played and fine music was rendered by a quartet consisting of Messrs. Mike Connelly, William Hughes, George Tatgenhorst and Robert Connell. A choice luncheon was also served.

Settled Out of Court.

A barrister riding his bicycle on a path was caught by a policeman. The gentleman at once came off the path and tried to reason with the policeman.

"You aren't really going to run me in for this?" he asked.

"Yes, sir. I can't help it."

"Well, come in here (a public house close by), and we will talk about it."

The policeman followed the gentleman, who ordered two glasses of beer, one for himself, the other for the policeman, both of which were finished before he again remarked:

"Surely you are not really going to make a fuss about this?"

"I must, sir. It's my business."

"Ah! Then at the same time it will be my business to report you for drinking beer while on duty."

The policeman's expression suddenly changed.

"You're a lawyer, I suppose, sir?"

"Yes."

Want 500 Acres of Cucumbers.

Ex-State Senator O. S. Marshall, of New Cumberland, has received a letter from parties who want the farmers of Hancock county to grow 500 acres of cucumber pickles. They will establish eight houses this year and want the farmers of Hancock county to enter the contest for one of the houses.

In Full Operation Soon.

The manager of the Chester tin mill said last evening that two more mills would be started within a few days and that the construction work had progressed sufficiently for him to believe that the plant would be running in its full capacity within six weeks.

CHESTER NOTES.

Lee Conant was in from Fairview yesterday.

W. A. Slack left yesterday for a business visit in Pittsburg.

John West, one of O. O. Allison's clerks, is off duty on account of sickness.

Richard Ellison, Jr., of Magnolia, visited E. C. Baxter and family yesterday.

Miss Leone Stewart, of Gas Valley, is the guest of her sister, Miss Jane Stewart.

Mrs. James Hays, a resident in the Lawrenceville addition, is sick with the grip.

Able to Hear It.

It is well known that Joseph Medill of the Chicago Tribune was somewhat deaf, although his ability at times to hear what was said in an ordinary tone of voice was frequently remarked.

It is related of him that he dropped into the business department of the office one day to make an inquiry about something that had occurred to him, and a young man who had been in his employ only a few months undertook in a loud tone of voice to enlighten him.

"What did you say?" asked Mr. Medill, putting his hand to his ear.

The young man repeated the question in a still louder voice.

"I can't hear you," said the editor.

"Oh, chase yourself around the block, you old granny!" muttered the impatient employee just above his breath.

"I am not an old granny," said Mr. Medill, turning away, "and I shall not chase myself around the block."

The fresh young man made immediate arrangements to say goodby to his job, but the great editor probably thought that the lesson he had received was sufficient and did not disturb him.

A Story of Culberson.

In the Fifty-first congress, when Speaker Reed first gained the title of "czar" by his arbitrary decisions, Judge Culberson was one of his strongest supporters, although he gave the speaker no public indorsement, for political reasons. One afternoon while the Democrats were in a terrible tumult over a decision of the speaker and the proceedings of the house were very near riot a thunderstorm came up. When the confusion was highest, a blinding flash of lightning and a terrible crash of nature's artillery startled every soul on the floor and caused a profound silence. Judge Culberson, like everybody else, was deeply moved, but was the first to recover. "That was God Almighty, sir, calling this house to order," he exclaimed in an impressive tone, addressing the speaker. Then, turning to his colleagues, he said, "Now let us proceed to business like men."

An Unreliable Adage.

"I suppose you lay a great deal of stress on the adage 'Money talks,'" said the man who gets familiarly facetious.

"No, sir," said Senator Sorghum. "If you had observed as many investigations as I have, you'd know that the success of pecuniary enterprise frequently depends on the ability to keep perfectly still."—Washington Star.

When no names are certified to the secretary within five days after the caucus date, the ticket shall be printed blank for such precinct.

"Fifteenth—There shall be three central committeemen elected at each precinct at the county primary each year. The committeemen so elected in all the precincts of the county shall constitute the county central committee. The central committee of each township shall organize by the election of a chairman, secretary and treasurer. The county central committee shall meet in Lisbon on the Tuesday following the county primary, to organize by the selection of a chairman, secretary, treasurer and executive committee, and to fix the time for holding the county primaries for the next year, and adopt rules for its conduct. The precinct central committee shall be the election officers in their precinct.

"Sixteenth—Any central committeeman may be removed on proof, to the satisfaction of the county executive committee, of gross misconduct in office or disloyalty to the party or its nominees, and the vacancy occasioned shall be filled by appointment by said county executive committee.

"Seventeenth—Persons who are legal residents of the township and precinct, and who are at present and have hitherto been identified with the Republican party, shall be held to be qualified electors.

"Eighteenth—Any qualified elector shall have the privilege of challenge, and if the judges are not satisfied of the right of the person to vote they shall administer to him an oath to answer any questions pertaining to his right to vote, and if his answers are not satisfactory or he refuses to be sworn, his vote shall be rejected. Otherwise he shall be accepted and the clerk shall enter the word "Sworn" opposite his name.

"Nineteenth—No one shall be within 100 feet of the polling place.

"Twentieth—This section provides that the committee from each precinct shall provide rooms, booths and ballots for each polling place in their precinct. All other supplies for county primaries shall be furnished by the county central committee.

"Twenty-second—Amendments to these rules must be presented and signed by two or more members of the county central committee and can only be adopted by a majority vote at a regularly called meeting of such committee."

ditions.

At this afternoon's session the rules were read and adoptedw ith minor admous, with the following resolution added:

Resolved, that the names of candidates for congress be placed upon the ticket, and the names of candidates for congressional delegates be placed under the names of their respective candidates for congress. Such delegates shall be elected by townships.

Hon. R. W. Tayler made a telling speech, complimenting the convention on its new regulations. He congratulated the Republicans and the committee on the work done. He was warmly applauded.

Hon. R. W. Tayler arrived last night from Washington to attend the meetings today. He is showing much interest in the proceedings, and is warmly greeted on every hand. It is plain that he is more popular than ever with his Columbiana county constituents. Mr. Tayler will return to Washington tomorrow.

Preferred to Have Her Talk.

They were exchanging reminiscences of a pleasant evening.

"And what did your wife say when you got home?" asked one.

"Nothing," answered the other.

"Nothing? Well, you were in luck."

"Oh, I don't know. I'd rather dodge words than some other things."—New York Mail and Express.

Practical Application.

A certain minister during his discourse one Sabbath morning said, "In each blade of grass there is a sermon."

The following day one of his flock discovered the good man pushing a lawnmower about his yard and paused to say, "Well, parson, I'm glad to see you engaged in cutting your sermons short!"—Chicago News.

Friendship bought with money isn't proof against the coin of your enemy.—Chicago News.

Fiddled Into Office.

If history be true, Governor Taylor of Tennessee is not the only man who fiddled himself into office. Lossing relates that in 1848 he met at Oswego, N. Y., Major Cochran, then nearly 80 years old, a son-in-law of General Philip Schuyler, who told the story of his election to congress during the administration of the elder Adams. A vessel was to be launched on one of the lakes in interior New York, and people came from afar to see it. The young folks gathered there, determined to have a dance at night. There was a fiddle, but no fiddler. Young Cochran was an amateur performer, and his services were demanded. He gratified the joyous company, and at the supper table one of the gentlemen remarked, in commendation of his talents, that he was "fit for congress." The matter was talked up, and he was nominated and elected a representative in congress for the district then comprising the whole of New York west of Schenectady. He always claimed to have "fiddled himself into congress." It seems that history repeats itself, according to the proverb.—Washington Star.

NEGOTIATING PEACE?

Belief Prevailed In London Financial Circles Boers and British Were Conferring.

Vienna Papers Asserted That Netherlands Government Had Entered Into Confidential Relations With Boer Leaders.

London, Jan. 17.—A strong belief prevailed in financial circles here late yesterday that negotiations for peace had been re-opened between the leading Boers and the British government.

Nothing definite can be ascertained with regard to the alleged peace movement.

The Vienna papers declare that the government of the Netherlands has entered into confidential negotiations with the Boer leaders with the view of bringing the war to an end.

Dispatches from Brussels assert that Dr. Leyds, the European representative of the Transvaal, still opposes any negotiations, but that other Boer leaders have been conferring among themselves and with Dr. Kuyper, the Dutch premier, with a view of arranging negotiations. None of these stories have a very solid basis.

In the budget committee of the chamber Thursday several members complained that the government had taken no steps to intervene in South Africa.

In the House of Lords, yesterday, replying to the premier, Lord Rosebery said he favored a passive policy of peace, which would receive overtures when made, and that in this connection he wished to know the truth of the rumors concerning the visit to London of Dr. Kuyper, the premier of Holland. Had Dr. Kuyper brought overtures? he asked.

"Not so far as I know," answered Lord Salisbury.

"Have any overtures been received from the Boer leaders in Europe?" asked Lord Rosebery. To this question Lord Salisbury answered, "No."

In His Speech He Referred to the South African War.

London, Jan. 17.—King Edward opened Parliament yesterday with a ceremonial in all essential respects similar to that of February last. The procession to the House of Lords was of the same character as that witnessed on the occasion of the opening of the first Parliament of King Edward's reign, while within the upper house were seen the same state pageantry, the same historic dresses and the same revival of ancient forms.

After robing, King Edward and Queen Alexandra entered the House of Peers and occupied their thrones, beneath a canopy, with the Prince and Princess of Wales on either side of them. The other members of the royal family were seated on chairs at the foot of the steps leading to the throne.

The gentleman usher of the Black Rod, General Sir Michael Biddulph, having summoned the speaker and the members of the House of Commons, His Majesty read the speech from the throne.

The speech was not an important utterance. His Majesty referred in terms of gratification to the world tour of the Prince and Princess of Wales, expressed regret at the fact that the war in South Africa was not concluded, said he trusted the decision of the sugar conference would lead to the abandonment of bounties, and noted the conclusion of the Isthmian canal treaty.

PROPOSED NEW DEPARTMENT.

Discussion in Senate Showed Desire to Amend Measure.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The Senate yesterday for a brief time had under consideration the bill creating a department of commerce, and the discussion tended to show that the measure will have to be amended in many particulars before it can receive the approval of the Senate. Serious objections were raised to the transfer to the proposed department of several important bureaus now a part of other departments of the government. It was pointed out that if the bill as reported became a law it would create the greatest department of the government, and that the Secretary of Commerce would have more power even than the Secretary of the Treasury. Notice of several important amendments was given.

Baltimore County Taxpayers Act as To School Text-Books.

Baltimore, Jan. 17.—The Baltimore County Taxpayers' convention has placed a ban upon any text-book which does not give Rear Admiral W. S. Schley credit for the naval victory at Santiago.

A resolution was unanimously passed calling upon the Baltimore county delegation in the Legislature to have a law enacted which will prohibit the use of such text-books in the public schools of the county.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Ex-Postmaster General Smith yesterday called at the White House to take leave of President Roosevelt. He left yesterday afternoon for Philadelphia, where he will immediately resume editorial control of the Philadelphia Press.

FIRST.—I WILL NOT PERMIT MYSELF, IF POSSIBLE, TO SPEAK WHILE ANGRY. If I must speak before I can control my anger, I will force myself to speak in a low tone of voice, and I will not make a bitter retort to another person who speaks to me in anger.

SECOND.—I WILL NEITHER GOSSIP ABOUT THE FAILINGS OF ANOTHER NOR WILL I PERMIT ANY OTHER PERSON TO SPEAK SUCH GOSSIP TO ME. Gossip will die, with all its hateful, deadly train of slander and broken hearts and blighted lives, when it cannot find a listener.

Third.—I will respect weakness and defer to it on the street car, on the elevated train, in the store and in the home, whether it be in man or woman.

Fourth.—I will always express gratitude for any favor or service rendered to me on the spot and at once. If prevented from doing it, then I will seek an early opportunity to give utterance to it in the most gracious way within my power.

Fifth.—I will not fail to express sympathy with another's sorrow or to give hearty utterance to my appreciation of good work by another, whether the party be friendly to me or not.

ONE BUTTONHOLE BOUQUET OFFERED AMID LIFE'S STRESS OF TRIAL IS WORTH A THOUSAND WREATHS OF ROSES LAID ON A MAN'S COFFIN WHO DIED DISCOURAGED AND BROKEN HEARTED.

Sixth.—I will not talk about my personal ailments. If my shoulder is rheumatic or I have the gout in my big toe or my knee joint is stiff, it will be one of the subjects on which I am silent and not open to interview.

Seventh.—I will look on the bright side of the circumstances of my daily life and will seek to carry a cheerful face and speak cheerfully and hopefully to all whom I meet.

Eighth.—I will neither eat nor drink what I know will detract from my ability to do my best work and be of the most service to myself or others.

Ninth.—I will speak and act truthfully, living with sincerity toward God and man.

TENTH.—I WILL STRIVE TO BE ALWAYS READY FOR THE VERY BEST THAT CAN HAPPEN TO ME. I WILL SEEK TO BE READY TO SEIZE THE HIGHEST OPPORTUNITY, TO DO THE NOBLEST WORK, TO RISE TO THE LOFTIEST PLACE WHICH GOD AND MY ABILITIES PERMIT.

Robbers Escaped and Officials State That a Package Containing Three Dollars Their Loss.

Ft. Smith, Ark., Jan. 17.—The southbound Kansas City Southern passenger train was held up Wednesday night at 11 o'clock a mile north of Spiro, I. T., by seven masked men. The express and mail car were entered. The local safe in the express car was opened, but nothing secured from it. The robbers tried to open the through safe but failed. Then they rifled the mail car and it is said secured a quantity of registered mail.

The scene of the robbery is 15 miles from Ft. Smith. A report yesterday from there says that United States marshals are scouting the country in search of the robbers. Three suspects, miners, have been arrested and taken to Poteau, I. T.

Postoffice officials here deny that any registered mail was taken, and the express officials say that one package containing $3 covers the loss.

He Apologized.

International courtesies are to be observed even in disreputable professions. Josiah Flynt, who has shared the company of tramps in order to procure data as to their methods of living, relates an instance of true politeness from one of that unsavory brotherhood. He says in "Tramping With Tramps:"

"In Glasgow a fellow vagabond did me a good turn. We were walking along the street, when three town tramps came along and 'guyed' my hat. My companion noticed it, and I told him I had suffered in that way before. Then he turned sharply about on the scoffers and thundered out:

"'Who're you lookin at? Ef you're tryin to guy this Yank, you'd better stop! Ef you don't, there'll be a fight!'

"'Let's run,' said I, 'if you really mean that.'

"'Not much! I'm English, you know, and I can knock out any Scotchman that comes round. I'm in the mood for it right now.'

"The town vagabonds took him at his word and left. Then I said to him, 'You English fellows seem to have things pretty much your own way here.'

"'Yes,' said he; 'we English fellers know how to bluff. We've been bluffin the world now for a good many years.'

"'You forget the United States!' I could not help interjecting.

"'Beg pardon, Yank,' said he. 'Beg pardon!'"

Deceitful Man.

Two men were standing together in a postoffice. One of them happened to notice that a postcard held in the fingers of the other was addressed to the holder.

"Why, what does this mean?" he asked. "Do you address letters to yourself?"

"In this case, yes," was the answer.

"That's funny."

"Well, not so very. See the other side."

He held it up, and the other side read: "Brother Blank—There will be a meeting of the I. O. O. S. B., No. 387, at the hall tonight to transact special business. Members not present will be fined $10. J. B., secretary."

"Yes, but I don't exactly catch on," protested the innocent.

"Oh, you don't? Well, I got the cards printed myself. The society is all a myth. When I want to go out of an evening, I direct one of these cards to my house. I reach home, and my wife hands it to me with a sigh. I offer to stay home and stand the fine of 2 guineas, but of course she won't allow that. That's all, my friend, except that the scheme is worked by hundreds of others, and the poor, deluded wives haven't tumbled to it yet."

The Abyssinian warriors always honor their king by a band escort of 45 trumpets wherever he goes.

Sandalwood, which sometimes feeds a bushman's fire, is exported to China for idol incense.

The little folks love Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Pleasant to take; perfectly harmless; positive cure for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma.

Thieves and Officers In a Desperate Contest 400 Feet Underground.

SCORES OF SHOTS FIRED

Thieves Were Finally Victorious And Forced the Company's Men to Retreat—Men Alleged to Have Stolen Thousands Every Month.

Victor, Col., Jan. 17.—A desperate battle 400 under ground between ore thieves and officers and trusted employes occurred in the Independence mine on Battle mountain yesterday. Between 50 and 75 shots were exchanged between the opposing parties. Lee Glockner, a member of the company's force, was shot twice, but not seriously injured.

The fight was most determined, but the thieves finally gained the upper hand and forced the company's men to retreat toward the big shaft, giving the thieves an opportunity to escape.

The management of Stratton's Independence company of London, England, which owns the Independence mine, has been aware for a long time that rich deposits of sylvanite in the mine were being systematically robbed, the stealings amounting to thousands of dollars a month. Detectives were employed, and it is said the thieves were detected in the act of looting a rich seam of ore. They escaped through the underground workings connected with an adjoining property.

DECLARED SUPERIOR KNEW IT.

Rathbone Said He Used Government Money to Furnish Official Residence—Others Did Also.

Havana, Jan. 17.—At the trial of the charges growing out of the Cuban postoffice frauds, yesterday, the examination of Estes G. Rathbone, ex-director general of posts of Cuba, was concluded. Counsel for W. H. Reeves, ex-deputy auditor for Cuba, requested the privilege of cross-examining Rathbone, which was accorded. The cross-examination will begin to-day.

During yesterday's hearing Rathbone was questioned further relative to the furnishing of his residence in El Cerro, Havana, from the postal funds. He said he could not have been expected to furnish his official residence from private funds; that he had not known how long he was going to remain in Cuba, and that Gen. John Brooke, ex-military governor of Cuba, and Gen. William Ludlow, ex-military governor of the city of Havana, had furnished their official residences from government funds.

Rathbone said his superiors knew of his expenditures in this respect, and had not made any objection thereto, and that these bills were only for moneys spent for housefurnishing, and not on his private account. The examination of a bill from a New York department store showed that fifty pairs of hose which it was alleged Rathbone bought for his private use, read fifty feet of hose.

NAVAL RECEPTION TO HENRY.

Vessels Assigned to Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, who has been charged with the preparation and execution of the naval program at the reception of Prince Henry, called upon Dr. Von Holleben, the German ambassador, at the embassy yesterday, and consulted him regarding the arrangements for the naval welcome to be accorded the distinguished visitor. Admiral Evans will keep in close touch with the ambassador and the embassy in order that he may conform his own arrangements to those of the visiting party.

It may be said on authority that the Kronprinz Wilhelm will not deviate from her course and go first to Hampton Roads, as heretofore reported, but will bear Prince Henry direct to New York, where the naval demonstration proper will take place.

The following squadron has been assigned to Rear Admiral Evans by the navy department to welcome the Prince: Flagship, the battleship Illinois, protected cruisers Olympia, San Francisco and Cincinnati and the cruiser Hartford.

KAISER WILL SEND ALICE ROOSEVELT PRESENT

New York, Jan. 17.—Prince Henry of Prussia will bring from Germany a handsome present for Miss Alice Roosevelt from the Emperor in recognition and as a souvenir of her part in the launching of the new royal yacht. Announcement of this fact was made yesterday in a dispatch to the Staats Zeitung from Berlin. The cablegram also said that Prince Henry had been directed to arrange for aquatic sports between German and American tars in the foreign ports where they meet. The German government has accepted Mayor Low's offer of the use of West Thirty-fourth street pier for the imperial yacht Honenzollern during the visit to the city of Prince Henry. The acceptance is accompanied by an expression of thanks in the name of Prince Henry.

PRINCE TO BE ENTERTAINED AT GERMAN EMBASSY.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Ambassador Von Holleben, who was at the State department yesterday in conference with Secretary Hay, has given notice that he will entertain Prince Henry and suite at the German embassy here. Dr. Hill, the first assistant secretary of state, who by reason of an extended residence in Germany is perfectly conversant with the German language, may be charged to represent the Department of State in the ceremonies connected with the reception of the Prince.

COMPLAINED OF TUNNEL.

Superintendent Admitted Railroad Employes Did So.

New York, Jan. 17.—The coroner's inquest to determine the responsibility for the death of seventeen persons in the New York Central tunnel last week was begun yesterday. The proceedings were in part:

Policeman Patrick H. Fox said he asked Wisker, engineer of the White Plains train what had caused the accident, and Wisker replied: "There was a train passing and the smoke and steam shut off the signals."

Joseph H. Franklin, manager of the Grand Central depot, was on the stand. The district attorney questioned him. His testimony was in part: He admitted that he had received many complaints from trainmencve garding the signal lights in the tunnel. These men had called his attention to the fact that on foggy days the lights could be seen only a very short distance.

Mr. Franklin said he was under the orders of President Newman, of the New York Central, and President Hall, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford road. He said he had spoken to them about the tunnel lights when they had taken him to task about trains being late. Nothing, in particular, he said, had been done about the complaints of the engineers concerning the lights.

Answering Mr. Jerome, Manager Franklin admitted that the murky morning on which the disaster occurred, was the first time Engineer Wisker had taken a passenger train through the tunnel.

POSTMASTERS CONFIRMED.

Those From Pennsylvania and Ohio Passed Upon By the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The Senate yesterday confirmed a number of nominations. Among the postmasters connrmed were these:

Pennsylvania—W. T. Geddes, Windber; J. W. Hall, Cresson; C. W. Zook, Roaring Springs; J. S. Paul, South Fork; J. C. Chamberlain, Everett.

REPORTS OF DISSENSIONS GREATLY EXAGGERATED.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Ex-Senator Henry B. Davis, chairman of the United States delegation to the Pan-American congress, has just returned from the City of Mexico and called upon President Roosevelt yesterday. Mr. Davis said that the reports of dissensions in the congress had been exaggerated. The influence of the American delegates in the congress was large and he looked for benefits to our commerce with South American countries to result from the congress.

To Swallow His Own Advice.

"I had a horrible dream last night," said Huddleston when he came down to breakfast the other morning.

"What was it?" asked his wife.

"I dreamed that I was in purgatory and was made to do all the things I had told my friends I would do if I were in their places."—Brooklyn Life.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

Good Music—The children will have a chance to hear goodm usic at the Y. M. C. A. hall tomorrow afternoon at a small cost. Indications point to a large house.

Shot a Cat—Officer Thomas Stafford dispatched a cat on Jackson street yesterday afternoon. By the unerring aim of some unfeeling boys the cat's back had been broken. The feline's cries had disturbed the neighborhood for two days when the officer put an end to its miseries.

Wrestling Match — Arrangements will be completed within a short time for a wrestling match in this city. Conkie, of East Palestine, will be one of the principals, but the name of his opponent has not been made public, although it is said a local man will appear against him. The affair will be held at Turner hall and a permit for holding the event will be asked from Mayor Davidson.

SELLING the newest and the freshest of merchandise when all other stores are offering leavings; and selling the newest and freshest for less than others ask for leavings, is an advantage not to be overlooked.

OUR big Chicago purchase, blended with our own stock, gives a freshness and completeness to our stocks, combined with which there is a money saving feature that makes attractions here unparalled.

A Carnival of Bargains for Boys and Boys' Parents. We cannot remember a time in the history of this store, nor in the history of the Clothing trade, when Boys' good Clothing was offered so cheaply.

$1.10 For Boys' Double Breasted Suits— For ages 8 to 16 years. There is an assortment of patterns to please all, and there is not a suit in the lot but that would be cheap during clearance-sale times for $1.50.

$1.45 For boys' best $2 and $2.50 suits. For ages 8 to 16 years. They are all choice patterns and wear-resisting cloths, substantially aud stylishly made. They are the double breasted Jacket styles.

$1.50 For children's suits. For ages 2½ to 8 years. Nobby little junior and blouse suits in a variety of handsome materials, that would ordinarily be cheaply priced at $2 and $2 50.

$3.90 For children's suits. For ages 2½ to 8 years. In this assortment are included not only the junior and blouse suits, but the Russian suits and the Norfolk suits. High art novelty productions not to be secured elsewhere, even in clearance times, under $5.50 and $6.

$2.25 For boys' $3, $3.50 and $3.75 suits. For ages 8 to 16 years. There is not a suit in the lot but would cost more to make at the factory than the sale price we quote.

$2.90 For children's suits. For ages 2½ to 8 years. These are worth an average $4. Made in junior and blouse styles—nobby materials—good wearing materials, and splendidly made.

$2.15 For boys' and children's overcoats. Nobby top garments — fully $1.00 under regular duplicating prices.

Animals in the United States.

The department of agriculture has recently published an estimate of the animal population of the country. It comprises 13,537,524 horses, about 2,000,000 mules, about 28,000,000 cattle, 16,292,360 milk cows and 81,883,065 sheep. As automobile traction is introduced the number of horses and mules will gradually diminish, and the effect is already evident.

19TH YEAR. NO. 14. EAST LIVERPOOL, FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1902. TWO CENTS.

MERIT COUNTS MOST

In every position in life and in every kind of business. Merit in a newspaper is quickly recognized by the public.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW is extending its business every day at a rate unprecedented in the history of East Liverpool journalism.

How Does it Do It?

Finds It Indispensable.

Thousands of new readers gained in the past few months are pretty good evidence of public recognition and public appreciation. Its value as the best advertising medium in East Liverpool is attested by hundreds of business men. Of this fact there is Plenty of Evidence.

For instance, during the month of December there were printed in the Classified Advertisement Column of this paper, 432 Want Ads.

A larger number than ever appeared in a like period in any news paper published in Columbiana County. This department of its business is growing at a marvelous rate.

People Who Advertise

And find that advertising brings the desired result return again and again. That is why, wants, for sales, for rents and similar notices are always numerous in the News Review. They cost but little and they

Makes It Bright.

You want a light to make it bright? Then why not have the light that makes it the brightest—the electric light.

IT COSTS LESS, IS LESS TROUBLE,
GIVES BEST LIGHT

It's an improvement over all other lights, which is why it is so popular.

INDIANS ON RAMPAGE

JUDGE TIED UP THEIR MONEY.

Ordered $38,000, Which Was to Be Paid Them for Selling Chicago Lake Front Land, to Be Turned Over Only to Guardians.

Dowagiac, Mich., Jan. 17.—Three hundred Pottawattamie Indians were on a rampage last night and were besieging Lee Brothers' bank, which they threatened to break open if they were not paid the money they expected to receive yesterday, for signing over their claims to lake front land in Chicago.

Many of the Indians were armed. The town marshal swore in a number of deputies. All other citizens were keeping in doors, fearing to leave their houses.

The Indians came to town yesterday to get $38,000, which was to be paid them by an agent of the Chicago syndicate to which they signed over their power of attorney to act in the lake front land case. The Indians were to have received $100 each. Just as the agent was about to issue the money an order was received from the probate judge of the county instructing him to make payment only to the guardians of the Indians. The judge feared the Indians would spend the money in saloons, and after becoming intoxicated cause trouble.

Every one was hoping that the Indians would grow quieter as the night wore on. If any attempt should be made to wreck the bank a serious conflict was expected to follow.

FIVE INDIANS WERE KILLED.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Five Indians were killed during the recent trouble at the Tongue river agency in Montana, according to the official report received by Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones yesterday from Agent Clifford. The agent recommended that fifty men from the United States army under command of a commissioned officer be stationed permanently at Camp Merritt, near the agency. Now there are only eleven men under command of a sergeant at Camp Merritt.

The report shows that the recent trouble began on the 4th inst., when two Indian police reported that an Indian named White, the center figure in the affair, had fresh beef in his cabin, coincident with the unlawful killing and mutilation of several head of cattle east of Tongue river. White refused three times to surrender and wanted to fight. Then Private White Shield and six other policemen went for White, finding him on a hill near his cabin. They had instructions to avoid trouble if possible, as White was a desperate character, and a leader in the Messiah troubles. Little Bear, another Indian, made an inflammatory speech, and White's wife and daughter gave a war cry and tried to stab White Shield. White shot and killed an Indian policeman named Bullard and killed one horse and wounded another horse.

The police were repulsed and were returning home when they were again fired upon. They did not shoot. White threatened to raid the agency and the entire police force was held in reserve for some time. On the 8th inst. White and his wife, son and daughter were found dead. It was believed that the son opposed his father's surrendering himself, and killed the father and the others of the family and then committed suicide.

Black Crane and about 25 other Indians also threatened trouble, and the troops were called out, but there were no further developments.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio—Fair to-day; to-morrow fair and warmer; fresh northeasterly winds, becoming variable.

Western Pennsylvania—Generally fair to-day and to-morrow; probably warmer to-morrow; fresh northeasterly winds, shifting southerly by to-morrow.

One Thing Needful.

Irate Father (of pretty girl)—What! Is it possible you are here again after the treatment you received last night!

Young Man—Yes, sir. When you kicked me down stairs and set the dog on me, the animal tore a large piece from my trousers.

Irate Father—Well, isn't that enough? What more do you want?

Young Man—If it isn't too much trouble, sir, I would like that piece of cloth.—Chicago News.

Possible Explanation of It.

"I wonder what's the matter with Willie Jenkins? He's been getting into all sorts of mischief of late, especially Thursday afternoons."

LUKBAN CAN SURRENDER.

Provided He Is Not To Take Oath of Allegiance.

Manila, Jan. 17.—Gen. Chaffee will leave Manila for the island of Samar next Saturday. He will thoroughly investigate the situation there as it is desired to stamp out the Samar insurrection during the dry season.

A captured communication from the Filipino insurgent junta at Hong Kong addressed to Gen. Lukban (the insurgent leader on Samar island), authorizes Lukban to surrender if he wishes to do so, but does not advocate this action. If Lukban surrenders, the letter goes on to say, he need not deliver a single Filipino soldier or officer to the Americans, nor must he (Lukban) or any other officer be forced to accept civil appointment. They may emigrate if allowed to do so, but no Filipino must be obliged to take the oath of allegiance of the United States. Under these terms the Hong Kong junta has no objection to Lukban's surrendering.

Trustees Met—Superintendent Says Future Is Promising.

Buffalo, Jan. 17.—The annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Chautauqua Assembly was held here. The financial report places the total assets at $594,046.02. The total liabilities are $347,646.40, of which $78,100.08 is to the credit of the endowment and various building funds. The surplus is $246,399.62. The receipts for the fiscal year 1900-01 were $102,680.95. The expenditures were $98,902.18, leaving a gain of $3,778.77.

The report of the superintendent of instruction says the future of Chautauqua shows much promise.

SIX MEN WERE HURT.

Explosion Occurred tin a Plant at Springfield, O.

Springfield, O., Jan. 17.—There was a terrific explosion in the blacksmith shop of the plant of the Warder, Bushnell & Glessner company. Two hundred men were at work in the department at the time. There was a blinding flash, a dull roar and the great roof fell in. Six men were hurt. They are Harper Waltham, Charles Stephens, William Beatty, Samuel Sami, John Golden and John Smith.

None of the injuries are serious. The cause of the explosion is not known.

HASKINS ELECTED PRESIDENT BY OHIO MINERS.

The Belief In Charms.

A belief in charms has existed in all ages and has been shared by all peoples. It is a natural result of superstition. The phylacteries worn by Mohammedan and Jewish women on the forehead form but one phase of this universal belief. Faith, however, is deemed essential and is true of all talismans that are copied from old patterns and not constructed according to the rules of the cabalistic art.

Talismans to be efficacious must be constructed when the planets are in benefic configuration. It is then that the magic geometrical words and figures inscribed thereon are more potent in their results for good. The date of birth of the person for whom the talisman is made must also be considered, so that his particular lucky star is taken into consideration.

Many great men were believers in talismans and wore them constantly. Napoleon especially was very superstitious and carried on his person a charm given to him by an Egyptian priest, which he regarded as being responsible for his great success in battle. The Rothschild family, it is said, also has a talisman, which is an heirloom. It is in the shape of a snuffbox and is said to have brought the family the great wealth for which it is celebrated.—New York Herald.

The Same Thing.

"I'm sorry we haven't much of a dinner," said Spatts to Bloobumper, whom he had urged to stay for that meal. "You ought to have dropped in last evening. We had a stunning dinner then."

"Why, papa," chirped Sammy Spatts, "that's just what you told Mr. Taddells at dinner yesterday!"—Detroit Free Press.

She Walked on Him.

"Did you propose to her? What was the result?"

"Well, she took me for a walk."

"Ah! To give you a chance to tell her, eh?"

"Not at all. I say she took me for a walk because she used me as if I was one. She got on to me with both feet."—Philadelphia Press.

Repeated.

"Ah, that was a rare one!" he exclaimed, after snatching a kiss.

"Yes," she said, somewhat disappointed that he had missed her lips in his haste and merely kissed her upon the chin; "it was under done."

Then he proceeded to overdo it.—Troy Times.

DEMOCRATS TO FIGHT

With More Vigor, In Ohio, In The Future Campaigns.

A PERMANENT HEADQUARTERS

To Be Established, in Charge of Salaried Secretary—State Central Committee Members and Others Conferred—Committee Named.

Columbus, O., Jan. 17.—At a conference of the Democratic State Central committee, with prominent leaders of the party held here, it was decided to establish permanent State headquarters at Columbus, in charge of a salaried secretary, and to push the work of the party more vigorously in future campaigns.

The call for the meeting was issued by W. J. Frey, of Findlay, chairman of the State Central committee. In addition to the members of that body there were present Mayor Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland; J. L. Zimmerman, of Springfield; Charles W. Baker, of Cincinnati; former Congressman John J. Lentz, and more than a score of other leaders from various sections of the State.

There was a general sentiment that the party ought to get together and organize more vigorous campaigns. Mayor Johnson and former Congressman Lentz favored the immediate adoption of a declaration of principles. The former advocated a declaration for tax reforms and the latter thought three-cent fares on street railways and municipal ownership ought also to be advocated. The consensus of opinion, however, was against any immediate action with reference to party declarations and the matter went over to a subsequent meeting.

A committee on permanent organization was appointed, consisting of Harvey Garber, Columbus; Charles P. Salen, Cleveland; Charles W. Baker, Cincinnati; William Burnett, Springfield, and J. W. Frey, Cleveland. Mr. Garber was elected chairman of the committee, and it was decided to open headquarters in his office in Columbus, at once.

Was In the Business.

It was on a Seventh street car that a well dressed man carried his hand to his jaw now and then and uttered a stifled groan. After a bit a fellow passenger had his curiosity aroused and brusquely queried:

"Toothache?"

"Yes."

"I've been there and know all about it. If she's holler and has the jumps, it ain't no use fooling around. What you want to do is to go to a dentist."

"Um! Jerusha, but how it aches!"

"Go right to the dentist and have it yanked out. Man with the toothache always feels a little scared about having it yanked, but that's all imagination, you know."

"I'd rather be shot!" groaned the sufferer.

"Oh, pshaw! Go to some dentist who gives laughing gas. He'll give you gas and take the tooth out without your knowing it. I pledge you my word that it won't hurt any more than paring off a finger nail."

"Um! What a liar! G'way from me!"

"Why, man, I pledge you my word that you'll never"—

"Don't talk to me! I know all about it! I've been a dentist myself for the last 15 years!"

"Oh, you have!" growled the other as he backed away. "Well, that's different. It will not only seem to you as if your blamed old head was being pulled off your shoulders, but your jaw will ache two weeks after, and I'm durned glad of it too!"—Washington Post.

Sorrows of the Millionaire.

Look at the ways of the millionaire. Given his million, he gives up his house and builds himself a small, first class hotel in some big city, which for the greater part of the year is occupied by servants. He next erects a country palace at Lenox or at Newport. This he calls a cottage, though it usually looks more like a public library or a hospital or a clubhouse.

Then he builds himself a camp, with stained glass windows, in the Adirondacks and has to float a small railroad in order to get himself and his wife's trunks into camp. Shortly after these follows a bungalow modeled after a French chateau, somewhere in the south, and then a yacht warranted to cross the ocean in ten days and to produce seasickness 12 hours sooner than the regular ocean steamer becomes one of the necessities of life.

Result, he never lives anywhere. To occupy all his residences, camps and bungalows he has to keep eternally on the move, and when he thinks he needs a trip to Europe he has his yacht got ready and sends it over, going himself on a fast steamer. Oh, it's a terrible thing to be a millionaire and have nowhere to lay one's head, with every poorer man envying him, many hating him and hands raised against him everywhere!—Woman's Home Companion.

The hardworking laborers and coolies seen everywhere in Japan wear only a narrow loin scarf and straw sandals. In cold and rainy weather they wear a mackintosh of loose straw over their shoulders and a mammoth rude hat.

Thought to Be Diamond Thief.

New Orleans, Jan. 17.—Although Manners, under arrest here, still denies that he is Kern, the New York diamond thief, the belief is growing stronger that he is the right man. A piece of corroborative evidence is his possession of a toilet set marked "M. E. T.," which is supposed to belong to Mr. Thebaud's brother, though Manners says it is his own initials reversed. He has engaged counsel, but no legal steps have yet been taken in his behalf.

Pennsylvania Treasury Receipts.

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.—The report of State Treasurer Barnett for the fiscal year ending November 30, 1901, shows that the total treasury receipts for that period was $17,727,432.46. A portion of this amount will be returned to the counties so that the aggregate receipts retained by the State will not exceed $15,000,000. That part of the report showing the expenditures for the year has not yet been prepared by Col. Barnett.

Coal Miners' Strike Settled.

Columbus, O., Jan. 17.—The coal miners' strike in Columbiana county, involving over 800 men, who have been out for more than eight months, has been settled, and work will be resumed soon. Under the settlement the miners are paid for lineal work, which has heretofore been the bone of contention.

Ten Perished in the Mines.

Negaunee, Mich., Jan. 17.—There were ten men killed by the cave-in a week ago Tuesday instead of nine, as reported at the time. Angelo Carilla, the tenth victim, was not numbered among the missing. He is an Italian, but was not missed until yesterday.

Kate Masterson's First Poem.

Kate Masterson, the poet and humorist, thus describes the beginning of her literary career:

"I was at school in Brooklyn when I first sent a poem to Judge, signing it Kittie K. It was accepted and published with an illustration, and my cup of joy was brimming. When I got a check for $2, I effervesced. I then sent some verses to Puck, which was then edited by H. C. Bunner. They were also signed Kittie K., but were written from a masculine point of view, and, as I wrote a very gentlemanly hand, Bunner evidently came to the conclusion that I was a boy. He sent me some very funny letters, and I replied, keeping up the idea that I was a very fresh, slangy boy. He accepted the verses, 'She Stood on the Stair,' and they were published in a Christmas number with a picture. As this was only the second poem I had sold in my life, you can imagine how wildly anxious I was to have it appear. I bothered Bunner with inquiries, for of course that was the only poem on earth to me just then. I recollect finally writing him, 'Do you think my poem will be published during my lifetime?'

"He wrote me, 'My dear boy, I cannot say if your poem will be published during your lifetime, as I do not know when you are going to die.'"—Saturday Evening Post.

Base Apathy.

"Say, Thompson, did you ever notice that I was brutally indifferent to my children?"

"Certainly not. You're quite the contrary, Holmes."

"Well, do I look like a miscreant who would be only too glad to abandon them to the mercy of strangers?"

"Of course not. Whatever put such an idea into your head?"

"Or have I the reputation of being so selfish that I would not disturb or exert myself in the slightest to secure their safety from the most desperate danger?"

"No, indeed. Who's been accusing you of such things?"

"My wife."

"Your wife? Why?"

"Why, little Johnny got himself lost for a couple of hours the other day, and all I did was to notify the police, hire every private detective in town and rouse all the neighbors to help hunt for him."

"Wasn't that enough?"

"No. She insists that I am a brutal, selfish miscreant and several other things because I refused to do all she wanted me to."

"Make the governor order out the militia to help hunt."—Harper's Bazar.

At the Criterion theater Mrs. Leslie Carter is the star of David Belasco's new play, "Du Barry." This actress made something of a sensation two seasons ago in New York as Zaza in a play which the dramatic censor should have stopped. There being no such officer, the play ran to abnormal business, and every one who did not see it was sorry. The fact that Mrs. Carter played it so well made it more harmful, and in her new role she is almost another Zaza. I was astonished to see in the house girls in short dresses and young ladies with young gentlemen looking at a play which they could scarcely discuss at the fall of the curtain.

The play of "Du Barry" deals with the life of that notorious woman from the time she is a little milliner in a shop in Paris to her execution on the guillotine during the French revolution. She has meanwhile been the favorite of the king, Louis XV., and, shameless creature though she was, she was almost the queen of France and had the homage of royalty accorded her. Through all this glitter she is not happy because, as she says, the one decent thing in her life is her pure love for Cosse, the son of De Brissac, captain of the king's guards. This young man, after he has asked her to be his wife, casts her off when he finds her living in rooms adjoining a gambling house for royalty, where she has been tempted to go as a decoy for the men. She does no wrong there but yield to her love of flattery, fine clothes and jewels. She longs for her lover's return, and when he does find her he will not believe in her purity and, scorning her, leaves her forever.

Being a creature of impulse and feeling his injustice, Du Barry yields to the entreaties of the king at this moment and is translated to the palace at Versailles, where for a year she reigns supreme. Here she receives the news that Cosse, her lover, has been imprisoned for months by the king, who is madly jealous of La Du Barry.

Following a quarrel with the king on this subject, she locks her door on him, and immediately a wounded man, who is none other than Cosse, staggers into her room. He has escaped, and in his rage and jealousy of the king he has come to kill him, but is wounded in getting into the palace. La Du Barry, loving him, is wild to know what to do, for momentarily she expects the king to return. Cosse is so excited that he will not heed her warning of danger; therefore, in desperation, when she hears the king's knock, she strikes her lover in his wounded breast to deaden his voice by pain. Finding that he has been rendered unconscious, she covers him on the bed, where he has fallen, and throws herself on the other side, having opened the door for the king and his followers. A violent scene of outraged dignity follows, and La Du Barry turns them all from her room. Next day she is forced to reveal the hiding place of her lover, whose life is spared, but she is made to promise in return to make him believe that she betrayed him so that he might live to see her as the plaything of the king. Loving him, she promises this because she knows that otherwise he will be killed. She then keeps her promise, but not as was expected, for, in the presence of the whole court, while horrified at the position in which she finds herself, she denounces the king, exposes his vileness and is turned from court penniless.

Years after, when the revolution is on, La Du Barry is betrayed in her humble home in Paris by her brother-in-law and is condemned to the guillotine. The acme of cruelty is reached when the summons for arrest is sent by the hands of her old lover, now a free man and an officer of the people.

"Du Barry" is full of strong dramatic situations and is superbly mounted, but Mr. Belasco has ignored history and simply made a play with La Du Barry as the central figure. There is enough material for several strong dramas in this one, and almost sufficient time is lost in scene shifting to give another performance. It is too long, and there are many unnecessary people and many anticlimaxes.

In all the anger, sarcastic impudence and unbridled emotion allowable Mrs. Carter is excellent. These points are her forte, but in the tenderness, tears and gentle refinement of suffering she is not satisfactory. There was only one moment when she made me forget that I was in a theater, and that was at the close of the fourth act, when she denounces the king. For that instant only she was superb.

The lover, as played by Hamilton Revelle, was very good, as was the work of C. A. Stevenson, Henry Weaver, Sr., and H. R. Roberts, respectively, as King Louis XV., the Duc de Brissac and the papal nuncio. Special praise must be given to Claude Gillingwater, whose Denys, perfectly carried out, was as pretty a piece of acting as I have ever seen in a role of the faithful friend and servant sort.

The festive scene in the royal gardens before dawn was a beautiful piece of stage setting.

"The Wilderness," a comedy in three acts by that writer of dainty dramas, H. V. Esmond, was the play selected by Charles Frohman for the inauguration of the thirteenth season of his Empire theater stock company in this city. Accepting the public estimate of the play, it would be exaggeration to assert that it has scored a sensational success. Nevertheless it appears to please in a mild fashion and is at least a gratifying relief from the impossible swashbuckling dramas with which for a couple of seasons we have been almost uninterruptedly afflicted. The language of "The Wilderness" is well chosen and neatly turned, and there is much spontaneous comedy.

To most persons the first and second acts will appear exasperatingly slow; but, even admitting that to be true, it is conceded that the action thereafter is sufficiently rapid to suit the most exacting critic. As this is a fault common to almost every play in which any pretense to characterization is made, it need not be regarded as an irremediable blemish. Another element in favor of the possible ultimate success of "The Wilderness" is the fact that its third and final act is its strongest, and the auditor is sent home with the pleasantest portions of the performance ringing in his ears.

Nothing can be simpler than the story of "The Wilderness." Mabel Vaughan, a flirtatious little goose, has deluded herself into the belief that she is madly in love with a hopeless cad, Jack Kennerley. Still she has an eye to the material side of life and permits herself to be induced by her mother to accept the attentions of Sir Harry Milanor, a baronet of wealth and position. Then she repents and almost asks Kennerley to wed her. That cad, however, has a little sense, and he shows her how impossible is their union when neither has the wherewithal to maintain an establishment in keeping with their position in life. Naturally this does not raise Kennerley in the estimation of Miss Vaughan, and she forthwith proceeds to "set her cap" for Sir Harry Milanor, that gentleman having foolishly permitted himself to fall in love with the little flirt.

When the curtain rises on the third act, we learn that Sir Harry and Mabel have been married seven months, during which time the latter has learned to love her husband. She determines to confess to him her early deception. Just then Kennerley, the cad, returns from the war, a wounded hero. He fondly imagines that Mabel still loves him, and she, having decided upon her course of action, leads him on until he has revealed himself in the most contemptible light. Then she turns upon him and "gives him a piece of her mind," at the same time informing him that she intends to make to her husband a confession of her earlier mistakes. This confession, by the way, is generally looked upon as about the best bit in the play. Indeed, if "The Wilderness" lives it will owe its continued existence largely to this confession and the denunciation immediately preceding it.

The Empire company, as usual, was excellent. Mr. Richman and Margaret Anglin as Sir Harry Milanor and Mabel Vaughan, respectively, doing creditable work.

The United States as a World Power

Again and again it is stated that the United States has now become a world power. So it has. But what is meant by the term "a world power," and how are we to justify our right to that title? Not by the manifestation of military or naval strength. While wars will be, as wars have been, yet the dawn of the twentieth century unveils a greater national glory than can be won on any field of strife.

While the events of the last two or three years have compelled an increase in our military and naval force, while the amount of money which is called for by the secretaries of war and navy seem to many too large and while the roll of the drum and the blare of the bugle are more often heard, YET THE SONS OF THE PILGRIMS WILL NEVER TURN OUR COUNTRY OVER TO THE MAN ON HORSEBACK nor will our dearest laurels be crimsoned with the blood of the dying soldier.

WE SHALL DESERVE TO BE CALLED A WORLD POWER BECAUSE OUR RELATIONS WITH ALL NATIONS WILL BE CARRIED ON UPON THE HIGHEST PRINCIPLES OF TRUTH AND JUSTICE.

Especially must we remember the Golden Rule in our dealings with inferior races and ignorant peoples. We cannot afford to grow rich by wrecking them. A Yankee, with his strong self control, may perhaps wrestle with rum in safety, but woe be to the savage or Filipino who makes a like attempt. His doom is written. It is gratifying to note that legislation is proposed which will stop the sale of narcotics and intoxicants to the peoples of the orient.

Into all the avenues of our official life is entering civil service reform. PROMOTION BY MERIT HAS CEASED TO BE THE JOKE OF THE POLITICIAN AND IS COMING TO BE THE CONTROLLING RULE OF ALL OFFICIAL LIFE not merely in the army and navy (and we have had of late some very positive assurances in respect to them), but in all the departments of official life, national, state and municipal. It is one of the bright assurances of the future that the thought and purpose of the people are turned in this direction, and they will not be thwarted.

Equal Partners

"I HAVE YOUR PROMISE?" SAID HE.

"Equal Partners," by Howard Fielding, will be our next serial. This is a story of mystery. The interest aroused in the first chapter is admirably sustained to the end. A beautiful actress is found in her room in New York dangerously stabbed, with one chance in a million for her life. Who stabbed her? The reader forms opinions to quickly abandon them as the story rapidly unfolds. The identity of the criminal is so skillfully veiled that it is not discovered until the end. Our readers who are good at solving mysteries in stories will find something worthy of their powers in "EQUAL PARTNERS." Don't miss the first chapter.

IT IS POOR COMPENSATION FOR A CAREER OF CRIME.

The Famous Lec[turer], Q. Hope Jones, Cites Some Not[able] Cases In History to Prove His C[onten]tion That Cussedness Doesn't Pay.

[Copyright, [1902], by C. B. Lewis.]

Fellow Citizens [of] Oshkosh—Permit me to say that I [am] proud and grateful for this large at[tend]ance this evening. Although the [ad]mission is free and everybody came [ex]pecting a chromo as a free gift I [am] grateful all the same. Before be[gin]ning my lectures it is usual for me to [tak]e up a collection, and I will now [proc]eed with the task. This collection is [not] necessarily an evidence of your good faith in anything particular, but is intended to pay my back rent and laundry bills and assist me to reach Beaver Dam. It doesn't matter to the undersigned whether you give cheerfully or grudgingly, so long as you give. A liberal spirit on your part will still further encourage me, but if there is one single knockkneed, slab sided son of a father in this audience who conscientiously feels that I ought to be sat down on, then let him hang on to his nickel. The collection is finished and the proceeds counted. The 250 enlightened and cultivated people before me have chipped in about half a cent apiece, and my labors can be continued in other fields.

NERO, THE WHITEWASHER.

My dear people, I want to say a few words to you this evening about the badness of human nature. It is easy to be bad. There is also a good deal of fun in it. It is the bad man who has a fur lined overcoat in winter, a duck suit in summer and champagne and ice cream in the intervals. As I turn the stereopticon light on the canvas you behold the picture of Nero. Up to the age of 24 he was a good man. While other young men were off to the circus or races he was at home helping his mother cut carpet rags or whitewash the cellar. He retired to his couch at 8 o'clock at night instead of whooping things up at the Tivoli. He rose with the lark, and he rose without a head on him, no swearing, no smoking, no drinking—just goodness. One day, after young Nero had been sawing a cord of hickory wood in two, he sat down to rest his back and figure a bit. The result was that he decided to make a change. He had come to the conclusion that goodness didn't pay. That's where he made a mistake weighing a ton, as all the world knows. History has told you his career. He walked right into the house as a first move and kicked over the churn and upset the flour barrel and then demanded a quarter of his astonished mother and went off on a spree. From that day on he was a cuss on wheels. He painted the old town red every night in the week and got up next day to paint her blue. His mother died of a broken heart, and he sold her flatirons and quilt frames to bet on a chariot race. His father was found dead with tears in his eyes, and young Nero sold off the chickens and pigs and the old homestead to back a gladiator. There was no holding him down except when the Roman constables sat on him. He became a sort of holy terror to the whole Roman empire, and when he finally died there was such general satisfaction that the factory whistles tooted and the wages of the hired girls were advanced a dollar a month.

CAPTAIN KIDD.

During his career Nero swam in champagne, reveled in quail on toast and wore the best toga in the empire. He had money in every pocket, admirers on every corner, and high rolled to beat the band. And yet what did it all amount to? He died poor and disgraced, and history hasn't got through abusing him yet. He had traded off an orange grove for a cabbage patch. I say to you all, and I say to that squint eyed, lantern jawed man in the third row in particular, that whoever figures that badness is a good investment is going to get left. It is full of champagne and race horses and going a-fishing; but, alas, it is also full of blighted souls.

Let me herewith present you the picture of Captain Kidd, the pirate. He was a man who had honor and fame and the respect of the world within his reach. He had only to keep on being good to arrive at that point where men would doff their hats to him and women fall over each other to get a view of the back of his neck. Then he suddenly changed. He flung his goodness to the winds and went in to be a screaming old pirate. He was a hummer from Hummersville. He knocked seven bells out of everything he came across and had money to bury on every island he came across. He thought he was having a high old time and that it would last to his eighty-fifth year and that he would then give $10,000 to an orphan asylum and die in his bed. All of you know how he ended. He was still prancing and cavorting and high rolling when the law seized him and he was hung by the neck. He figured it all out before he went his way, and he came to the conclusion that he hadn't been in it. He wrote it down on his shirt collar in red ink that his having had a high old time was all a mistake and that the farmer who had stuck to corn and potatoes was ahead of the pirate business. I see before me a baldheaded, broad backed man, who is evidently itching to become a pirate bold. I call on him to pause ere it is too late.

Let us take a still more historical case. Behold the picture of Judas Iscariot. It is a sketch made of him while he was a young man, and you see that he holds the plow behind an ox. Judas was a tiller of the soil for many years. He was naturally good, and daily contact with nature added to his goodness. He came to be known far and wide as a man who always shoveled the snow off his sidewalk clear up to the line, and if he had a lawsuit about a line fence he didn't drag in the whole country. When he went up to Jerusalem, he was honored and respected of all men, and his daily life was without a blot. No one has tried to explain why Judas suddenly made up his mind to change and give things away. He was rewarded with 24 pieces of silver, but he had no note coming due and was not hard up for cash. But change he did, and he no doubt expected to have high old times and lead the band. His career, as you all know, was brief and rocky. Things didn't turn out as he hoped for. He was shunned of men, dodged of dogs and died without having enjoyed himself for a day. I am now looking at a man in this audience who closely resembles Judas Iscariot and who may be planning to sell out and cut loose. If so, let my words sink deep into his heart when I say that the result of badness is inevitable. It may prosper for a short time, but the bad man is busted and laid low when his pride is greatest. It may not pay above 3 per cent to be good, but with a clear conscience, a good crop of potatoes and a sure interest on your money you can fall asleep on the cellar stairs or the kitchen roof and know that all will be well with you when the cows come home to be milked. What $100,000,000 For the Navy Really Means

I HAVE been interested in the circular signed by many eminent citizens, my beloved friend E. E. Hale at the head, in which they regret the estimate of $100,000,000 for the increase of the navy. Of course, it is rather a taking thing to say as a matter of theory, as this circular says, that $100,000,000 for the navy means a tax of $6 on every family in the United States. And yet, if that sum is spent there is probably not a family in the United States whose future income could be shown to be $6 less, and there are a good many families whose income would be $6 more and still more families whose income would be many times $6 less if it were not spent. It is also rather a taking thing to say that $100,000,000 could be better spent for education or charity. And yet, on the other hand, $100,000,000 spent in the employment of labor is the very best use to which it can be put.

The great question of the day as to wealth is its distribution. While few would say that the community should be taxed for the sole purpose of distributing the proceeds of taxation, yet it is some comfort to know of a tax which, when it is laid on the community, all returns again to it. If $100,000,000 shall be appropriated for the navy by the present congress, a small part will go for the purchase of raw material and something for salaries, but the great bulk of it for labor in every part of the Union.

NOR IS IT TRUE AS SUGGESTED IN THE CIRCULAR THAT A GREAT NAVY NECESSARILY INFLAMES THE FIGHTING SPIRIT AND LEADS TO WAR.

If my recollection serves me right, while Great Britain has had troubles in Egypt and Africa and elsewhere, she has had no conflict on sea for many years, and yet her navy has been twice as large as that of any other power. The recent increase in our navy did not induce the war with Spain, which, as things were, seems to have been inevitable. On the other hand, it is more than likely that if in the beginning of 1898 we had even as large a navy as we have now, certainly as large a one as now proposed, there would have been no war with Spain and that country would have come to terms, as she was very near coming, without battle. AT THAT TIME, HOWEVER, IT WAS THE GENERAL IMPRESSION AMONG FOREIGN POWERS, AND PROBABLY IN SPAIN, THAT HER NAVY WOULD BLOW US OUT OF THE WATER.

We are the richest nation of the world, with a larger income than any other. If, then, the size of our navy should correspond to our national and international size and if we have the cash on hand, it would seem the simplest good business sense to increase the navy. Whether this shall cost $20,000,000 or $75,000,000 or $100,000,000, it is not extravagance to cut our garment according to our cloth.

IT IS LIKE HAVING POLICEMEN ENOUGH INSTEAD OF HAVING A NUMBER SO LIMITED THAT THE ROUGHS ARE TEMPTED TO RIOT.

There certainly is a heap of comfort in feeling that if millions are now spent for the navy the money is in the till to spend. It is a case where the people can have their cake and eat it, too; they can have their ships, and they can have in their pockets the money paid for building them.

A United States naval vessel carrying our flag into the ports and harbors of the world is something more than a fighting machine. It means relations with those ports; it means an awakening and lively respect there for our country; it means recognition of the outreach of our civilization, commerce and influence.

How Gas Eats Up Our Oxygen.

Some interesting calculations have been made to show why extra ventilation is necessary at night when the rooms are lighted. A man may exist for an hour in a fair sized room hermetically sealed if he has no light burning. Place a lighted candle in that room with him, and his existence will be shortened by fifteen minutes. If he had a lamp instead of a candle, he would live only half an hour. If he had two good gas burners, he would scarcely have time to make his will, for he would not live more than five minutes.

What the Government Already Has as a Basis For the National University Proposed by Carnegie. Plan For Penny Postage.

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—President Roosevelt is these days devoting some moments of his spare time, of which, however, he has very little, to sitting for a portrait by M. Constantine Makovsky, the celebrated Russian court artist, who has painted the czar and his father before him and the grand dukes of the imperial family. The sittings for the president's portrait are in the cabinet room of the White House, this place being chosen for the reason that it furnishes a satisfactory background and good light.

M. Makovsky is here as a guest at the Russian embassy and is accompanied by his wife. Both are becoming exceedingly popular at the capital and have received many social courtesies. The artist is also painting a portrait of Countess Cassini, which was begun some months ago in Marienbad, Bohemia, where Embassador Cassini and his daughter spent a portion of the summer.

The president is still obliged to devote not a little of his time to hearing the recital of the virtues of applicants for offices. This he usually does very good naturedly, but occasionally he makes little attempt to conceal the fact that he is bored by this almost ceaseless importunity on the part of friends of the candidates. A late instance is recounted. A western representative much interested in a pending appointment called at the White House the other day to make a final appeal for his candidate, but more especially to protest against the choice of a certain other man. His reception was not altogether cordial. Indeed the president was decidedly brusque. Upon returning from the White House the representative admitted to a colleague that he had been received rather coolly, but added, "I made him listen and shot the cold dough into him with a redhot syringe." The next day the man against whom the protest was lodged received the appointment, and now this western representative's colleagues are certain that the nomination was due to presidential dyspepsia, caused by the remarkable injection aforesaid—"cold dough" administered with a "redhot syringe."

It is intimated that there may soon be a change in the official household of the president, and connected with the intimation there is a bit of romantic gossip. It is said that Secretary Hitchcock would like to give up the portfolio of the interior department and return to his business enterprises in St. Louis and, further, that the president would like to offer the place to ex-Senator Wolcott of Colorado, who, it is asserted, would not be averse to accepting it, though at considerable financial sacrifice. The ex-senator and his wife have lived apart for several years. The latter is a close friend of Mrs. Roosevelt and has lately been a guest at the White House. Mrs. Wolcott was a Miss Metcalf of Buffalo. She was married to Lyman K. Bass, who was in congress for several years. Her marriage to Senator Wolcott was the result of a romance begun in Colorado. It was supposed to be an unusually happy love match, and society, social and official, was shocked when the rupture to their domestic happiness was made known. On Feb. 22, 1899, Senator Wolcott delivered the eulogy on Washington in the senate. Mrs. Wolcott sat in the gallery and at the conclusion of his speech sent him a beautiful bouquet of roses. A few days afterward society was surprised and shocked to learn of their separation.

The friendship between the Wolcotts and the Roosevelts is of many years' standing, and it is known that the president and his wife have been deeply pained over the domestic infelicity of their friends and would be delighted to see them reconciled. Putting two and two together, society now argues that the president, in view of the especially firm friendship of Mrs. Roosevelt for Mrs. Wolcott, would hardly invite ex-Senator Wolcott to become a member of his official family unless a reconciliation had been effected between the former husband and wife. Stranger things than this have happened.

The proposition of Andrew Carnegie to place at the disposal of the government $10,000,000 for the foundation of a national institution for advanced study and research brings into present prominence the educational forces now under government direction which would naturally become a part of the university settlement—the Congressional library, the Smithsonian institution, the Naval observatory and the various scientific bureaus connected with the departments.

Few persons, even in Washington, realize what a wealth of material capable of being used to promote scientific research the government already possesses. On the strictly scientific work of the department of agriculture it lays out yearly about $4,000,000, on that of the interior department more than $1,000,000 and the same on the treasury department, while to the navy department, the war department, the Smithsonian institution, the fish commission, the botanic gardens and the library of congress it devotes enough more to make a total of more than $8,000,000, or a sum representing about 10 cents per capita for the entire population of the United States. Congress has provided that the museums, libraries, containing about 3,000,000 books, pamphlets and maps, and other resources shall be available for higher education and research, but has not provided the machinery for making them practicably useful. It is this machinery which the Carnegie foundation is intended to supply.

In this connection the annual report of Congressional Librarian Putnam, which has just been submitted to congress, may be of interest to the thoughtful. This report, which is the third that has come from the hand of Mr. Putnam, not only deals in a most comprehensive way with administrative details of the library, but places before members of the senate and house an adequate idea of what has been done to make the prodigious amount of printed information which constitutes the library of congress available under topical classification for ready reference as well as exhaustive research.

The report shows that the total expenditures for the library for the past fiscal year were $505,055.07. This amount is increased to $563,257.77 in the appropriation made for the current fiscal year. The revenues of the copyright division amounted to $63,687.50.

The report shows that 76,481 printed books and pamphlets have been added to the library during the past year. On this subject the librarian says the increase in the appropriation over that for the preceding year has enabled progress to be made in the completion of sets and in the acquisition of standard material in each great department of knowledge. But the present sum is below that requisite if the library is to become a collection comprehensive in scope. In view of the larger field of usefulness of the Congressional library in connection with the proposed national university, the suggestions of the librarian should have special weight with congress.

is the "penny postage" bill introduced by Congressman G. W. Smith of Illinois before the holiday recess. It proposes to reduce letter postage to 1 cent an ounce. While the postoffice department officials have made no recommendation on the subject, it is well understood that it is being considered in view of the plans that are being pushed for the reduction of postal expenditures in other directions.

Postal authorities estimate that the department will save from $8,000,000 to $15,000,000 by the consummation of plans for excluding certain publications from the second class mail matter. This reduction, however, according to postoffice officials, will not be felt for some months in an appreciable manner, and the full effects of it will not be realized until the next period of reweighing the mails and the consequent reduction that is expected in the cost of transportation.

Legislation is expected by congress along lines suggested by the postmaster general in his annual report, but the effect of it can hardly be felt in time to be brought to the consideration of this session of congress. One of the features of the proposed legislation in the interest of the postal service is a proposition to secure new legislation, making more rigid terms for the admission of publications to second class mail privileges. It is argued that this is a more certain method of preventing the abuses of the postal privileges than the enforcement of the postmaster general's ruling on the present law respecting second class matter. Certain publishers are already preparing to prevent if possible any legislation hostile to their interests, and their efforts may result in a postponement of departmental indorsement of Congressman Smith's efforts to secure penny postage. However, Mr. Smith will make a vigorous fight for the measure and is assured of support from many sources.

THE ESQUIMO.

The Esquimo eats blubber. The lumbermen eat pork. These people are constantly exposed to cold and physical strain. Experience has taught them that fatty foods give warmth and nourishment.

For those who have cold and thin bodies, or are threatened with consumption or any wasting disease, there is no fat in so digestible and palatable a form as Scott's Emulsion. Physicians prescribe it.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

VENTILATOR FOR WINDOWS.

Device of an Oregonian For the Comfort of Travelers.

A simple ventilator for car windows or other windows, which affords convenient means for adjustment to graduate the opening of the ventilator so as to open it partially or entirely, is described by The Scientific American. The inventor is David E. Werts of Grants Pass, Or.

The sash is held to slide vertically in the window frame, and the improved ventilator is placed in the lower rail of each sash. This lower rail has a horizontal slot leading outwardly and downwardly. On the inner side of the sash rail a recessed guard frame is secured, which frame is slotted to register with the slot of the sash rail. The exterior opening of the slot is covered with a woven wire cloth.

Slidable in the recess of the guard frame is a gate, upon which a plug bears. The plug projects from the free end of a flat spring secured by one end in a cavity in the sash rail and through a perforation in the guard frame. It will be seen that the impinging of the spring pressed plug on the gate will retain the gate at a desired point of open adjustment. The relative position of the plug is such as to adapt it to project its free rounded end through the perforation in the guard frame for a short distance, so as to support the gate when elevated sufficiently to close the sash slot completely.

The improved ventilator is of special value as a means for ventilating passenger cars.

Did you ever think how often you eat and never stick your fork in your eye? You always stick your fork in your mouth. If you ate in the dark, it would be the same thing. You would never put out your eye by putting your fork in it. Why? Because your subconscious mind is doing its automatic duty and knows very well that you eat with your mouth and not with your eye.

Many other actions are automatic. For instance, 20 people have gathered on a street corner to board a passing car. The very fact that they are there means that the car will stop. The first man has already signaled the motorman. So do the other 19. And the same thing happens if ten people gather to descend in an elevator. The first comer rings the bell. So do the other nine—merely automatically. The sign says "Ring," so each man takes this sign to himself and rings.

A shoemaker once had a shop in the basement of a large building down town. The shoemaker worked with his back to the door. Every time the door opened the shoemaker turned his head to the left to see who entered. For ten years the shoemaker worked and turned his head almost every hour in the day. Before many years had passed the shoemaker's head turned automatically, and now that man has spent all the money he has ever made trying to be cured of this automatic habit. But his head still jerks, so that he looks over his left shoulder constantly.—New York Herald.

Played His Client False.

"I shall have to make a lawyer out of that boy of mine. I don't see any other way out of it," declared the well known attorney, with a laugh. "He came into my office the other day on his way home from school and laid a nickel down on the desk before me.

"'What is this for, son?' I asked.

"'Retainer,' he answered soberly.

"'Very well,' said I, entering into the joke. 'What have I been retained upon?'

"My boy dug down into his pocket and produced a note from his teacher and placed it before me without comment. It was to the effect that he had been 'cutting up' and advised a whipping.

"'Now, what would you advise?' asked he in a businesslike voice after I had read the note and saw the trap that young rascal led me into.

"'I think that out first move should be to apply for a change of venue,' said I.

"'Very well,' he answered. 'You're handling the case.'

"'Then we will turn the note over to your mother,' said I.

"I saw the young imp's face fall at this, but he braced up and said:

"'See here, pop, you're bound to see me through on this, 'cause you've accepted my retainer, you know!'

"'I'll argue your case before the court,' I answered, 'but you will have to accept the decision. I would not dare to attempt to influence the court.'

"Well, I pleaded the boy's case, promptly had it thrown out of court, and the boy got what he deserved—a good whipping.

"It was the first time I ever played false to a client."—Detroit Free Press.

Day by day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from East Liverpool people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Why they accomplish so much is easily explained. They are prepared with an eye single to restoring nerve force. They accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world has ever been able to do. That's why hundreds of East Liverpool people offer their testimony.

Mr. Cyrus Hauselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done for me more to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five or six years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills, and got them at Larkin's drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets., and they took hold finely—something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong, and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.
